EVENTS OF THE WEEK.

Mrs. George W. Bates gave a delightful reception on Thursday afternoon, at her home at Twenty-second and Irving streets. The house was decorated in a very effective way, and was brilliantly lighted throughout. During the hours of the reception there was music by the Wilder string quartet. The parlors and walls were decorated in simple and tasteful manner with Oregon grant and tasteful manner with Oregon grape and palms. On mantels and bookenses were placed vases of long-stemmed violets, and besides the gaslight there were numerous candles in bronze and brass candlesticks. In the dining-room ribbons of many pretty tints were arranged to give a rain-bow effect, and in dainty harmony with this was a slender glass vase of deep rosepink carnations. Smilax was gracefully granged in combination with the carna-

Mrs. Robert Miller, of Oregon City, and Mrs. Kirk Sheldon served ice cream, and Mrs. Albert Butterfield poured Russian tea. Coffee was poured by Mrs. M. M. Spaulding, from a tall old silver urn, an heirioom in Mrs. Bates' family. Miss Mary Haradon, Miss Lefte Spaulding and Miss Corrinne Sheldon assisted the hostess in the dining-room, and punch was served the hall by Mrs. A. J. Glesy and Mrs.

Mrs. Edgar P. Hill received with Mrs. Bates, and others who helped her enter-tain were Mrs. H. C. Campbell, Mrs. E. P. Mossman, Mrs. F. F. Haradon, Mrs. A. H. Tanner, and Mrs. P. E. Brigham.

A very pleasant at home was given by Mrs. Robert Lutke on Tuesday afternoon in honor of Mrs. F. W. Lutke, of Ripon, Wis, The house decorations consisted of Oregon grape, cedar and smilax. Pink, white and green was the color scheme, which was carried out in carnations, each guest being presented with a corsage bouquet of these fragrant blossoms. The afternoon's entertainment consisted of progressive whist and vocal and instrumental selections. The vocal numbers by Mrs. E. A. Beals and Mrs. N. E. Courter were much enjoyed. Mrs. F. E. Watkins won the first prize and Mrs. H. Powers the consolation. Delicious refreshments served at tete-a-tete tables closed the afternoon's entertainment.

Portland Lodge, No. 68, Knights of Pythias, held a public installation of officers on Monday evening, installation be-ing followed by music and a game of progressive whist. The members of Portland lodge are all enthusiastic Knights, and it is an interesting fact that each of the officers installed on Monday night is a past chancellor of the lodge. The informal musical programme consisted of two charming songs by Mrs. E. E. Coovert, "A Japanese Love Song" and "No-body Lookin' but de Owl and de Moon"; and two bass solos, "The Armorer's Bong," from "Robin Hood," and Asleep in the Deep," by Dr. Carl Tucker.

After the game of whist, at which prizes were awarded to Mrs. Cannon, Mr. Stapleton, Mrs. Bradford, Dr. Graves and

Mr. Puffer, the lodgemen served their guests with a dainty supper.

Another of the pleasant informal card parties which are so much enjoyed by a circle of friends on Portland Heights was given on Tuesday evening, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George C. Flanders. Music as well as cards was an amuse-ment of the evening, and was contributed by Mr. Fleming, Mrs. Geisler, and Mr.

The Current Events Club Held one of Its very entertaining meetings on Tuesday evening, in the pariors of the First Congregational Church. Mrz. J. Allen Gilbert ad an interesting and instructive paper "Social Settlements." Mrs. J. S. Hamilton sang a number of selections, and Miss Haseltine gave a book review on "The Leaven of the Great City," by Lillian Betts, Miss Shelby gave a resti-ing, "Trying the Rose Act," by Samantha Allen. Her encore was "A Bunch of Yellow Roses."

. . . One of the most successful whist parties of the season was given last night by the Young Ladies' Sodality of St. Mary's Church, Albina. Twenty-five tables were failed with enthusiastic players, and 16 hands of the game were played, followed by a social hour. Miss Calithan and Mr. Tom McKenna received the prizes. Miss pluno selections.

Wednesday evening, January 21, was the occasion of a large and pleasant gathering at the home of Mr. O. M. Scott, on East Alder street. The event was a party given by the ladles of the Cum-berland Presbyterian Church for the benefit of the music fund. The spacious rooms were crowded to their utmost ca-pacity, about 140 being present. A very pleasant musical and literary programme occupied part of the evening, after which refreshments were served.

