BAY WINDOW ENCROACHES

Protest Against Allowing It to Project Far Over Sidewalk.

PORTLAND, Sept. 27.—(To the Editor.)—I observed in Friday's Oregonian an article in reference to a so-called bay window extending over the sidewalk at the northeast corner of Thirteenth and Salmon streets. This is really an extension of the full upper story and is 25 feet in length. It projects three feet, and this, with the eaves, makes a projection of 4 1/2 feet beyond the line of the street.
