RAILROAD SCHEME WILL WIN

Governor Says the State Convention Declared for It, and the Men Elected to Legislature Should Respect the Pledge.

SEATTLE, Nov. 1.—(Special.)—Governor McBride opened his campaign "In the enemy's country" last night at a public meeting in Ballard, a city of some 200 people, adjoining Seattle, and closely connected with this city by business and other ties. The Governor came to King County to spend two days in an effort to turn the tide of public and political sentiment in this, the largest county in the state, in favor of his railroad commission scheme. Arrangements had been made at his request and that of Harold Preston, the King County Senatorial aspirant, for two meetings to be held in this county, at which the Governor would be the central and conspicuous figure and the railroad issue fully presented from the Governor's point of view. The second meeting was held tonight in this city.

Governor Makes Few Converts.
The meeting at Ballard last night was a success from the broad standpoint of Republicanism, but it is to be confessed that the Governor failed to make any considerable number of converts to his railroad commission doctrine. The reason for this is plain, inasmuch as Ballard is chiefly a shingle and lumber-manufacturing town, whose industries are dependent to a large degree on the railroads. Sympathy for the Governor spoke, was filled when Chairman Raven called the meeting to order, there being at least 400 voters within the building. At the conclusion of the speech, the Governor was tendered a banquet at which Mayor Reed, of Ballard, presided.

Governor McBride, in a large measure, reiterated his speech made several days ago at Walla Walla. The important fact regarding his visit to this county lies in the fact that King County, the largest in Washington, comprising more than one-fifth of the population and wealth of the state, is anti-commission. The Governor came with the announced purpose of working up sentiment against the railroads and of incidentally improving the prestige and influence of Harold Preston, the local candidate for Senator.

Newspapers Sash Meeting.

The singular fact regarding the meeting at Ballard, with its banquet and informal reception to the Governor, was that there was not present a single representative of any of the Seattle daily papers. A Ballard newspaper man who, perhaps, handles some newspaper correspondence in the shingle-making town, was the only press representative present. Rev. A. N. Raven called the meeting to order and delivered a 10-minute speech prior to introducing Governor McBride. The latter received a cordial reception at the hands of the audience. Almost immediately he plunged into his subject, "Trusts and the Railroads." He said in part:

"Previous speakers in Ballard have confined themselves largely to local issues. I would like to talk to you regarding two matters, the Government control of the trusts and the Government regulation of the railroad lines.
"A trust is a grouping of corporations composed of smaller corporations organized for the purpose of preventing competition and regulating the price which the people must pay for the products the trust has to sell. I am not saying that all corporations are trusts. Combinations of capital are necessary to carry out great enterprises, but they become dangerous and inimical to the welfare of the people when they kill competition and when they are enabled, as they frequently are, to regulate the prices of commodities in which they deal."

Replies to Ankeny.

The Governor after a few minutes dismissed the trusts and took up the railroad issue. He spoke with considerable heat several times during his argument in favor of the creation of an appointive commission. Manifestly, he felt that here in King County his programme has the least approval among the masses of the Republican voters in any county of the state. The Governor began by reading an interview with Levi Ankeny in an Eastern Washington newspaper in which he boldly declared his opposition to the proposed commission measure. The Governor said, replying to Mr. Ankeny: "The Railroad Commission which it is proposed to create in Washington will, if we are successful, be a very different affair from the Oregon commission, which Mr. Ankeny says has been a failure. The Oregon commission was without authority except to report, and advise the Legislature. I have, in answer to the opponents of the Railroad Commission, letters from the Governors of more than a score of states where an appointive commission has worked well." The Governor then read extracts from letters received from a number of Governors of other states, including Georgia, Texas, Iowa, Maine and Connecticut.

Following this, Governor McBride launched into a denunciation of the so-called railroad lobby. He said that the attorneys for the railroad corporations had boasted that the Senate would never pass the McBride Railroad Commission measure, and that many Republicans to be elected next Tuesday would, when members of the Legislature, oppose the Railroad Commission bill.

