

STARTS MUCH TALK

Wordy Debate Over Bill for Game Warden.

IT FINALLY GOES TO DEFEAT

Measure Was to Make Fish Commissioner Game Warden in Washington-Portland Gets but 37 Votes.

OLYMPIA, March 7.—(Special.)—The House has nearly as much trouble over bill 238, by the committee on game and fish, as they had yesterday with the good roads bill. The bill makes the present fish commissioner of the state the game warden, and provides for an additional salary of $500 per year. It also provides for the appointment of five deputy game wardens at salaries of $75 per month each, and $500 per year for expenses. The bill brought on a dispute which lasted two hours, in the course of which about half of the members became so badly mixed up in parliamentary meshes that they had difficulty in locating themselves.

Gunderson was the first supporter of the bill and said that the present salary of the fish commissioner was insufficient and should be advanced to at least $500.

Easterday asked if the commissioner was unwilling to do his duty under his present salary, and on Gunderson assuring him that he was not, the floor leader from Pierce recommended that he be given an engrossed copy of thanks on a chrome at the end of his time in lieu of the $500 raise in salary.

He then pleaded for more money for the commissioner, and to substantiate his remarks erroneously said that Oregon paid her fish commissioner about $500 per year.

Wilson of Kittitas, who speaks infrequently, but always to the point, said that the object of the bill was to build up a political machine and that the present laws were adequate if they were properly enforced by the men already paid to enforce them.

Cameron of Lincoln took the same view of the matter, and brought on a lively wrangle with a motion to postpone the bill.

There were about 20 on the floor talking at the same time and in the height of the fracas Mr. Benn arose to correct the misapprehension. This opened the floor for an additional ring in the circus, and by vigorously hammering with his gavel Speaker Hare got the unruly members back into their seats and then went on to confine their remarks to Washington and cut Oregon out for the present. Roll call was demanded on the motion for indefinite postponement, and it lost, lacking seven votes. Roth then made a motion to reconsider immediately and a call of the House was demanded. Before the vote on final passage, Roth made a very hard fight against the bill and it was largely through his efforts that it was defeated, there being but 37 votes for it.

Lewis of King changed his vote before the result was announced and immediately gave notice that he would ask for a reconsideration of the vote by which the bill failed to pass. This brought on another wrangle, which extended well past the hour set for the irrigation bill, which had been made a special order. The conflicting factions got together, however, and agreed to have the matter go over for a special order at 2 o'clock Tuesday.

The House then took up the irrigation bill which has brought to Olympia a lobby nearly as large as that which assembled here when the county-division fight was on. The promoters of the bill which came up today have been working for weeks to silence the opposition of some of the Yakima and Kittitas County members and announced last night that they had succeeded, and that the amendments already agreed on would be permitted to go through. This morning they changed their minds and Dickson jumped on the bill as quick as it appeared. He charged that the bill would rob our descendants of their heritage, and that the unnatural diversion of the waters of the Yakima River in certain sections would destroy land values and upset all rights of priority.

Field of Chelan was the leading exponent of the bill and he made several strong objections to the work of the committee being undone by the numerous amendments which were being offered. His amendments were all voted down and shortly after noon the bill was passed by a vote of 51 to 28.

Other bills passed at the morning session were as follows:

H. B. 236, Raine—Providing for release of joint debtors without releasing others beyond the just proportion for which released debtor held liable.

H. B. 418, Wells—Amending act providing for selection and survey of the state granted lands so that rights of way may be acquired for road purposes on payment of appraised value.

H. B. 344, Cole—Making it a misdemeanor to destroy property of electric light and car companies. This was intended to cover cases of damage through carelessness in blasting or felling trees along line of electric roads, etc.

S. B. 8, Crow—Making unknown heirs of deceased persons and unknown persons defendants in actions pertaining to real estate, and providing for service on such unknown defendants.

