

Lenten Quiet

A notable event of the week was the wedding of Miss Ivy B. Barker and Samuel B. Archer, of the St. Stephen's Church, on Thursday evening, March 19, at 8:30 o'clock. Rev. A. A. Morrison, D. D., of Trinity, officiating.

The little church was tastefully decorated with an abundance of palms, streamers of ivy and clusters of pussy-willows—Nature's first emblems of Spring. The friends of the bride noted with pleasure the delicate compliment paid her in the abundance of that highly prized vine—the ivy.

Shortly before the entrance of the bride party Miss Cornelia Barker, the bride's sister, charmingly rendered "Oh, Promise Me" as a violin solo. The wedding marches were beautifully rendered by Mrs. William O. Rudy, who was accompanied by Miss Barker on the violin. The church was crowded with the many friends of the young couple.

The Gamma Eta Kappa Fraternity, of which Mr. Archer is a member, attended in a body and were indicated by a bunch of white violets tastefully arranged with their own leaves, the combination forming the colors of the fraternity. The sister sorority, Delta Iota Chi, also attended in a body, being indicated by their color, lavender, all wearing violets.

The bride and groom were accompanied by the strains of "Lohengrin's Wedding March," the bride on the arm of her father, and accompanied by her maid of honor, Miss Daisy Barker, her sister. They were met at the altar by the groom, Mr. Archer, and his best man, Edwin D. Johnson. After the ceremony the bride party retired to the chapel to the strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March, and were detained a few minutes by congratulations.

The bride was attired in a handsome cream-colored gown of rich brocaded satin and wore a tall veil, reaching to the floor. She carried a beautiful shower bouquet of white violets. The maid of honor wore a pink crepe gown with a picture hat trimmed with pink roses and carried a beautiful arm basket of violets. The groom and best man wore boutonnieres of white violets, as did the ushers, Messrs. Charles B. Brandan, Harry T. Nicolai, Ernest E. Carse and Thomas H. West. The bride's mother wore a handsome gown of gray silk. The groom's mother was given a bouquet of white violets, and the bridesmaids were attired in a gown of amure silk, trimmed with white lace.

A dainty supper was served in Mrs. Barker's private dining-room to the relatives of the bride and groom and bridal attendants. Mr. D. J. Johnson made the toast of the evening and expressed the good wishes of those present in a few well-chosen words, to which the groom responded.

The bride is the adopted daughter of the Grand Army of the Republic, and was chosen Queen of the Astoria Regatta in 1901. The groom is a member of the firm of Archer & Seaman Co., wholesale druggists of this city. Mr. and Mrs. Archer will be at home to their friends at 131 North Eighteenth street after April 15.

triffling costume and posed: Helen of Troy, Mrs. H. T. Clark; Helen of Troy and Iphigenia, Mrs. Clark and Miss Kate Parmelee; Cleopatra, Mrs. Will Kneeland; Adah, daughter of King Jephthah, Mrs. J. D. Young; Rosemond, Mrs. F. A. Boynton; Margaret Roper, daughter of King Charles VII and Joan of Arc, Mrs. Ella Steel and Mrs. Ruth Tabler; Queen Eleanor and King Edward I, Mrs. George Boynton and Mrs. Ella Steel.

The costumes worn by the ladies taking part were very novel and interesting. After the tableaux Miss Vesta Townsend gave some clever sketches and impersonations from Eliza, Dunbar, Nora Perry and Alexander Anderson. Dainty refreshments were served by Mrs. A. A. Bailey, assisted by Mrs. Clark and Mrs. Hansen.

The following guests and club members were present: Mrs. E. E. Lottis, Mrs. Allen Gilbert, Miss Robeson, Mrs. Kopf, Mrs. Leo S. Ball, Miss Kneeland, Miss La France, Miss Nisley, Mrs. Silverthorne, Mrs. J. A. Child, Mrs. W. Foster, Mrs. George Yeager, Mrs. Kneeland, Mrs. H. M. Clinton, Mrs. R. L. Brackett, Mrs. Scott, Mrs. J. Miles, Mrs. F. H. Madison, Miss Kate Parmelee, Mrs. Merwin Pugh, Mrs. Robert Smith, Mrs. Ella Steel, Mrs. Ruth Tabler, Mrs. J. P. Wager, Mrs. A. F. White, Mrs. J. D. Young.

The next meeting of the club will be at the home of Mrs. F. A. Hansen, 355 Madison street, March 24.