Party Traitors Denounced.

"Any man who will violate the instructions and the plainly expressed principles of his party is a traitor," said the Governor with considerable heat. "The man who will defy the sentiment of his party expressed in its platform, and who will act in opposition thereto, is beneath the contempt of all honorable men!"

BIG TRUST DEED FILED.

California Electric Company Bonded by Eastern Capital.

SAN BERNARDINO, Cal., Nov. 1.—The largest trust deed ever filed with the County Recorder was placed on record when the Edison Electric Company, of Evanston, Wyo., and Los Angeles, Cal., filed a deed of trust to all its franchisees, pole lines, powerhouses, electric and tower systems, which are located in many Southern California counties. Among the items included in the power line between Santa Ana Canyon and the City of Los Angeles, a distance of nearly sixty miles, The Edison Company deeds its property in trust to the Los Angeles Trust Company and the United States Mortgage & Trust Company of New York. In order to secure $10,000,000 necessary for the conduct of its business, it proposes to issue $10,000,000 bonds to cover the amount.

MEETING OF OREGON SCOTCH.

Reunion at Antelope Proves a Big Success.

ANTELOPE, Nov. 1.—(Special.)—Antelope was this week the scene of one of the most notable gatherings of Scotchmen ever held in the State of Oregon. The occasion was the annual reunion of the sons of Auld Scotia under the auspices of the Fossil Caledonian Club. Two days and nights were given up to the festivities, and Scotchmen were in attendance from half a dozen counties. Portland sent a large delegation under the chaperonage of Hon. George J. Cameron, while many came from points as far distant as Canyon City, traveling 125 miles by stage and other conveyances.

McBride's hostelry was headquarters, but the town was filled to overflowing with visitors, both the hotels being crowded and many being quartered at the homes of private citizens. Editor

EARLY OREGON PIONEER

Aaron Sommer, of La Grande. He was the youngest son of his father, who died 10 years ago.

James Stewart, of the Fossil Journal, who, while not an officer of the club, is one of its most enthusiastic spirits, and did perhaps more to make the event a success than any one else, brought up a large Fossil delegation. While crossing the John Day River, Mr. Stewart got seasick and was unable to ride the rest of the distance to Antelope, but as he was bent upon being on deck on time, he thought nothing of walking the 12 miles before him. Congressman Malcolm A. Moody and a party of friends represented the Dalles. Other towns represented were Arlington, Wasco, Condon, Shanks, Salem and Kent, while the Ashwood mining district also had representatives. The election of officers resulted as follows: W. R. Fossil, chief; Finlay McNeil, Antelope, first chief; John Dyrland, Condon, second chief; J. B. McFarland, Fossil, secretary; John Stewart, Condon, treasurer; Andrew Patterson, Fossil, standard-bearer; James McIntosh and John McLennan, pipers.

NEW CANNERY COMBINE

TO RIVAL BRITISH COLUMBIA PACKERS' ASSOCIATION.

Formed at Vancouver by Companies Outside of First Organization—$1,000,000 of British Capital.

SEATTLE, Nov. 1.—A special to the Times from Vancouver, B. C., says: All salmon canneries outside of the combine recently formed and known as the British Columbia Packers' Association are being formed into a separate rival combine with the exception of two or three English-owned canneries, managed by H. Bell Irving.

D. G. Munn has secured options on these outside canneries, some 27 in all, and is now in England negotiating the deal. It is understood that the canneries that declined to go into the British Columbia packers' combine will be getting better terms from the English promoters than those who entered the association. The promoters of this company, with the exception of those canners who hung out for all cash, were paid one-third cash and two-thirds in stock.

The capitalization of the combine was $1,000,000; $1,500,000 was issued in preferred stock bearing guaranteed interest

LA GRANDE, Nov. 1.—(Special.)