Company B. Third Begiment, Oregon National Guard, gave another enjoyable dance lust Wednesday night at the Ar-mory, the music being supplied by Ever-est's orchestra. A large crowd attended. At the request of a large number of friends of the regiment, two more dances of the series will be given, February 27 and March 20. The invitations have already been issued will hold good for the additional dances.

On Tuesday evening, January 20, 1903, the hardtime party given by Mt. Hood Circle, No. 151, Women of Woodcraft, in Multnomah Camp Hall, East Sixih street, was largely attended. The dancers assumed a novel appearance as they ap-peared "some in rags, some in tags," but none in "velvet gowns." An amusing feature of the occasion was the collecting of fines from those who had adorned them-selves with jewels.

The Monday Night Assembly gave one of its dances at the Woodmen's Hall, East Sixth and East Alder streets, last Monday night, and the affair was enjoyable and well attended. The floor was in excellent condition, and the next dance in the series will be looked for with Miss Alice Taylor entertained a num ber of her friends in honor of her birth-day, Tuesday evening, at her home, 234 East Tenth street. The rooms were East Tenth street. Adams-Schenk.

The marriage of Dr. E. Martin Adams, of Arlington, Wash., and Miss Carrie V. Schenk, was solemnized at the residence of the bride's parents, in McMinnville, on Thursday, January 22. The happy event occurred at the hour of noon. The bridal pair entered the parlor to the strains of Mendelssohn's march, by Miss Valerie Patty. The bride wore a white crgandie, with delicate lace trimmings, and carried cream carnations. The rooms were beautifully decorated in green and white, and a delicate wedding lunch was served. Dr. and Mrs. Adams took the afternoon train for Arlington, where they will reside. Dr. Adams has a very profit-eble business in that place. The loss of Miss Schenk will be feit by her many friends in McMinnvile, where she has always been a very popular society girl.

Baker-Hazzard. On Sunday, January 11, Mr. Cyril Kenneth Paker, of Ione, Or., was married to Miss F. Estelle Hazzard, at the resi-dence of the bride's parents, 383 Cleveland avenue. The wedding ceremony was per-formed by the Rev. H. D. Chambers, rec-tor of the Church of the Good Shepherd, in the presence of the family exclusively. The bride was charming in sheer white, with rare lace, and carried a shower bouquet of white carnations. She was mony a dainty luncheon was served. Telegrams of congratulation were received from Heppner, San Francisco and London, England, the birthplace of both bride and groom. Mr. and Mrs. Baker were the re-ciplents of many beautiful presents. They left on the morning train for their future Helliwell-Hitchings.

Frank J. Helliwell and Miss Winifred Hitchings were married on Monday afternoon at the manse of the First Presbyterian Church, of Vancouver. The Rev. J. W. Little performed the wed-ding ceremony in the presence of a party of friends who had accompanied the bride and groom to Vancouver from Portland. They returned to Portland the same afternoon and a wedding supper was served to the party at the Hotel Perkins. After a short visit among friends in Portland and Eugene, Mr. and Mrs. Helliwell will be at home at Yon-calls, Douglas County, Oregon.

The bridesmaids, Mrs. Douglas Ray and Mrs. Paul Ray, of Grand Rapids, and Miss Florence Brain-ard, and the maid of honor, Miss Miriam Dudley, of Chicago, were gowned alike in elaborate costumes of white point d'esprit over yellow, with garniture of yellow vel-vet ribbon. They carried arm bouquets of pink roses, and, with the exception of the maid of honor, wore Princess of Wales head dresses of white ostrich tips and lete gown of white crepe, covered with embroidery and pearls. Her veil was held in place with a pearl headdress of Queen Anne style, and she carried a beautiful shower bouquet of white violets and lilies of the valley. Her only ornament was a brooch of emeralds and diamonds, the gift of the groom. She was met at the altar by the groom, attended by Mr. Victor Barbour. A wedding reception to about 100 guests followed the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Marcus V. Barbour, of Jefferson street. Yellow was the prevailing color in the house decorations, with a profusion of Christmas greenery. The portieres, walls and chandeliers were hidden beneath a festooning of Southern smilax, helly and cedar strands. In the reception-room yel-low roses adorned the mantel and were the blossoms composing a handsome centerpiece for the bride's table. Here were seated the bridal party, the remainder of the guests being served at small tables. The place cards at the bridal table were dainty bits of water color, the work of Miss Dudley, the maid of honor.
