AMUSEMENTS.
BAKER THEATER—Matinee at 2:15, evening at 8:15, Nellie Stock Company in "Held by the Enemy."
CORDRAY'S THEATER—Matinee at 2:15, evening at 8:15, "Plinkin's Ball."

CLAIMS DAMAGE FROM CITY.—Ex-Circuit Judge W. C. Hale of Grant Pass, has filed with the City Auditor a claim for $100 damages for injuries alleged to have been sustained by a fall into an excavation which was not guarded by danger lights. Judge Hale says that when he was about to leave the city on the night of October 1 he decided to walk to the Union Depot. At the Standard tables near the depot, he fell into the excavation, and was so severely injured that he was compelled to remain in Portland and was unable to conduct the trial of an important damage suit which was to have taken place in Grant Pass on October 2. He states that he has placed his claim at a nominal sum for the purpose of avoiding litigation, but if it would not be considered binding.

MASONIC COMMITTEE RETURNS.—The building committee of the Scottish Rite Cathedral, consisting of P. S. Macdonald, 2nd degree; L. J. Clarke, 3d degree, and H. L. Pitcock, 33d degree, arrived home October 28 from Little Rock, Ark., where it attended a semi-annual reunion at the cathedral here. The visitors were royally entertained during the three days they were in Little Rock, and got many good points for use in connection with the cathedral here. They also visited the cathedrals at St. Louis and Cheyenne. The one being built in this city is the largest in the United States, and when finished will doubtless excel all others in its appointments.

A TRIP ON THE BAILEY GAZETTE.—To the November number of Outdoor Life, of Denver, Agnes Hall Shores has contributed a delightful article describing a June day spent up the Columbia on the Bailey Gazette. The cooling breezes and the magnificent scenery enjoyed by the writer are vividly still fresh in her mind, while her elegantly appointed steamer nor the Hood River strawberries served on board are forgotten. The author has apparently suffered from the extreme heat of an Eastern summer, and the numberless waterfalls splashing into the broad river have evidently filled her with envious longings for a cool retreat along the shady banks of the Columbia.

PROTEST AGAINST STREET RAILWAY.—A remonstrance against a street railway in Gantenben avenue north of Morris street was filed with the City Auditor yesterday by H. A. Pittcock and three other property-owners. It is asserted that the street, excluding sidewalks, is only 23 feet wide, and that a railway would interfere with wagon traffic. The railway against which the protest is filed is the branch line which the Portland Railway Company proposes to build if it should be granted the franchise which it has applied for.

OFFICERS OF UNITED STATES NATIONAL BANK.—At a meeting of the board of directors of the United States National Bank, W. B. Ayer, George Moore, and L. W. Hillman were elected directors in place of Tyler Woodward, Jacob Kamm and Charles Hegle. J. C. Ainsworth was elected president in the place of Tyler Woodward, resigned, and W. B. Ayer vice-president in place of Jacob Kamm, resigned. The bank will open for business next Monday in the rooms now occupied by the Ainsworth National Bank, corner Oak and Third streets.

PRINCIPAL S. E. DOWNS, of the city schools, will deliver an address on "World Building" at Manly's Hall, on Monday evening. Next week he will give an exposition of the nebular theory and follow the process of world construction from the beginning as seen in existent nebulae, through the various stages to the dead world as seen in the moon. This is a subject that should be of interest for every one, and especially so for the young people. Admission, adults 25c, children 15c.

COLUMBIA YARN, COLUMBIA FLOSS, COLUMBIA SHEETLAND WOOL, COLUMBIA 4 and 8-FOLD GERMAN TOWNS, COLUMBIA 2 and 4-FOLD SAXONY, COLUMBIA 2, 4 and 8-FOLD ZEPHYR, COLUMBIA SPANISH.

FOR SALE BY J. E. BIRCHAM, SEVENTH AND WASHINGTON STREETS. NO SUCH FUND.—It would appear from a statement in a local news item in The Oregonian yesterday that a fund is being raised by business men to pay the expense of providing the school for the minister J. W. Fuller. This is an error. All expenses that have arisen out of the deplorable affair have been paid and will be paid by Mrs. Fuller.

COOKING LESSON ON MUSHROOMS.—The subject of the demonstration lecture at the Cooking School on Tuesday afternoon will be "Mushrooms." Besides the preparation of various mushroom dishes, there will be a talk on mushrooms by Dr. Harry Lane, who made a scientific study of the subject in the mushroom club last year.