Aaron Sommer, a pioneer business man of La Grande, died at his residence in this city of heart failure on October 30, 1902. He was born at Schriefford, Alsace, and was in his 67th year. He came to America in 1854, and to Oregon shortly afterwards. He was married in Portland in 1857 to Miss Wertheimer. The first business in which he engaged in Eastern Oregon was running a pack train from Umatilla to La Grande. Afterward for many years he was successfully engaged in the mercantile business. In 1890 he built the Sommer House, a first-class hotel in this city. He also erected other business houses and dwellings, and was an active promoter of the upbuilding of the city. He was a member of the Masonic lodge, and will be buried by the order in Portland by the side of his youngest daughter, who died 10 years ago.

He is survived by his wife and four daughters—Mrs. Lena Blum, of La Grande; Mrs. Albert Morris, of Denver, and Miss Fannie Sommer, who is visiting her sister, Mrs. Levy, of Union.

at 7 per cent, and the balance in common stock.

The preferred stock was underwritten by the English promoters, the canners were paid their one-third cash, taking common stock for the balance. The cash in too many instances went to pay the interest on the bonds from year to year, and the common stock, it is understood, owing to the short pack, and owing to participating in the profits after the $1,500,000 preferred stock, yielded no dividends. The common stock may be remunerative in other years, and no doubt will.

It is understood that the English promoters propose to buy out for cash the canneries now outside the combine, and although the price to be paid is low in comparison to the amount of cash and stock received by the canners of the first combine, it enables the vendors to realize at once and use the surplus cash after paying liabilities for other ventures.

Most of the canneries which it is proposed to take into the new combine are in northern waters. These canneries are more profitable than those on the Fraser. On the Fraser River local troubles and the exactions of fishermen's unions render the industry more or less precarious. The north Indians have not been sufficiently educated or contaminated by the white men to understand the union principle, and are content to supply fish at 7 cents the year around, while the Fraser River fishermen compel the canneries to pay 15 to 20 cents.

THE NEW PIANO CLUBS

New Method of Piano Buying on the Co-operative Plan.

Large Savings in Price Effectuated—Exhibition and Delivery of Pianos to Commence Monday—Decker, Doll, Knabe, Kimball, Steinway, Weber, and Also Chickering Pianos Included—Prices, Payments, and Full Particulars.

To supply worthy and strictly reliable pianos at the lowest possible price must always be the aim of every high-class piano-house, for upon this alone depends its permanent success. The numerous exclusive facilities possessed by Eilers Piano House in the economical and prompt shipping, handling and selling of the pianos are too well known to need further mention here. And tomorrow we take advantage of still another cost-reducing factor.

The idea originated in Philadelphia recently, and it makes possible a very substantial saving in the retail price of pianos. Thousands of instruments have been sold on this new plan, and it has been estimated that the aggregate saving effected thereby in Philadelphia alone amounts to nearly a hundred thousand dollars.

The same idea was recently inaugurated in our San Francisco store, with little less than phenomenal success. Hundreds of homes there have by this time been supplied with fine pianos under this plan, and now we shall also take advantage of this innovation here.

E. P. H. Piano Clubs—"A," "B," "C," "D."

In effect these piano clubs are simply the application of the wholesale principle to the retail department. You know we do not deliver a piano until we have sold for less than we can sell a single instrument. By joining one of our four clubs (which are limited to only 100 members each) you are placed in exactly the same position and enjoy the same advantages possessed by the largest retail dealers. Join whichever club best suits your convenience. Make your initial payment, and receive your piano at once. That is all there is to it—no extras, no red tape, no dues, no waiting.

America's Finest Pianos Included.

Do not imagine because the payments are so very small and because the prices are so astonishingly low that these instruments are not of the highest order. Every piano included in this plan is a brand new, and every instrument is fully and unconditionally warranted both as to quality and as to price. The pianos included in these Eilers Piano House clubs are:

These Are the Payments.

