Carter, a deliveryman employed by Olds, Wortman & King, was arrested yester-day on complaint of the firm, charged with embezzling money collected by him on his route. The amount which figured in the complaint was only $12.24, but Su-perintendent George Hyland says he has evidence to prove that as much as $20 has been spent by the driver which should have been turned in. McCarter made no attempt to excuse himself, and said that the money had been spent for amusements. He will be heard today, and meanwhile is in a place far less easy to get out of than his delivery wagon. Well-Known Printer Makes a Change.-J. D. M. Abbott, recently of Mann & Abbott, has bought an interest in the printing and lithographing business of Anderson & Duniway Co., and goes in as manager for that house, 200-208 Aider street, where, with enlarged fa-cilities, he will sustain his reputation for high-class work. Phones Main 17, Co-lumbia 225.

Long Gloves Are Again in Vogue. Long Mousquetaire gloves, in white and black, are being worn again for evening dress. These are shown in both glace and suede, but the former is essentially an evening glove, the leading dealers declare. They carry 30 buttons on the longest, in pearl and pink shades. An attractive glove is the three-clasp, embroidered suede, that comes in pearl, lavender, cream, prime manila, tan, mode, beaver, French gray, brown, black and gun-metal color, which last is one of the novelties of the season.

WHAT IS IT ALL ABOUT?

Unusual interest centered at the M. J. Walsh Co.'s new store, 343 Washington street, corner Seventh, during the past two weeks, especially during the evening, when brilliant filumination of the in-terior by electricity and gas brought out in bold relief the magnificent stock of gas, electric and combination chandellers, mantels, grates, tiling, electric and gas portables, lamps and lighting appliances. The new stock shown by this company The new stock shown by this company would do credit to any similar exhibit in the largest Eastern cities. Owners of houses in course of construction or per-sons contemplating the erection of build-ings will find it to their advantage to calland examine our goods.