S. B. 40, Tolman—Protecting birds other than game birds and their nests and eggs from destruction of either punishable by fine of $10 to $100.

At the afternoon session the Speaker announced the following calendar, or sitting committee: Both of the House, County of Stevens, Wilcox of Kittitas, Kees of Walla Walla, Mr. Speaker.

The appropriation bill for the Lewis and Clark Centennial and the St. Louis Exposition were made a special order for 2:30 Tuesday afternoon. The following bills were passed:

S. B. 170, Rasher—Admitting to the state school for defective youth all resident youth of the state who are idiotic, feeble minded, deaf or blind, and providing that the feeble minded school shall be in continuous operation throughout the entire year.

House joint memorial H. Philbrick—Petitioning Congress for lighthouse between Destruction Island and Westport Beach.

H. B. 288, Cameron—Advancing rate on agricultural lands leased by the state from 10 cents per acre to 50 cents per acre.

S. B. 125, Hamilton—Making the Washington State Historical Society the trustee of the state for the purpose of collecting and preserving data regarding pioneers and pioneer life in the state. The general appropriation bill carries an appropriation of $500 to aid in this work.

H. B. 422, Lindsay of Spokane—Providing a method of voting amendments to city charters.

H. B. 278, Butler of Skagit—Reserving from sale 200 acres of school land in Skagit County.

These bills were defeated:

S. B. 25, Davis of Pierce—Raising the salaries of Justices of the Peace and Constables in cities of the first class.

S. B. 109, Kinnear of King—Amending section 709 of Beilinger's code relating to consolidation of two or more contiguous municipal corporations.

H. B. 294, Cameron of Lincoln—Providing for the printing of the formula of contents of patent medicine bottles or packages on the outside of such bottles or packages. House adjourned till 10 A. M. Monday.

IN THE SENATE.

Pilotage Bill Killed—Banking Measure Meets Second Defeat.

OLYMPIA, March 7.—(Special.)—The Senate this morning killed the pilotage law, defeated for the second time the bill regarding foreign banks and passed Senator Hamilton's measure repealing the present state printing law.

There was a sharp fight over several measures. One fight, which was not generally understood, was that made by Senator McKenny against the majority committee report of House bill No. 238, relating to the acquisition of right of way by railroads. It is claimed that this bill releases the Great Northern from all damages arising from the construction of its tunnel under Seattle. McKenny's attempt this morning was to refer it to the railroad committee. Everybody thought that his motion was intended to kill the measure, as it has become the custom of the Senate instead of indefinitely postponing bills to refer them to the railroad committee, which is just the same. It is said, however, that the plan of McKenny was to force a meeting of the railroad committee, when a minority could report on some of the bills which lie slumbering there. Whatever his plans were they miscarried because the railroad committee is a majority of the Senate ordered the bill on general file.

President Smith, of the Senate, was a very busy man this morning. He has been informed that there was a plan on foot to steal the bill regarding gambling a felony before it could reach the Governor. This morning it came to him for his signature in open session. He called Welch to the chair, took the engrossed bill and compared it with the original, to make sure there had been no jobbery, signed it and then accompanied the secretary of the Senate to the House with the measure. While there he informed the Speaker of the designs which he understood were being made against the measure and charged him to see that it got safely to the Governor.

Hamilton's bill, Senate bill 247, repealing the present state printing law, was passed without a dissenting vote, and after a prolonged discussion. The author of the bill went into the history of state printing in Washington and reviewed it at length. After reciting the difficulties heretofore encountered in the printing of the laws, he gave the appropriation committee's plan for trying to overcome them for the next two years. This he said was to be done by appropriating so much for each office for printing. The committee estimates for public printing for the next two years, which estimate is incorporated in the omnibus appropriation bill, is $38,000.

Angle said, in discussing the bill, that the old state printer's system was a step in the wrong direction. Tucker and Hamilton expressed the belief that the present system would prove satisfactory and that no change would be made two years hence.

