DAMAGE TO BRIDGES .- County Commis sloners Steele and Showers, who have en traveling over the eastern part of Multnomah County nearly all the past week, looking after damaged roads, burned bridges, etc., report the situation not nearly so bad as they had feared. There has been considerable plank road injured or destroyed, but only four bridges of any consequence have been burned. Two of these are in the Foster road, not far from where the Jenne road comes into it, one on each side, Lumber for rebuilding them has been ordered and The in which they generally favored their sonre at in-law and not their own daughter. "I rill not love my wife. I am willing that she tended should forgive me for anything that hapthe work will be begun at once. other two bridges mentioned are at Brower, back of Latourelle. They will not be rebuilt, but the road will be extended around them. The Commissioners, Auring their trip, visited the site of Palmers Mill, near Bridal Vell, and say there is nothing left on the ground except mill from and stones. The burning was clean and complete. The mill is to be rebuilt some distance back in the woods at Donahue Camp.

OLYMPIA MAN ARRESTED. - William Marsh, of Olympia, was arrested at Seventeenth and Jefferson streets, last night, by Special Officer Hawley, of the Boys' and Girls' Ald Society, accused of a seri-ous offense on the complaint of a girl he had promised to adopt, Mary Brown, 10 years old. Marsh got the girl from the Boys' and Giris' Aid Society, about a month ago, and promised to bring her up as his adopted daughter. In talking with an Oregonian man last night, Marsh denied the charge against him, and stated that he had nothing further to say, except to state that he lives in North To REBUILD Two BRIDGES,-The County Commissioners will order the two bridges on the Foster road, which were destroyed by fire, rebuilt at once. It is throught there may be some trouble getting bridge carpenters, as there is considerable bridge work going on. Laborers can place and nail the timbers easy enough, but bridge carpenters are required to do the cutting and fitting. The bridges at Bridal Veil will not be replaced just now. The sawmill people say they will move farther up the canyon. In that case the location of the county road can be changed so that two bridges can be done away with.

"HE WHO STRAIS MY PURSE steals trash, but he who could steal my good name would make me poor indeed.' The very fact that some of the largest local wholesale candy houses are making strenuous but futile efforts to imitate The Carroll Chocolate Chip is my best advertisement. In the future, to protect my-self and customers from imitations, the "Carroll" will be stamped on every chip, Out-of-town stores wishing to handle the Carroll chocolate chips write direct to me for terms and samples: Carroll, 322 Washington street.

GGLD WATCH FOUND AT CARNIVAL -A well-known citizen states that as he was standing on Seventh street, near Washington Friday, one of the men engaged in removing the sawdust from the street which was placed there during the Elks' Carnival picked up an open-faced gold watch, which had been buried in the dirt. There was a fob and locket attached to the watch. Inside of the locket was the pleture of a little girl. Some Carniva! risitor doubtless lost the property. FOR DALLES,

BICYCLE GOES ON A TEAR.-A collector left his bicycle leaning up against the wheel of a farm-wagon yesterday after-noon while he went into a Morrison-street store on business. The owner of the wagon came out immediately afterward and did not notice the bicycle. As he started up his team the collector's wheel jumped a little, ran the handlebars into the spokes of the wagon wheel and started to revolve. The cyclist emerged just in time to see his wheel's predicament and vented a yell, which led to complications,

The horses plunged, the driver twisted his head angrily around, and the wheel clattered to the ground where it narrowly escaped total destruction. When the at-mosphere cleared the only man with a smile on his face was the man who had been dunned by the collector.