A REWARD OF $100 will be paid for information leading to the discovery of Mr. J. W. Fuller's whereabouts and return to his family. Information may be sent to A. E. Steinhilber, southwest corner Fourth and Morrison streets.

ACCUSED OF STEALING A BICYCLE.—John Martien was arrested last night at First and Alder streets by Detectives Ford and Cordano, charged with the larceny of a bicycle, on the complaint of Oscar Dennis.

AT THE DOMESTIC SCIENCE SCHOOL next Tuesday at 2 P. M., Dr. Harry Lane will talk about mushrooms, and Miss Voorhees will demonstrate their delicious possibilities. Admission 25c.

FRANC OHLAY WOOD, the well-known mining expert of Colorado, being in the Northwest for a short time, will examine and report on properties. Rural delivery, Vancouver, Wash.

SHORT STORY OF A BROKEN LEG.—An elderly man slipped and fell about 10 o'clock last night at First and Main streets, and he groined with pain. "My right leg is broken," he howled, and a sympathetic woman at an expenditure of 5 cents telephoned to the police station as follows: "That the police station? Guess who is talking. You can't? Well, there's a poor man at First and Main streets, and one of his legs is broken. Send the patrol wagon and take him to a hospital, poor fellow." The crew of the patrol wagon lost no time in getting to the scene, and the policeman in charge was puzzled when he saw no gaping crowd, only two young men holding up the corner. "Where's the man with the broken leg?" demanded the bluecoat. "That old sport? Why, as soon as he heard that the woman had sent for the police he ran away." The crew of the patrol wagon was nothing for them to do but go back to the police station.

A FEW HALLOWEEN'S TRICKS.—One by one reports of the depredations committed on Halloween night, under the name of "fun" are reaching the ears of the police. C. Voorhees, a carpenter who is working at a new house at East Twelfth and Alder streets, reports that someone removed tools valued at $50 from the house. The police call this larceny. Vandals entered the pretty new station on the City & Suburban road at Kenilworth, Wash. recently subscribed for by private citizens, and almost demolished the interior. A Montavilla man reports that he moved everything in front of his house last Friday night that he could get out, but in his excitement he forgot the door mat. Next morning his people had trouble in starting the family stove to prepare breakfast, and on investigation the missing mat was found stuffed down the chimney.

GREAT HUNTING IN EASTERN OREGON.—George T. Myers, Jr., and Charles Burkhardt, who went to Eastern Oregon Wednesday night to shoot wild geese, arrived Friday morning. Their expedition did not prove a "wild-geese chase," as they brought with them 129 brant, the result of Thursday's shooting in the grain fields near Arlington. They say they saw millions of wild geese or brant, which are feeding in the stubble or scattered grain. They had pits dug about four feet deep to sit in and decoys put out to attract the brant. Mr. Myers had to come home, so as to go down duck shooting today. If they had stayed long enough in Eastern Oregon they think they could have shot a trainload of brant.

DEATH OF MRS. W. C. WITZEL.—The many friends of Mrs. W. C. Witzel will be grieved to learn of her sudden and untimely death at Phoenix, Ariz., October 23. Together with her sister and little daughter, Helen, she left Portland a short time before, hoping the change to a warm climate would benefit her, but she passed away shortly after her arrival at Phoenix. Her remains were sent to her old home, Oakish, Wis., for burial.

HONOR FOR A PORTLAND GIRL.—The many friends of Miss E. Pearl Luckey, whose home is at the Sterling, 335 Couch street, this city, are pleased to know that she has been selected by the juniors of the University of Oregon to represent the class in the local oratorical contest to be held at Eugene on the second Friday in February. Miss Luckey is a young woman of marked ability along educational lines, and is a social favorite.

REFUSED TO MOVE ON.—C. Bingham, a 14-year-old messenger boy, who had lost his position, persisted yesterday in hanging around the southeast corner of Third and Washington streets, and refused to move on when told to do so by Special Agent N. B. Bingham, who talked to the police station, where he left his bicycle as security for his appearance tomorrow at the Municipal Court.

E. E. LARIMORE, of the Acolian Company, leaves tonight for Seattle where he goes as the representative of Mr. M. B. Wells, sole agent for Washington, Oregon and Idaho for the Acolian Company, of New York. Mr. Larimore's family will remain in Portland for the present. Ruost! Ruost! Ruost!