Angle secured the adoption of a resolution authorizing the Secretary of State to exchange volume for volume, copies of the 1902 laws for those in previous years. He stated that the supply copies of 1895 and 1897 laws was completely exhausted, while there were only a few of 1893.

S. B. 134, by Multray, was passed. This changes the present law by continuing the tax on cases of salmon from the present limit of 20,000 cases per cannery to 200,000 cases. The provision raising the grill-net license from $1.50 to $5 was stricken out.

CORONER FINDS HIM BREATHING.

Man With Cut Throat Is Patched Up and Lives Again.

RAINIER, Or., March 7.—(Special.)—J. Kellner, of the Oregon newspaper, becoming dependent on account of financial affairs, preventing his getting married to a lady he had left in the East, thought to end his throat from her by severing a portion of the windpipe, and owing to the loss of blood, he fainted. The coroner was sent for to hold an inquest, but found the patient breathing, and after a short time he had him sewed up and in a fair way to recover.

TO Dispose of Road Funds.

RAINIER, Or., March 7.—(Special.)—Upon invitation of the County Judge the Road Supervisors met with the County Commissioners and discussed the best means of improving the roads with the money now at the disposal of the county. About $25,000 has been raised for road work, and it is being paid in with the current taxes. The Board of Supervisors authorized the use of nearly $12,000 of the next two months by the Road Supervisors. Add to this about $200 in poll taxes that will be collected by the Supervisors, gives us nearly $12,000 for roads, beside the bridge fund, which is taken from the county general fund. This is by far the largest amount ever expended in any one year in this county.

DR. CONDON IS 81 YEAR OLD.

Students and Faculty Revere the Venerable Geologist.

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, March 7.—(Special.)—March 3 Dr. Thomas Condon was 81 years old. On that day the students and faculty called at the professor's door, wishing him the greatest happiness and the return of many more such peculiar marks of time as he has lived. The head of the geological department of the university, and his course is the most popular in the university. Every student who comes in close touch with Dr. Condon is impressed with his kind and strong, impressive personality. The students revere Uncle Thomas Condon, as he is called, and show their respect for the aged professor by sending him flowers and such remembrances, which were appreciated to the utmost.

Almost every student who enters the university takes the course in geology in the freshman year, he has heard of Oregon's past history under the man who personally has traced this history in the various strata and sediments of our state. The professor ever takes his students to an old stone quarry where the college where he reads history with them for a few hours from the works of nature.

RESULT OF EIGHT DAYS' RUN.

Cyanide Plant Turns Out 40 Pounds of Gold Dust.

WEISER, Idaho, March 7.—(Special.)—Forty pounds of gold dust, of an extraordinary weight, the result of eight days' run of the cyanide plant in the Gold Coin mine, in the Black Lake district, was brought to this city Thursday. The result is remarkable from the fact that this is the first time the mine has been operated since being built last fall. The Gold Coin company is composed of the Salzer Bros., the great goldminers of La Crosse, Wis., and D. Ford, of Weiser. It has been fully and systematically developed, and promises to be one of the great gold-producers of the state. The ore body is very large and the ore carries good values.

ROULSON'S CONDITION SERIOUS.

Griffith, Who Shot Him, Is in Jail at Vale.

WEISER, Idaho, March 7.—(Special.)—John Roulson, of this city, who was shot by Jap Griffith at Nyssa, Or., last Wednesday, is lying at his home in this city in a precarious condition. The bullet passed through from the right side, and was taken out at the backbone. His physicians say they can give no opinion as to his injuries for two or three days yet.

Griffith is in jail at Vale, Or., where he is being closely watched. His examination will not be held until after the result of Roulson's wounds is known.

SEARCH IS GIVEN UP.

Armstrong Is Tracked to Place Near His Home.

CORVALLIS, March 7.—(Special.)—The search for George Armstrong, the farmer who mysteriously disappeared in the north end of Benton County last Monday, has been given up.

