NO PIE DISTRIBUTED

Delegation Debates All Day, but Decides Nothing.

HUNGRY ONES ARE WAITING

Senators and Representatives Adjourn to Meet Again—Those Who Pine for Plums Cool Their Heels in Corridors.

Nothing dropped from the Federal plum tree yesterday, and the anxious gentlemen who loitered outside the privy council will have to sweat all over again.

and the whole bundle was bound with red tape. The precious bundle was placed upon Senator Mitchell's dressing table, where it reposed all night. The Senator's working table was so cluttered with other papers and documents that it had no space for the recommendation.

Senator Mitchell is amused. "There," said Senator Mitchell, after the convention, "there are all the recommendations," and patted the bundle tenderly. The Senator was anxious to know the political gossip had been so terribly centered in the delegation meeting.

"Is that so?" he remarked in a merry tone. "That is? Well, we don't care anything worth mentioning. We didn't decide upon a single recommendation to the President, only went over the application. Nearly all of the time we devoted to the consideration of Congressional business. We discussed the Improvement of the St. Lawrence River and sent a telegram to the War Department asking for immediate work there. We also talked over the matter of a Lewis and Clark appropriation and decided to confer with the management of the Exposition to ascertain what we are expected to do in Congress for the Fair."

Improvement of St. Lawrence. The last Congress appropriated $5,000,000 for St. Lawrence River, but a special board of army engineers has held up the improvement by advising against the plans under which the improvement was projected. This board has proposed new plans.

"The improvement," said Senator Mitchell, "is urgently needed. We have requested that it be begun at once, and as soon as possible either under the old plans or under the new. Delay might mean indefinite postponement of the work." The War Department usually sends by its engineers and the project of the improvement is not likely to have much effect. But Senator Mitchell would not admit this. "We'll try anyhow," he said.

Difficult to Help the Fair. "It's going to be difficult," went on the Senator, "very difficult to get an appropriation for Lewis and Clark Fair. I don't know how much money we shall ask for. We shall make up our mind after we have conferred with the Exposition management."

The Warner Valley matter has been presented to the delegation but no action was taken on it yesterday, and it was never discussed.

DIVORCE FOR NOTED PEOPLE

Wife of Founder of Ruskin College Secures Decree of Separation.

TRENTON, Mo., June 13.—Mrs. Vrooman, wife of Walter Vrooman, the noted socialist promoter of co-operative colonies and founder of Ruskin College, England, was granted a divorce here today from her husband. Mrs. Vrooman later collapsed, and it was necessary to institute restoratives before she could be taken from the courtroom. The evidence presented declared that Mr. Vrooman had declared that he would marry a woman whose name was cited in the petition. Vrooman's attorneys presented instructions withdrawing from the case. Mrs. Vrooman was a Miss Grafflin, and belonged to a prominent Kansas family.

Mr. Vrooman on the stand told that she was married to Walter Vrooman at Baltimore in 1897, and had lived with him until March 31, 1903, when she said she learned that he had married a young woman who had worked for him in New York.

John W. Breidenthal, ex-Bank Commissioner of Kansas, testified that Mr. Vrooman had told him that he expected to marry the correspondent as soon as the way was clear.

Mr. Vrooman started out on his career as a reformer when he was 15 years old. While making a campaign in the East he met and married Miss Annie L. Grafflin, an heiress. Soon thereafter Vrooman started the Western Co-operative Company at Trenton, and Ruskin college, which was moved recently to Glenellyn, near Chicago, and has passed from his control. His plan was to reform the business world by a system of co-operation.

REBELS CONFESS DEFEAT

Matos Will Now Appeal to Venezuelan for Mercy.

CARACAS, June 13.—General Matos published yesterday in Caracas a manifesto addressed to the Venezuelan people, confessing that the revolution is crushed and terminated, and advising that President Castro to guarantee the safety of himself and all his followers so they may be able to return to their homes and work for the peace and prosperity of Venezuela. The announcement of this news has aroused much interest here.

SCHOONER IS WRECKED

Crew Is Still Safe, but Their Position Is Very Dangerous.

OLD ORCHARD, Me., June 13.—It was evident tonight from wreckage washed ashore that the new five-masted schooner Washington B. Thomas, Captain William J. Lormond, bound from Norfolk, Va., to Portland, Me., was wrecked during the gale on Stratton Island, and is very rapidly breaking to pieces. The crew were reported safe at dark, although huddled together in the forward part of the vessel, the stern having broken away. The weather was bad all day, and the improvement came tonight, and it hardly seems likely that tug sent out will be able to reach Stratton's Island before daylight.

FINDS A PREHISTORIC CITY

Mexican Archaeologist Makes an Important Discovery in Puebla.

CHICAGO, June 13.—A dispatch to the Inter-Ocean from the City of Mexico says: "The ruins of a large city have been discovered in a remote part of the State of Puebla, by Francisco Rodriguez, an archaeologist, who has just made a report of his find to the government authorities here. The city contains large pyramids and extensive fortifications. It is situated in the midst of a dense forest, and a large amount of excavation will be necessary to learn its true extent and importance. A commission will be appointed by the government to explore the ruins."

FEAR AMERICAN INVASION

Hawaiian House—Kills a Bill Which It Believes is Part of a Scheme.

HONOLULU, June 13.—(By Pacific cable.)—The lower house of the Legislature has stricken from the appropriation bill the clause providing for a commissioner of immigration.

Representatives Beckley, Kanilo and others strongly opposed the measure, declaring it to be part of a scheme to bring Americans here in sufficient numbers to outvote the natives. The debate was a heated one, and the vote was on race lines.