The Cambrian Whist Club held its final meeting for the season at the home of Mrs. D. M. Lloyd, on Union avenue. A series of ten hands was played. When the club was called to order by the president, quite a number of surprises awaited various members. Mr. F. G. Coles, in an able and humorous speech, presented the president, Mr. R. D. Davison, on behalf of the club, with a beautiful gavel. A response from the president followed, who then proceeded to distribute the prizes. Mr. T. W. Jenkins having made the highest number of points for the season, won the gentlemen's prize; and Mrs. D. M. Lloyd won the ladies'. Mr. Coles and Mrs. Jenkins received the consolation prizes. T. W. Jenkins, in a neat little speech, presented the secretary, Mr. John Withcombe, with a very beautiful letter-rack, subscribed for by the ladies. A number of speeches were made by W. R. Williams, R. D. Davies, D. M. Lloyd, R. Pascoe, and F. G. Coles. The hostess, Mrs. D. M. Lloyd, served a sumptuous repast. Singing and more speeches made up the rest of the evening's entertainment.

A delightful surprise party was given Friday evening, March 20, in honor of the birthday anniversary of Lorin Hoyt. Games and music were pleasant amusements of the evening, and several musical numbers especially worthy mention were a song by the Misses Grantham and a violin solo by Mr. James Woodcock. Later in the evening refreshments were served. The guests were: Misses Odette Couture, Marie Dunlap, Gable Dunlap, Mrs. Dunlap, Josie Denboer, Hilda Grantstrom, Ida Grantstrom, Myrtle Hoyt, Ethna Hoyt, Estelle Hoyt, Lena Hoyt, Edna Long, Liscombe, Ida Monto, Maxine and Alice Morgan and Ruth Prentiss; Messrs. Claude Baumgardner, Charles Duncan, Joe Dunlap, Dawson, Taylor French, Jesse Hoyt, Lorin Hoyt, Raymond Hoyt, Harry Hoyt, E. J. Hoyt, Will Lawrence, James Mitchell, Lisle Myers, Milton Mattson, Will Osborne, Joe Prentiss, Albert Smith, George View and James Woodcock.

Another very successful concert was given at the Seaman's Institute on Wednesday evening. Signor Ferrari and his pupils were ably assisted by the Weber Mandolin Club, consisting of Miss Eibell Webb and by W. G. Hodson, the tenor. Miss Ermine Hubbard's beautiful contralto voice captivated the audience. Signor Ferrari proved himself to be a conductor of ably trained and worthy of the applause received. The Weber Mandolin Club pleased the sailor boys immensely and were recalled again. Miss Hobbs and Miss Tappan made very good accompaniment. The trio, sung by Mme. and Signor Ferrari and W. G. Hodson, also went to make the concert one of the best of the season.

The characteristic originality of the Omega Nu girls displayed itself in the unique and delightful way in which they entertained a number of High School girls at their home Saturday. The Wabash home, in Irvington, was decorated for the occasion with Spring flowers and ferns. The dining-room was resplendent in green and gold; a profusion of jonquils, the sorority again, emphasized the color scheme, and the masses of these beautiful yellow flowers with which the table was showered enhanced its attractiveness and made it look temptingly pretty. The Greek symbol of Omega Nu was cleverly reproduced on the dainty place cards, and green and gold. Among some of the original delicacies enumerated on the menu was the "Mayma West," a delicious concoction of Mrs. Mayma West. The affair was appropriately concluded with an enthusiastic chorus of "Bingo," the sorority song.

A delightful programme arranged in honor of St. Patrick's day was given on Tuesday evening at the St. Stephen's Congregational Church. Mrs. G. O. Jefferson read an excellent paper on Irish literature, and Miss Ruth Scott sang several charming Irish ballads. Cleland sang very sweetly "The Shamrock," and P. J. Packard sang "Brien the Brave." A Dooley reading by Miss White was an amusing part of the programme. Several old song favorites were sung by two quartets, the singers being Mrs. Myers, Mrs. Cook, Mr. Johnson, Mr. Packard, Mrs. Morrow and Mrs. Soden. Their selections were "Brien the Brave" and the "Smile in Thine Eye," "Oft in the Rillie" and "Kate Kearney." A dainty supper was served by the women of the church, and the affair was altogether very pleasant.

A pleasant surprise party was given in honor of Mr. H. J. Story on Saturday evening, March 14, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Mosher, 321 East Eleventh street North. The house was beautifully decorated with garlands of ivy and cut flowers. The parlors were adorned with jonquils and violets, while the dining-room was daintily decorated with clusters of pink carnations. Music and whist were enjoyed by 25 guests until a late hour. The first prize at whist being awarded to Mr. N. K. Vesper. A dainty supper was served and the hospitality of the hostess was much enjoyed. She was assisted by Miss Newbury and Miss Hubbard. Mr. Story left the following evening for a three months' trip through the East.