IDAHO SOLONS ADJOURN

SING PATRIOTIC SONGS AND THROW PAPER WADS.

Speaker Hunt Given Gold-Headed Cane—Party Leaders Are Likewise Remembered.

BOISE, Idaho, March 7.—(Special.)—At 11:45 tonight the seventh session of the Idaho Legislature adjourned sine die. The evening had been spent in singing patriotic songs, throwing paper balls, packing up personal belongings and other occupations, while the two houses waited for the clerks to complete their work. During the evening, Speaker Frank Hunt was presented with a gold-headed cane; Francis Jenkins, Republican House leader, with a silver set, and P. W. Mitchell, the Democratic House leader, with a gold watch.

Neither house has done any business since noon, but during the morning session several bills were put through, among them one enlarging the corporate limits of Boise. Another measure passed makes an appropriation for relief of those who served two years ago for three months as officials of the County of Clearwater, which was knocked out by the Supreme Court.

The Lewiston delegation has worked hard all day in an effort to get the boom bill up, but it could not make the point. The Lewiston men have claimed they could pass the bill if they could raise it, but they have not been able to revive the measure. The current adjournment of the Legislature had been amended so as to prohibit legislation after 12 o'clock noon. There was a bill before the House regarding the minimum rate of interest on school fund loans to 5 per cent, which the administration was anxious to get through and the Lewiston people hoped the gate would be opened by bringing that measure before the House, but in this they were disappointed.

In the afternoon the two houses met in joint session to listen to the reading of the reports of the joint state affairs committee and the committee appointed to investigate the management of the asylum for the insane.

The reports were adopted and ordered printed together with the evidence taken. Dr. Givens, superintendent of the asylum, was censured for carelessness in the case of J. Russell, who died as a result of injuries received at the hands of an attendant in the asylum. The committee found he was not struck by an attendant, but fell while in a fit. The superintendent, however, did not give him the necessary attention.

The joint state affairs committee reported its investigations of the penitentiary under the last administration and under the management of the various departments. In the matter of the penitentiary it recommended that ex-Governor C. E. Arney be prosecuted for offenses found to have been committed. A great number of irregularities in the department were pointed out by the committee.

A number of bills were passed during the morning session. Among them is one which increases the salaries of all state officials. The increase cannot be attached through the present session. The salary of the Governor is raised from $3,000 to $5,000, and others in proportion.

Escaped Prisoner Is Caught.

WALLA WALLA, Wash., March 7.—(Special.)—Neddy, the convict who escaped from the prison at Fort Walla Walla last night, was captured in this city tonight by the police. He declares Ollie Motley was not connected with the liberation of the prisoner.

Baker City Notes.

BAKER CITY, March 7.—(Special.)—A Mr. Anderson, of Weiser, was here yesterday looking for six boys, one of whom was his nephew, who had run away from home. The oldest boy is only 12 years of age. The boys skipped out night before last and came west. It was supposed they were in this city. Mr. Anderson learned after he arrived here that they had doubled back and were in Pocatello.

The people of this city are especially grateful to Congressman Moody for his efforts in securing the appropriation for the purchase of a site for a public building. Baker County was solid for Moody in the last Congressional Convention, and it is still pretty solid, for him. The site for the building is now being secured as a reward for a service rendered to Mr. Moody in the last Congressional contest. The people generally feel that back of it there is honest merit in the claim of Baker City for recognition on the part of the General Government.

Elopers Charged With Adultery.

KALAMA, Wash., March 7.—N. R. Keler and Mrs. Flora Woodward, the couple who eloped from Kalama, and were arraigned in Justice Wicker's court last night, on a charge of adultery. They waived examination and were held to answer for trial at the next session of the Superior Court. Their bonds were fixed at $250 each, which they failed to put up, and they are still in the custody of the Sheriff.

Mrs. John W. Mackay.

