The Daughters of the American Revolution were entertained on Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. A. E. Rooker. The programme for the afternoon was arranged by Mrs. Warren E. Thomas, and included several solos by Mrs. Theron E. Fell, a recitation by Mrs. Howard Pettenger and a piano solo by Mrs. William Knight. Mrs. Fell sang with a great deal of expression and has a clear and sweet soprano voice. Her songs were "The Nightingale's Song," "Bon Jour, Suzan," (Peyser), Mrs. Knight played "La Bamba Venezolana" (Liz), a composition difficult of execution, in an expressive and dainty manner, and Mrs. Pettenger's recitation, "The Prophecy of Columbus," by Francis Croft, was charming in its naturalness and simplicity. There were a number of guests besides the Daughters of the Revolution, and the afternoon was as delightful as Mrs. Rooker always makes any entertainment given in her beautiful home. Late in the afternoon tea and sandwiches and a delicious fruit salad were served. Mrs. Goodell and Mrs. Richard R. Hope assisted the hostess.

Announcements were received during the week of the marriage at Denver, Colo., of Lieutenant William Henry Jordan, Jr., U. S. A., to Miss Mary Boall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton Marbury Beall. The wedding was on Friday, at St. Mark's Church, the pastor, Rev. Mr. Houghton, officiating at the ceremony. Mrs. W. M. Kapsus entertained about 40 guests at a card party on Saturday afternoon. Owing to the present inclemency of the car service to Westmore Heights the entertainment was at the home of Mrs. William Kapsus, on Twenty-third street. The house decorations of Oregon grape, palms and other potted plants were arranged in excellent taste, and with the gas lights and prettily shaded lamps, produced a most pleasing effect. Progressive hearts was the theme, and the honors were awarded to Mrs. W. H. Raymond, Mrs. Norris R. Cox and Miss Lucy Sliton. During the afternoon and especially during the service of refreshments music by the Spanish Students was greatly enjoyed. Mrs. Kapsus was assisted in entertaining her guests by Mrs. H. P. Vayns and Miss Kapsus.

Miss Nancy Wood received with Mrs. Burns and Miss Burns, and others who assisted in entertaining were: Mrs. S. E. Linblum, Miss Helen, Miss Alice, Miss Virginia Wilson, Miss Clementine Wilson and Miss Laurie King. In the dining-room were: Mrs. Helen Ladd Corbett, Mrs. Robert Koecher, Mrs. W. E. Ayer and Mrs. Zora Shaw.

Mrs. Walter J. Burns gave a large reception Thursday afternoon in honor of his daughter, Miss Kathleen Burns, a charming debutante.

EVENTS OF THE WEEK.

The programme prepared by the committee on art of the Current Events Club, and given on Tuesday evening, was a fine exposition of the leading principle of the club, it was educational as well as entertaining. Rev. E. L. House's paper on the "Beginnings of Art" was read by Mrs. House, because of his unavoidable absence. In the paper the growth of art was traced back to the earliest rudimentary form of art, finding it in the center of the highest civilization of that age. He gave also other contemporaneous indications of the civilization. Mrs. W. S. Gilbert gave an intelligent history and interpretation of Leonardo da Vinci's great picture, "The Last Supper." In her talk, which was illustrated by a good picture of the picture, Mrs. Gilbert gave a thorough knowledge of Da Vinci and his works. Miss Henrietta Eliot finished the literary part of the programme with an artistic as well as a historical description of that marvelous piece of art, "The Broom Door." She gave in finished detail its history, its beauty and its lessons. Mrs. E. L. House illustrated the harmony of art in four beautiful vocal solos. Mrs. Mann is not only a finished artist, but a woman of culture, and while her listeners enjoy the tones of a rare voice, they are treated to an expressive interpretation of the soul of the music. The club extends hearty thanks to all those who kindly treated them to so delightful an entertainment.

Mrs. G. G. Gummans entertained at cards on Wednesday and Friday afternoons, at her home on North Twenty-first street. On Wednesday the game enjoyed was bridge, and the decorations of red hearts, scarlet salvia and ferns were extremely pretty. On the landing of the stairway and in the doorway were garlands of hearts strung on bright red baby ribbon, and on walls and mantels were luxuriously banked branches of salvia in Indian baskets. The house was lighted by red-shaded gas and candles, which added greatly to the beauty of the decorations.

The prizes awarded on the two afternoons were rose bowls and vases of Hohlberg glass and unglazed rockwood, and were very pretty. The prizes were won by Mrs. Francis D. Chamberlain and Mrs. Louis Tarpley. On Friday, chess was played, and the prizes were won by Mrs. Hume and Mrs. W. Ross. Punch was served by Mrs. D. J. Mahoney, Mrs. Herbert Holman, Mrs. Louis Burke and Mrs. S. H. Cavston.

Dibble, Miss Mattie Dibble, Captain and Mrs. C. I. Hoogbirk, of Rainier; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Tyeve, of Multnomah; Mrs. M. O. Wilkins and daughter, Lela, of Sunny-side, and Mrs. Sam Howarth, of McMinnville. At 1 o'clock an elaborate repast was served. The presents were many and beautiful. All the family were present except a son, who is in San Francisco; a daughter, who is in Los Angeles, and a son, who is in Yokohama.

A farewell reception was given during the week to Mrs. Bushong Booth, by the Japanese Mission. Mrs. Booth has been a faithful teacher and friend to the mission for five years, and on her leaving for her new home at Grant's Pass, the mission gave her a royal reception. Many addresses and words of appreciation were given, and a handsome silver water set and a Japanese ceremonial jar of bronze were presented to Mrs. Booth, after which refreshments were served in the quaint and graceful Japanese manner.

Mrs. Henry Dickson entertained at hearts on Thursday afternoon at her home on Thirteenth street. The decorations, of yellow chrysanthemums, autumn leaves and rose hips, were arranged in exquisite taste, and were much admired.

The honors at cards were won by Miss Bradley and Mrs. Gray. Mrs. Dickson was assisted in entertaining by her mother, Mrs. A. E. A prominent member suggested that a call on important business would be made on that date, and the domicile remained at home. Instead of one caller there came nearly 100 men and women of the congregation. The surprise was complete, and the evening most pleasantly spent. The visitors brought beautiful refreshments.

The members and friends of Samaritan Lodge, No. 2, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, at their hall, Odd Fellows' Temple, were pleasantly surprised by the grand master of the State of Oregon, with the officers and members of Orient Lodge, No. 1, I.
