Carry the tillings on leaden feet and break the news gently to those bereft. but the large bunches which McCloskey's rude fellows handed the good boys and proper, too, who are working for the kind Mr. Grim, yesterday at East Side Park were so bad that the murmuring pines what really happened. "Heiny" Deisel adequately stated the situation before the game was over, but his language could never dodge the press censor. It was a scandalous exhibition, and for the Greengages it was positively tragic. The oposing pitchers were Harmon and Stovall, the former being Grim's new importation from Tacoma. Stovall's work was very ordinary, but it was meteoric by contrast with Harmon's. It is unfair to judge a man and Carisch. man by one game, but Harmon must do better if he would endure. This is not a rebuke but a friendly tip from one who has his interests at heart. But what's

It was an off day for the locals, and the some talent did thinking stunts except Donohue, who in sheer desperation tried to play the game alone, and came near doing so. His two magnificent three-base hits were worthy of a better occasion.

They scored from the very first alm at will. Inning number one netted them two, in the third they made two more. They were satisfied with one in the fifth, but demanded two more in the sixth and again two in the eighth, nine large, juicy runs, while all this time the locals were helpless, at their mercy. It would be com-pounding a felony to enter into sickening details, and the best way out is to forget it and fervently wish that it may not oc-

Once more, like a graveyard apparition doing a lonesome drill in the dark of the moon, one run stalked between the Browns and the joy line yesterday afternoon. For about 26 times since the sea-son opened the Browns have lost by this RHE RHE they have been in the lead.

they have been in the lead.

Butler's curves were sugar-coated peaches for the swatsmen of the slwash tribe of Wilson. The Browns had an early 5-to-1 cinch on the game, but in the fifth inning the Seattleites fell upon lke and pounded him all over the lot, and when the battling fest ceased, a total of three hits and a two-bagger gave the visitors flow runs and thereby but up. visitors five runs, and thereby put up a hurdle that the Browns took only by the pluckiest kind of basebail in the sixth inning. This was accomplished by Phil Nedeau's jolt for two stations, after Butler had singled and Raidy had walked. Anderson sho singled, and Nadeau's tally tied up the matinee. The hearts of the big crowd waxed glad, for in spite of the big crowd waxed glad, for in spite of the burning sun clouds of depression hung heavily over the assembled faithful. A couple of rapid-fire doubles, coupled with Butler's ineffectiveness, however, brought out plans and specifications for the Siwashes to win, and they were unloaded in the seventh canto.

Butler was benched in the eighth, and Jos Kosral shouldered the rest of the re-

Buter was beschee in the eight, and Joe Kostal shouldered the rest of the reaponsibility. Joe took the center of the stage after Schwartz had lined out a two-bagger and by a clever bit of head work pulled off a swift double play with Andrews and Vigneux as his understudies. The change was too late. Perhaps if the little twirler had gone in after the second chapter, when it became painfully evident that Butler was to the bad, things might have been different. Then, usain, they might not have been. In the second in-ning the Browns had Kilinkhammer going and chances for runs bloomed in the Browns' flower pot. Vigneux was out. Browns' flower pot. Then came a tangle in the signals. Van Buren bunted, and Hess, expecting an outfield hit, clung close to the sack and was caught at the platfer. This play called out a hornet's nest of criticism from the fans. All expected Van to soak the ball, but they seemed to overlook the fact that if Hess had played away from third, as he should have done if the signals had worked, the play would have been perfect and Hess would have scored. The Deacon has boosted his batting average until it's at the top of the heap, and he has done this by banting successfuly. It must also be remembered that an infield hit meant a double, so taking it all in all the play was perfect.

In spits of some bad errors, Seattle played fast hall. They pulled off four very brilliant doubles, and also hit the ball timely. There were five doubles, and the last, in which Kostal, Andrews and the last, in the third inning the content of the field in a runn, in the content of the field in a runn, in the content of the field in a runn, in the content of the same for dakland's Angeles hit Grakland

POOLS SELL AT EIGHT TO ONE

Owner of the Victor Is So Elated That He Gives the Entire Purse of Eight Thousand Dollars to the Jockey.

CHICAGO, June 6.—McChesney, the West's greatest thoroughbred, won the Harlem National handicap today. At every turn in the race he was a winner, Every step of the way Jockey C. Gray held him where he could gallop to the front. Going under the wire, almost as he pleased, he beat Gregor K., the popular Jyear-old, by a length and a half. McChesney's owner, E. E. Smathers, gave Gray the entire purse, amounting to some. The horse's rubber received $1000. McChesney carried the top weight of 127 pounds on a heavy track, not to his liking, in a hig field of 19 horses.

Gregor K. Jumped out into the front, the California colt Epicure following him, and Linguist coming next. McChesney CHICAGO, June 6.-McChesney, the and Linguist coming next. McChesney was sixth. Gregor K. kept the lead to the back stretch with Epicure and Linguist close up. Passing the haif, McChesney was sixth, but when the big field chesney was sixth, but when the big field had made the bend McChesney had quietly moved up to second place, and only Gregor K stood-between him and victory. The cries of "McChesney wins," began to onne, and every stride farther down the stretch told that the story was true. Just sitting still and allowing the horse to do his best, was the part played by Gray, Gradually McChesney came to the front and won, cased up, by a little over a length. Hargis was third.

Mr. Smathers, pleused beyond expression, took it as a most personal victory, as it vindicated the price he paid for McChesney. He is believed to have won $40.000 in the future book. Flying Torpedo was the favorite at four to one. McChesney, because of the doubt case on his ability to go on a heavy track, went up to
