Dullness Rules in All Hop Markets.

NEW YORK, Nov. 29 .- (Special.)-A quiet but firm market ruled on hops. Upstate advices continued to note inquiry from exporters, but no sales were reported. Dealers are understood to be watching the market, ready to take advantage of offerings at concessions. Forto choice, 1802 crop, 299338c; 1901 crop, 249 28c; olds, 7@123/c; Pacific Coast, 1902 crop, 25@32c; 1901, 20@27c; olds, 7@12%c.

Receipts of prunes today were 20,000 port. The market closed active and strong on sizes 40-50, 50-60 and 60-70, but easier on the smaller sizes. Several fair-sized parcels were closed for export on a bid bles bid the equivalent of 6c here on 40-, but it is understood this figure will not buy. Sales covering three cars of 40-50s in 25-pound boxes are noted for Boston account at 714c, A lot of 50-60s was 64c. On sizes 70-90, inclusive, the tendency is toward lower values, Oregon 30-40s are firm for spot at 7%c. A shade less will buy to arrive, and on 40-50s an offering is available at 6%c. Most holders quote %c higher. Size 50-60 are scarce. The tone of the market is strong on large Beans are unchanged, with the demand for small lots and sales of two cars for shipment from the Coast at $4 25, f. o. b., per 100 pounds. Spot was steady at $3 05 per bushel.

Pink salmon is showing a shade more movement, with sales noted for interior account at 75c for talls. Chums are dull and easy at 70c, and best packing cohoes talls at 97%c. Chinook fishtails and flats are strong and scarce in first hands, but holves are in better supply.

Portland Hop Market.

The week just ended has been a quiet one in hop circles. Dealers have not been anxious to buy, and the majority of growers show no inclination to part with their hops. The few sales made indicate that there has been no relaxation in the strength of values. The majority of transactions have been on a small scale. Oppenhelmer bought the only large lots known to have changed hands. Early in the week he took the Bidwell lot of 120 bales, in North Yambill, at 2514 cents, and also purchased the Allen lot in the same section at the same price. Dealers

> WEEK IN THE STOCK MARKET. Feeling That Harmony of Railroad

> Situation Is Endangered. NEW YORK, Nov. 29.-The professional traders who practically monopolized today's narrow stock market, bid up Louisville on the professed belief that the dividend is to be increased, and Brooklyn Transit on the showing of increased net earnings for October. These movements served to overcome the heaviness of the open dealings. Commission houses with Washington connections circulated alleged verbatim extracts from the President's forthcoming message of a much milder tone on the subject of trusts than some of the recent alleged forecasts cir-culated by bear traders, but the market falled to develop animation owing to a general desire to see the bank statement. before making commitments. There was a spilling out of stocks when the statement appeared, but supporting orders were met, and the market railled and closed steady.

The decrease in cash was less than anticipated from the known movements of money, but the heavy increase in loans vantage of offerings at concessions. For- was the disquieting feature. It is said eign cables report quiet but firm mar- that interior banks have been calling kets. Quotations follow: State, common | loans placed in this market earlier in the season, and the demand upon the local banks for accommodations has thereby been increased. The free lending here by interior banks early in the season gave rise to the hope that they were so largely boxes domestic and 29,000 boxes for ex- supplied that the usual interior demand for moving the crops would be less than usual this season. The accommodations then offered, however, have been largely recalled. Interior loans in New York were estimated at one time at $90,000,000 of 6%c for 40-60s, inclusive. French ca- to $100,000,000, and are said to be now less than $30,000,000. This week's loan item of the banks also undoubtedly represents preparations by corporations to make December 1 disbursements. These payments are likely to be returned to the local ton account at 7½c. A lot of 50-60s was money market after their receipt by stock moved to a Philadelphia buyer at 6c, this and bondholders. The payment in London on Monday for the stocks of constituent companies in the shipping combine also marks the satisfactory require-ments which have helped to hold up the sterling exchange rate here and to draw from local sources.

A few special developments had a dominant effect on the whole list this week. so far as the price movement was con-cerned, without, however, inducing any important degree of activity. As the spe-cial developments have been of conflicting import, the price movement has also been irregular and constantly fluctuating. This irregular movement has been over a low range in consonance with the small actual participation in the market. The most important event of the week was the formal announcement of the lease of the Manhattan Elevated to the Interborough Rapid Transit Company, the cor-poration which is to operate the subway railroad in New York City.