Mrs. E. B. Coman, who returned recently from New York, was the guest of honor at a charming tea on Wednesday at the home of Mrs. S. R. Johnson, by the Ladies' Aid Society of the First Presbyterian Church, of which

Mrs. Coman is president. The house was decorated in a very pretty way with daffodils arranged in bowls and jars of old brass, and with much greenery. Mrs. F. F. Haradon and Mrs. William McBeth poured tea and coffee, assisted by Miss Leonard, Mrs. J. R. Swinton, Mrs. Bross, and Mrs. J. R. Swinton served lemonade, assisted by Mrs. Frank Von Duzyn, Mrs. E. F. Hill, Mrs. August G. Klosterman and Mrs. Albert E. Butterfield assisted in receiving.

One of the most unique and delightful house entertainments given this Spring was a St. Patrick's day party given by Mrs. W. A. Hattaway. The decorations were done entirely in green in honor of the day. Clinch was played during the evening, and prizes were awarded to Mrs. William Knight and Charles Rumelin. The scores change in water color were daintily decorated with the Shamrock, and made very pretty souvenirs. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Sherman, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Bradford, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Foster, Mr. and Mrs. Dr. and Mrs. George Nottage, Mr. and Mrs. William Knighton, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Livingston, Mr. and Mrs. Shelley Morgan, Mr. and Mrs. J. McCully, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Rumelin, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Grindstaff, Mr. and Mrs. James Clock, Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Van Der Horst, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Ashley, Mr. and Mrs. William Calk and Mr. and Mrs. George Schalk, Miss Burbank, Miss Eva Jenkins.

Mr. J. M. Craig entertained a few friends in his apartments at the Thompson, Seattle, Thursday evening, the occasion being the birthday of his friend and fellow traveler, Mr. E. Waldman, of Portland. Most were enjoyed, and a light luncheon served. The guests were: Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Cox, of Portland; Mr. Frank Newton, of Portland; Dr. and Mrs. Miles, of Everett; Mr. T. Goode, of St. Louis; Mrs. E. M. Oliphant, Miss Myrtle Smith, Miss Smith, Mr. F. Smoots, Ohio; Mr. E. Baird, of Boston; Mr. Hayward Thompson, Mr. E. Waldman.

Among pleasant social events of the week was the St. Patrick's party given in the East Side W. O. W. Hall, on Tuesday evening, March 17, by Mount Hood Circle No. 151, Women of Woodcraft. The hall was crowded with merry dancers who paid due homage to Ireland's patron saint by "the wearing of the green." The programme of dances was also a unique Irish affair, and included numerous quadrilles, interspersed among the round dances. Various changes being called as in the olden time.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the First Baptist Church, at its annual meeting, elected Mrs. H. M. Clinton president, Mrs. Lucille Johnson vice-president, and Mrs. W. H. Steiner secretary and treasurer. The last year's president, Mrs. E. M. Runyan, has been one of the most successful in the history of the society, and there is harmony and enthusiasm in the work of the new year. A reception to the new members of the church will given in the near future.

The "Royal Rogues," a dancing club just organized, gave their first party Friday night, at Parsons Hall. The hall was quite crowded, and the young people all had a delightful time. Very nice music was supplied by the orchestra. The members of the club are: Sim A. Bennett, Ramsford, A. Gilliland, Herbert A. Krumbert, Hubert F. Parsons, and the patronesses are Mrs. C. U. Gantenben, Mrs. George Collins, Mrs. James W. Mathena and Mrs. J. F. Krumbert.

Montavilla Assembly, No. 138, United Artisans, enjoyed an entertainment, dance and supper at the Odd Fellows' Hall in Montavilla, Thursday evening, the assembly gives an entertainment of this kind every month, and this one has proved the most successful of any given this season. Over 400 people were in attendance. The dancing continued until a late hour.

The New Century Dancing Club gave the last party of the season Wednesday evening at Parsons Hall, the attendance being the largest of the year. The programme consisted of 18 numbers, Parsons' orchestra furnishing the music for the occasion. Just before midnight the festivities closed, with the ever-popular Virginia reel. Seventy-five couples were present.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Neu entertained the social auxiliary of Myrtle Chapter, Order of Eastern Star, at progressive whist on Thursday evening, March 19. A large number were present, and an enjoyable evening spent. First prizes were won by Mrs. Mary Housner and E. F. Saylor; consolation by Miss Ruth Wainless and E. J. Ball.

Miss Lanyon entertained informally at the Waverly links on Tuesday afternoon in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Wetherill of Denver, and Colonel Howard C. Murphy and Miss Murphy, of Joplin, Mo.

On Monday evening, Mrs. Martha G. Crowell gave a theater party, and afterwards a supper at the Portland, in honor of Miss Carolyn Smith and Mr. Eugene G. White.

One of the pleasant informal Patton Home receptions which are so much enjoyed by the old ladies and their friends was given at the home on Tuesday afternoon. The hostesses on Tuesday were Mrs. Fred A. Daly, Mrs. W. N. Jones, Mrs. William M. McGowan, Mrs. Emory and Miss Oliver.