WALLA WALLA, Wash., March 7.—(Special.)—Mrs. John W. Mackay, aged 40 years, a prominent member of the Christian Science Church of this city, is dead. She left a mother, husband and several brothers. The funeral will take place Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

practically been given up. Thirty men were out all day Thursday, and his footprints were followed to where they came to an abrupt ending, within a distance of an eighth of a mile of his house. One who followed the trail says that the abrupt way in which the tracks cease makes it "look like the old man was literally swallowed up." The river, which is about three-quarters of a mile from where the trail ends, and in an opposite direction from where Armstrong was going, has been dragged and dynamited, but without result. The banks in the vicinity have been carefully inspected without disclosing any trace. There are no theories respecting the disappearance, the committee and the loss to account for the various and unusual circumstances. Armstrong had been a resident at the vicinity for 12 or 14 years. His family consists of a wife, four daughters and three sons.

SOLDIERS SAW THEIR WAY OUT.

Were Prisoners at Fort Walla Walla.—Girl Cook Also Missing.

WALLA WALLA, Wash., March 7.—Three soldiers, prisoners, escaped from the guardhouse at Fort Walla Walla at an early hour this morning by sawing out of their wooden door. Ollie Motley, a cook for one of the officers at the post, is missing, and it is thought she furnished the tools by which the prisoners gained their freedom. She is a young woman and exceptionally bright. She had been at the guardhouse a week, and it is thought by the authorities that she came to the fort for the purpose of freeing the prisoners. The man who escaped were Henry G. Japp, convicted deserter from the Thirtieth Battery, Field Artillery, sentenced to 15 months; Henry G. Neslin, unassigned recruit, awaiting trial for desertion; and the President, and George W. Baker, Tenth Battery, awaiting trial for desertion.

THE VALUE OF CHARCOAL.

Few People Know How Useful it is in Preserving Health and Beauty.

Nearly everybody knows that charcoal is the safest and most efficient disinfectant and purifier in nature, but few realize its value when taken into the human system for the same cleansing purpose.

Charcoal is a remedy that the more you take of it the better; it is not a drug at all, but simply absorbs the gases and impurities always present in the stomach and intestines and carries them out of the system.

Charcoal sweetens the breath after smoking, drinking, or after eating onions and other odorous vegetables. Charcoal effectively clears and improves the complexion, it whitens the teeth and further acts as a natural and eminently safe cathartic.

It absorbs the noxious gases which collect in the stomach and bowels; it disinfests the mouth and throat from the poison of catarrh.

All drugs and charcoal in one form or another, but probably the best charcoal and the most for the money is in Stuart's Absorbent Lozenges; they are composed of the finest powdered Willow charcoal in Stuart's Absorbent Lozenges in tablet form or rather in the form of large, pleasant tasting lozenges, the charcoal being mixed with honey.

The daily use of these lozenges will soon tell in a much improved condition of the general health, better complexion, sweeter breath and purer blood, and the beauty of it is, that no possible harm can result from their continued use, but on the contrary, great benefit.

A Buffalo physician in speaking of the benefits of charcoal, says: "I advise Stuart's Absorbent Lozenges to all patients suffering from gas in stomach and bowels, and to clear the complexion and purify the breath, mouth and throat; I also advise the use of Stuart's Absorbent Lozenges as a reward for a service rendered to Mr. Moody in the last Congressional contest. The people generally feel that back of it there is honest merit in the claim of Baker City for recognition on the part of the General Government."

HALF A CENTURY.

A Prominent Politician Is Convinced.

At a recent club dinner given by newspaper men at Washington, the conversation turned upon the subject of testimonials and their value in newspaper advertising. "I do not believe," said a prominent politician who was present, "that one newspaper testimonial in a hundred, is genuine."

The owner of one of the largest newspapers in the country was present and took up the subject vigorously, finally agreeing to let his opponent select any testimonial in his papers and waging to test the genuineness to the politician's satisfaction.