The favorable effect of the Manhattan lease was neutralized by the disclosure of a divergence of views and a display of rancor over the control of the Colorado Fuel & Iron Company. The fact that George Gould and E. H. Harriman were in open conflict over the securing of proxies for the coming annual meeting of this company created an uneasy feeling. It was sought by the issuance of reassuring statements to allay the feeling that harmony of the railroad situation was endangered, but the depressing effect upon the stock market was not altogether re-moved. The disclosure of a conflict of moved. The disclosure of a conflict of such powerful interests inevitably causes disquietude. It is probable, however, that the hesitation and uncertainty revealed in the securities market were due to general causes, rather than to any special events.

The sustained strength of the foreign of the clearing-house banks has been stuff. I think it was mighty small bustaness, and if I ever meet her I'll tell her so."

exchange market through the heavy merchandise export period holds the constant threat of gold exports over the market. Interior money markets are reported tight, thus delaying the season-able return flow of currency from the interior. The condition of interior bank loan accounts leads to the supposition that the process of heavy additional capital outlay has gone on the country over, in small enterprises as well as large. The year-end settlements are yet to be met. and foreign creditors stand waiting to draw on any additional resources which may be yielded to the New York money market by the return of cash from the interior. Money resources for speculative use are in scanty supply, and financial authorities and powers are averse to seeing large credits used for speculative purposes. The drop in silver to the lowest price in the history of the world has been an in-cidental influence in the market, specific-ally upon the American Smelting stocks, and generally by reason of the embarrassments caused to the silver standard countries and their reflection upon the world's financial centers.

The bond market has been dull, but prices of investment issues are well sus-tained. United States 3s, the 3s reg. and the 5s reg. declined 1/2 each, compared with the closing call of last week.

NEW YORK BANK STATEMENT. Increase of Eleven Million Dollars in

Lonn Account. NEW YORK, Nov. 29.-The Financier

The important feature of the official statement of the New York banks last week was the expansion of loans by $11,608,800 for the first time since the beginning of the month, the result of recently improved bank conditions. It is probable, however, that part of this expansion was due to special causes, such as the lending of funds which had been accumulated preparatory to their dis-bursement for December interest, and dividends, and also in anticipation of pay-ments on syndicate accounts early in the week. The rising tendency of securities on the stock market doubtless also con-tributed to the increase in loans. There was a net loss of only $1,711,000 in cash, specie being decreased $2,667,800 and legal tenders increased $356,800, whereas the estimates based on the traceable move-ments of money during the week indi-cated a loss of $3,432,900. Part of the discrepancy may be accounted for by the fact that on Friday there was a transfer through the Subtreasury to San Francisco of $500,000, and doubtless other large amounts were drawn from the banks on the last day of the bank week, which withdrawals were not included in the estimate of cash movements. Deposits were increased $8,140,000, which amount is $1,767,100 less than that called for by the increase of loans, less the net loss of cash; therefore the statement was out of

The required reserve was reduced $2,032,-675, which sum, added to the net decrease of cash, made $3,743,675 as the reduction in surplus reserve, which now stands at $15,786,300. At the corresponding period last year it was $13,414,575. Computed on the basis of deposits, less $40,169,900 of the Government, the surplus is $25,828,775. The circulation showed only the small increase of $95,100, indicating that the expansion of this item, which has been so important, beginning with October, is now regarded as unnecessary. The average daily clearings were $273 .-000,000, against $291,000,000 in the previous week. It is noteworthy that through the increase of the capital of one of the banks from $500,000 to $1,000,000, the total capital of the clearing-house banks has been,

There is a note of grievon record against the will of the temperance advocates.

Much interest centers in the bill passed by the Senate last session creating a department of Commerce. The measure is wholly meritorious; in fact, is needed to partments. Nevertheless the chiefs of bureaus proposed to be incorporated in the bureaus proposed to be incorporated in the new department are fighting the bill, and Congress itself hesitates to say fiatly what bureaus shall be included. Unless the President comes to the relief, and makes this decision, a very meritorious measure may suffer defeat for lack of his public-spirited mission to the Pacific onsideration in the House.

Apropos of the 10 per cent advance in wages, which has brought joy to over 100,000 employes of the Pennsylvania Railroad, they tell a story in the Broad-Street Station offices of the company regarding a humble cleaner who was able to make a double turn through the advance. While working about the secretary's office last week he accidentally overheard some of the higher officials discussing the pro-posed increase, all news of which had been most carefully kept from the employes and the public. Bubbling over with this important information, he went into one of the departments, where he imparted the cheerful news, as he thought it, to a number of clerks. He was promptly given the merry laugh for his pains. Somewhat nettled at this, he offered to wager $1 with each of the clerks that a 10 per cent increase in wages had been ordered. Thinking that the cleaner was an easy thing, a number of clerks at once covered his offer. When the cleaner's news was officially confirmed the next day, every clerk paid up gladly like a little man, without a murmur of protest,