Miss Kathleen Burns and Miss Nan Wood gave an informal tea at the golf links yesterday in honor of Miss Allen, of Oakland, Cal., who is visiting Miss Sue Stott.

The Scottish Rite Masons are making preparations for an elaborate social function at the dedication of their beautiful new Cathedral, corner Lowndale and Morrison streets. The date has not been fixed, but it will be some time in the latter part of April. There will be a grand ball and a musicale, the latter consisting mainly of selections on the new $10,000 organ and a chorus of 50 voices. It will not be strictly a Masonic affair. The Scottish Rite Masons, of course, be the hosts, and the Knights Templar will be eligible as guests. There will besides a limited number of tickets for prominent society people of Portland and the state.

The Early Oregon Missionaries will give a meeting of the William G. Elliot Fraternity, Tuesday evening, at 8 o'clock, in the parlors of the Unitarian Church. As an earnest worker in the Oregon Historical Society, Mr. Himes has had unusual opportunities to study this subject. These meetings are free, and a cordial invitation is extended to all who are interested in Oregon History.

The officers and members of the Central W. C. T. U. will give a reception on Wednesday evening at the First Baptist Church in honor of Mrs. Hanford, state president of the W. C. T. U.

The Old Ladies' Home Society will give an "at home" on the afternoon and evening of Easter Monday in the parlors of the Hobart-Curtis.

people of Houston during the past year, and is a charming and versatile newspaper writer. In addition to her journalistic acquirements, she is a graduate of the law department of the University of Oregon, and engaged in the practice of law in that commonwealth before coming to Texas. Some months ago she made application before Judge W. H. Wilson, then on the bench of the 5th Judicial District, for admission to the Harris County bar. The court refused the application on the ground that the Texas statutes did not contemplate the practice of law by a woman. Instead of prosecuting an appeal from the decision, Mrs. England decided to abandon the forum for the more important, if less splendid avocation involved in being queen of her husband's heart and home.

Muffley-Hodson. The wedding of William P. Muffley and Miss Gertrude Hodson, on Wednesday evening, at St. Stephen's Chapel, was one of the prettiest ever celebrated at the church. It was a green and white wedding, and the decorations of palms and Oregon grape were very pretty and in charming contrast to the dainty white gowns of the bride and bridesmaids. The service, which was read by Rev. George B. Van Waters, of St. David's, commenced at 8 o'clock. Mrs. William O. Rudy played the wedding march from "Lohengrin" as the bridal party entered and during the ceremony played softly "Call Me Thine Own." The bride was given away by her father, J. M. Hodson. Mr. Muffley's best man was Benjamin Gadsby. The ushers were: Fred A. Rasch, Temple Alexander, Alexander Oliver and Hermann Van Der Horst. Miss Della Marks, Miss Frances Smith, Miss Lillian Holmes and Miss Julia Chemin were the bridesmaids, and Mrs. J. Curtis Robinson was matron of honor.

In the bridal procession the bride was preceded by a little flower girl, Florence Gilbert, who carried the ring in a basket of lilies of the valley. The bride wore an exquisitely pretty gown of white crepe de chine, the bodice elaborately lace-trimmed and tucked, and with a skirt having much

A special meeting of Multnomah Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, was held on Wednesday afternoon at Mrs. R. B. Lamson's charming home on Willamette Heights. James F. Ewing, of Portland Academy, who is giving a series of lectures on the Women of the Revolution at the chapter meetings, was present and read a paper on Mary and Martha, the mother and wife of Washington. After Mr. Ewing's lecture the hostess served tea, and the guests enjoyed a pleasant hour over the taccups, chatting and looking at the beautiful view of city and mountains to be seen from Mrs. Lamson's windows. Mr. Ewing's address showed a deep admiration for the two women whose lives and character he said would be impossible to consider apart from Washington's as their affairs were merely the domestic and social background to the public life of our first President.

EVENTS OF THE WEEK.

The members of the Tuesday Afternoon Club entertained a number of their friends in a delightful manner on March 17, at the home of Mrs. E. E. Miller, 565 East Taylor street. The decorations were in violet and white, the chairs were in violet and white, the tables were prettily reception-room and parlors were prettily festooned with chains of violet and white ribbon. Oregon grape and ferns were in abundance, and numerous bowls of fragrant violets were tastefully arranged. The regular order of business was dispensed with, and a delightful programme took its place. The song, "Oh, That We Two Were Maying" (Gounod), was sung by Mrs. J. A. Child and Mrs. Silverthorne; "Hypatia" was carefully reviewed by Mrs. O. P. M. Jamison; Mrs. J. A. Child sang a lullaby, and responded to Mrs. Merwin Pugh gave a synopsis of the characters in Tennyson's "Dream of Fair Women," and when she had finished Miss Vesta Townsend read the poem. During the reading the following tableaux were presented, each one beau-