Quite by accident the case of Mr. Newton K. Young, of Pennington, N. J., was selected. He had been completely cured of a case of hemorrhoids, or piles, by the use of Pyramid Pile Cure. The politician was especially skeptical regarding this case, as it was alleged that Mr. Young was a man over 50 years of age and had been cured of piles after 20 years of awful suffering and when all other remedies had failed. It was agreed that the politician should write to Mr. George W. Scarborough, Ph. G., a prominent resident of Pennington and that the result of the controversy should rest upon his reply. The following was Mr. Scarborough's answer:

"Dear Sir—Mr. Newton K. Young, of this town, a man nearly 50 years of age, and who has been a sufferer with piles for, perhaps half a century, has been completely cured by the use of Pyramid Pile Cure. I felt especially interested in the case, as it was upon my recommendation that Mr. Young began the use of the remedy after having used so many others. Yours respectfully, George W. Scarborough, Ph. G."

The Pyramid Drug Company, of Marshall, Mich., have this letter in their possession and are willing to guarantee, with a backing of $100, the genuineness of Mr. Scarborough's testimony.

MEN'S DISEASES

QUICK AND THOROUGH CURES

Rightly treat a curable ailment and you cure it quickly. Treat with partial accuracy and you help but temporarily or fail entirely. Many of our patients are men who have for years tried to rid themselves of chronic diseases. Under our treatment a radical improvement is quickly noted. A cure begins at once. As time passes the more marked is the progress and the cure is always complete in the briefest possible time.

The treatment that cures quickly also cures thoroughly. No one doubts this. The fact is in direct accord with scientific reasoning. Our cures are accomplished quickly. They are not partial or temporary cures, but time proves them absolutely thorough and permanent. Our methods are scientific, scientific and adequate, and this is why our cures are permanent and quickly accomplished.

CONTRACTED DISORDERS

To be partially cured a contracted disease is almost as dangerous as to allow it to go on untreated. Unless every particle of infection is removed the probability exists that the disease will gradually work its way into the general system. Still greater is the danger of the prostate gland becoming chronically inflamed, which always brings partial or complete loss of power. Perhaps 25 per cent of the cases of so-called "weakness" are a direct result of some improperly treated contracted disease. In hundreds of cases we have cured the disease and have effected an absolutely thorough and safe cure in every instance. There have been no relapses or undesirable developments whatever, and our patients have been cured in less time and at less cost than other forms of treatment require in producing even doubtful results.

STRICTURE

Our treatment for stricture removes the necessity for surgical operations, even in severe cases of long standing. We do no cutting nor dilating. No other physician employs our methods of overcoming this disorder, so the service we render you is original and distinctive. Do not give up hope because others have failed. We will cure you and the cure will be a prompt and painless one. Our treatment dissolves the stricture and permanently removes every obstruction from the urinary passage, subdues all inflammation, relieves all irritation or congestion that may exist in the kidneys or bladder, reduces enlarged prostate glands, restores health and tone to all organs affected by the disease.

WEAKNESS

If other physicians have treated you for so-called "weakness" you were probably helped only temporarily. At all times the reason was very apparent when the cause of loss of power in man is understood. It is not a weakness, it is a disease, but is merely a symptom of chronic inflammation in the prostate gland.

Our system of combined local treatment removes this inflammation, and is the only treatment that ever has or ever can permanently restore strength and vigor.

VARICOCELE

Many who are slightly afflicted with varicocele believe that the trouble is of little consequence. The opposite is true. Varicocele is a disease of a progressive nature. As it advances, nervous complications come, spermatic veins are inflamed, health is impaired. We cure varicocele without the use of knife, ligature or caustic, without pain, and without detention from business.

WE ARE ALWAYS WILLING TO WAIT FOR OUR FEE UNTIL CURE IS EFFECTED.

Consultation and advice free at office or by mail. Book free. Office Hours—9 to 5 and 7 to 8. Sundays, 10 to 12.
