SANTA CLAUS LEAVING HIS BEST THINGS AT OUR STORE

Christmas Toy Opening

Santa Claus has arrived and opened his wondrous pack of holiday things on our Fourth Floor, as usual. From now on until Christmas little folks will find delight in visiting our Toy Department and looking at the many new and lovely things the jolly old fellow has provided for his little friends this year.

There is no surer evidence of the year's prosperity than the way in which purse strings loosen and hearts overflow with generous impulses in anticipation of the glad Christmastide. Already brains and nimble fingers are busy with plans and preparations for the coming holidays, and the determination on all sides is to make them one long to be remembered. Toward this, we have certainly done our share. In the whole history of our store no season has found us so amply prepared with goods for the holidays. You can make your Christmas purchases here tomorrow as satisfactorily as you can at any time before Christmas. We have neglected nothing that will supply a Christmas want, either in the way of gifts or materials for making them, and we have chosen carefully with a view to saving to you in the matter of price, and at the same time providing what is newest and most desirable. We want you to see what our departments offer and to learn that by coming here you will not need to wait until later and be obliged to make your purchases in a hurry and flurry and run a risk in securing just what you want. Come NOW and see our beautiful displays and make your selections deliberately.

There are large dolls so natural they seem almost real, cunning little fairy ones and many small but shapely—just the kind that delight a little girl's heart. Dolls various enough to make a whole family. The dressed ones are especially lovely in their dainty little silk gowns, trimmed and ruffled, and wonderful picture hats.

There are flaxen-haired beauties and dark-haired darlings with lovely real curls that cluster about prettiest dimpled, smiling faces.