Members joining Club "A" will obtain a fine, new piano upon payment of $5 down and $1.00 per month for 12 months. This club is limited to only 100 members.

Members of Club "B" pay $7.50 upon delivery of piano, and then at the rate of $1.50 per week.

Members pay $12 down and the balance in payments of $2 weekly.

Members of Club "D" will be asked to pay $20 down and payments of $2.50 a week.

Note—Payments may be arranged on a corresponding monthly basis if desired. Members making larger payments than above will effect an additional saving in interest.

Here Are the Prices.

All regular $225 styles will be turned over to club members now for $137; the $275 pianos at $164; all $350 pianos at $187; the $400 styles at $204; the $450 styles at $221; the $500 styles at $238; the $550 styles at $255; the $600 styles at $272; the $650 styles at $289; the $700 styles at $306; the $750 styles at $323; the $800 styles at $340; the $850 styles at $357; the $900 styles at $374; the $950 styles at $391; the $1000 styles at $408.

John Moody—Do Not Delay.

It will pay you to join first thing Monday. The sooner you call and make your selection the surer you are of being perfect. The delay is an uncertainty. Bear in mind that an unconditional five years' manufacturer's guarantee accompanies every instrument sold, which guarantee is counterbalanced by ourselves, thus making all purchasers doubly sure.

All instruments kept in tune for club members free of charge for one year from date of delivery.

Old pianos and organs will be accepted from club members at fair values toward payment of any new piano desired.

Eilers Piano House, Oregon's largest piano store, piano dealers, 321 Washington. Other stores at San Francisco, Sacramento and Spokane.

Applications or make any promises for candidates or appointments until all applications have been received, when a meeting will be held and by vote it will be determined which the delegation will support for such positions as clerkships in the Legislature.

TALKS FOR UNIONISM.

President of State Federation of Labor at the Dalles.

THE DALLES, Or., Nov. 1.—(Special.)—G. Y. Harry, president of the State Federation of Labor, addressed a large and enthusiastic audience here last evening upon the advantages of unionism to the American workmen. The speaker was introduced by F. W. Wilson, of this city, who paid a glowing tribute to John Mitchell, expressing the hope that some time he might have the opportunity of casting a ballot for him. Mr. Harry expressed his satisfaction at the growth of the local labor organization in The Dalles, and its enthusiastic work.

PIONEER OF 1852.

James H. Fisher, of The Dalles, Dies of Heart Disease.

THE DALLES, Or., Nov. 1.—(Special.)—James H. Fisher, a well-known resident of this city, died suddenly this morning of heart failure, at the age of 42 years. Mr. Fisher was a native of Virginia, and crossed the plains in 1852, settling at French Prairie, where he resided for some years, eventually moving to Salem, where SALEM HOP SUIT.

Case Likely to Involve Recent Decision by Judge Burnett.

SALEM, Nov. 1.—(Special.)—Late last night George A. La Vie, a hop buyer, began a suit against J. M. Kaser, the Southern Pacific Company, and Coolidge & McClaine, to recover possession of 40 bales of hops. This afternoon another suit was brought suit by La Vie against Walter L. Toose to recover the same lot of hops, which is alleged Toose has possession. The hops are alleged to be worth $1666 12. It is understood that La Vie claims title through a contract with Kaser, who is grower, and that the controversy arises over an attempt on the part of Kaser to avoid the contract and sell to other parties. From the fact that two suits have been brought for the same lot of hops, it would seem that later developments proved that the hops were not found in the possession of the parties made defendants in the first suit.

This case will probably raise again the question regarding the legal status of a hop contract, though the circumstances in this case vary from those in the case recently decided by Judge Burnett.

FIRE BUGS STILL ACTIVE.

Fort Stevens Officers at a Loss for Reason of Incendiarism.

