Last Monday, September 15, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Ray, honored pioneers of this state, celebrated the 50th anniversary of their wedding day, having spoken their nuptial vows September 15, 1852, at Salem. Mr. Ray crossed the plains to Oregon in the year 1850, and at once established the first stage line in the Territory of Oregon, bringing out the first Concord coaches ever brought to the Northwest. He continued in that business until the California Stage Company assumed the entire route from San Francisco to Portland, since which time he has been engaged in stockraising and farming, now owning a large and productive farm at the point known as Ray's Landing, in Marion County, where he now resides.

Mrs. Ray was Miss Amelia Eyre, and crossed the plains to Oregon with her parents in the great immigration of 1843, her father being Miles Eyre, who was drowned while crossing Snake River. Mr. and Mrs. Ray are the happy parents of 12 children, the youngest of whom is 23 years of age, nearly all of them being present at the reunion. The names of their children are: Mrs. J. A. Holmes, of Portland; Mrs. J. J. Coyle, of St. Paul, Or.; Mrs. R. W. Mauney, of Seattle; Mrs. S. V. Short, of Portland; Mrs. E. J. Wilkinson, of Portland; W. M. Ray, of St. Paul, Or.; W. W.
