FIFTY YEARS OF WEDDED BLISS

MR. AND MRS. W. C. MORTON.

TILLAMOOK, Or., March 20.—(Special.)—Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Morton celebrated their golden wedding last Friday at their home, near Bay City, Tillamook County, where a large number of children, grandchildren and friends witnessed the ceremony of remarriage by the Rev. Wilfred Smith, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church, of Bay City. They were the recipients of many valuable presents.

W. C. Morton was born in Preston County, West Virginia, on the 10th of May, 1831. Mrs. Morton (nee Mary Hartman) was born in Carroll County, Indiana, on the 11th of April, 1837. They were married March 13, 1853, in Carroll County, Indiana, and settled in Howard County, in that state, where they lived one year. From there they moved to Adams County, Iowa, living there several years, when they crossed the plains to California in 1862, driving a four-mule team, in company with several others. They crossed the plains when the Indians were giving a great deal of trouble to emigrants. During this time they had three little children with them, their son Edmund, now living in Indiana, and two daughters, Mrs. W. C. King, of Sand Lake, this county, and Mrs. Emma Robey, since deceased. They resided three years in California, and recrossed the plains in the year 1865, driving two mules and two horses. The Indians were massacreing a great many emigrants at this time. Their train consisted of eight families, there being 25 men in the party. At different times their train was drawn up in a circle in anticipation of an attack from the Indians, but they were so well organized that they managed to get through without any of the party being killed or wounded. At one time the stage was held over one day, so as to travel with them in safety.

They settled in Dun County, Wisconsin, in 1866, living there until 1882, when they moved to the Red River Valley of the North, moving back to Indiana in the year 1885. They moved to Oregon in 1888, and have since then lived near Bay City, Tillamook County, Or. Mr. Morton is one of the successful dairymen of this county.