ASTORIA, Nov. 1.—(Special.)—The incendiary attempts to destroy the buildings at the Fort Stevens barracks still continue, although a double guard is maintained and every precaution taken to prevent a repetition of the fires. Last Thursday a large bundle of cotton waste thoroughly saturated with coal oil was found secreted in the old canteen building that is now used as a tailor shop. As no one was admitted to the canteen there it was undoubtedly done with the intention of setting fire to the structure at the first favorable opportunity. The mystery surrounding the repeated incendiary attempts is as great as ever, and while the officers are untiring in their efforts to solve the matter they are absolutely without a tangible clue.

The records of the local office of the Weather Bureau for the month of October show that it was an unusually pleasant one. The mean temperature was 55, while the average for the month was 54.3. The highest temperature was 73 on the 24; the lowest 42, on the 19th. The total rainfall was 3.39 inches, the average being 5.97 inches. The prevailing direction of the wind was southwest, 29 per cent.

Clouds, 42; foggy, 2; partly cloudy, 3; cloudy, 12; foggy, 2.

Lieutenant Tobin, acting constructing Quartermaster, United States Army, has been ordered to Washington, that the Secretary of War has made an allotment of funds for improving the wharf at Fort Columbia, and bids for the work will be asked for in a few days. The improvement will consist of the removing of the outer 40 feet of the present wharf and rebuilding the balance of the structure. The report that this wharf is to be shortened will be good news to the fishermen, as it will always be a menace to their lives and property while making drifts.

A strong effort is being made by the citizens of Gray's River to have a daily mail in and out of that place, a petition to that end having been circulated and signed by nearly every resident of that district. At the present time that place has but three days a week in which mail or passenger can get in or out, and the business warrants a better service.

The Fall fishing season closed today as far as the cold storage industry is concerned. The plants of S. Schmidt & Co., and J. Lindenberg, the only ones having been in operation, no longer receiving fish. The canneries at Eagle Cliff and Brookfield, however, are still running. With the close of the cold-storage plants as buyers it is expected that the price of silverfish and tules will drop to 1 cent per pound.

Judge McBride adjourned the session of the Circuit Court this evening until December 22. He goes to Oregon City to convene a regular term on Monday morning.

OVERLOOKED.

There Are Patent Medicines and Remedies Without Number.

For Every Disease and Affliction but One.

A prominent physician was recently asked why it was that there are so many "blood purifiers," "nervine tonics," and "remedies for every ailment," and he replied, there are two principal reasons. First, physicians and people in general, have thought that the only permanent cure for piles was a surgical operation, that medicinal preparations were simply palliative. Another reason is that piles is in no sense of the word an imaginary disease; the sufferer from piles is very much aware of the fact, and for this reason the few so-called pile salves, ointments, etc., have been short-lived. The patient very soon discovered their inefficiency.

He says, further, fortunately, however, there is a new remedy for piles, which, judging from its rapidly growing popularity, will soon take the place of all other treatment; it has certainly made astonishing cures in this obstinate disease, and its merit has made it famous among physicians and wherever it has been introduced. This remedy is sold by all druggists under the name of Pyramid Pile Cure.

From the immediate relief which the Pyramid Pile Cure gives in all forms of piles, many physicians supposed it contained opium, cocaine or some similar substance, but, upon analysis, it was found to be perfectly free from anything of the kind, and that the instant relief contained in it is due to its being a surgical cure which follows its use is rather the result of its remarkable healing, soothing action on the parts affected.

The Pyramid Pile Cure is the only remedy, except a surgical operation, which immediately relieves and permanently cures every form of piles.

It is sold by druggists at 50 cents and $1.00 per box, and by mail order at $1.00 per box, by Pyramid Drug Company, Marshall, Mich.

As to Wet Feet

Probably there is no caution given by a doctor to his patients which is so important or so constantly repeated as the command to a girl not to get her feet wet.

A long train of ills follows upon wet feet, and the health of many a woman has been undermined by neglect of this.

With women wet feet are not the result of storms—for then rubbers are worn. They are
