NORTH PACIFIC SAENGERFEST AT WALLA WALLA & WILLIAM WALLACE GRAHAM'S VIOLIN RECITAL & MISS CONNELL'S DEBUT AS PIANISTE

PORTLAND singers who participated in the second annual saengerfest of the North Pacific Saengerbund, held at Walla Walla June 6 to 8, say that the affair was a great success and that the object in view was fully realized...

MRS. FLETCHER LINN, SOPRANO SOLOIST.

Those in charge of the programme in connection with the commencement exercises at Eugene University this week have paid a compliment both to Eugene and Portland by asking Mrs. Fletcher Linn, soprano soloist of this city, to sing twice during those exercises...

WHAT UNITARIAN STANDS FOR

Seattle Post-Intelligencer. SEATTLE is privileged again to be the entertainer of representatives of a strong and progressive religious denomination. The Unitarian conference of the Pacific Coast is holding its sessions here this week...

A formal reception was held at the Oddfellows' Temple on Alder street, and the programme at the concert that evening at the Opera House was as follows: Overture, "Light Cavalry," Suppe, orchestra; mass chorus, "Des Deutschen Saenger, Jubel- und Zettel," North Pacific Saengerbund...

It was also enjoyable. The programme was fittingly closed by the martial Jubelouvertüre, rendered by Misses Connell, Holmes, Soule and Williams. PUPIL OF JOACHIM. W. W. Graham's Violin Recital at the Marquam, June 20.

It is unnecessary to analyze the singing of the different soloists, or to commend them for their best and some well. The most elaborate singing was heard when the Portland Arions gave "Columbus' Last Night at Sea," a cantata, which recently sang with such success in this city...

FROM MUSICAL CENTER

MISS EMILIE F. BAUER TALKS ABLY ON MUSIC. Portland Woman Who Has Gained Distinction in the East Discusses Composers and Performers.

An unusually interesting talk on the results of the musical season in New York and the creative work now being done to shape the course of music in this country was given by Miss Emilie Frances Bauer, who is recognized as one of our best-known American musical critics. Her writings have a distinct musical value, from the fact that she is a New York editor and critic of the Musical Leader and Concert Gleaner, of Chicago...

"The price of admission is prohibitive to music students," replied Miss Bauer. "Mostly people who are not musical are asked regular patrons of the Metropolitan Opera-House events, but the large mass do not understand what is going on in them. They are not in the least generally agreed that the people who really understand and do enjoy grand opera are those who have studied music in the truest sense. In order to thoroughly enjoy musical events, music students must have pleasant surroundings, and be in a sufficiently contemplative frame of mind to grasp what is being portrayed on the stage."

"Mr. Grau, recently the managing director of the Metropolitan Opera-House, is entitled to the highest praise for what he has done. He has been successful artistically and financially, where other people have failed. It is too early yet to forecast what Mr. Conried is going to do, but it is conceded that he knows his business. What do I think of the future of music in America? We do not yet have any great musical composers. Art suffers from commercialism."

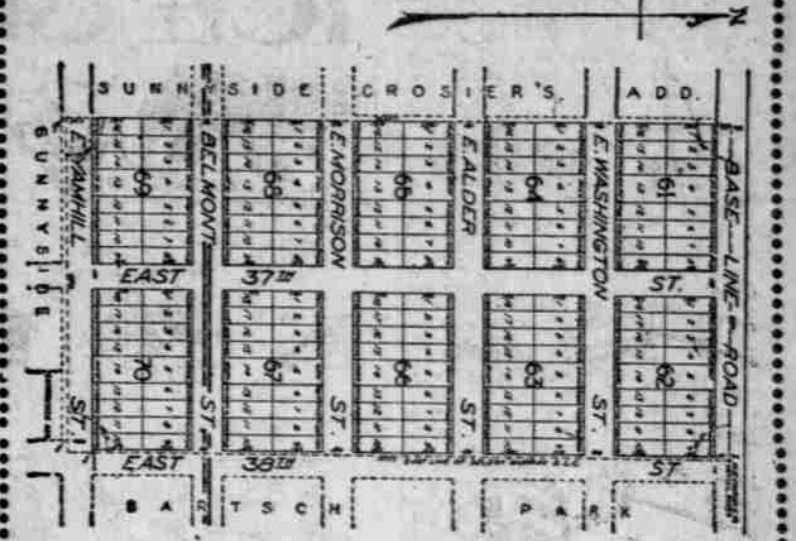

"The atmosphere of the American political and social system is peculiarly congenial to Unitarianism. Here it finds the toleration that is to it the breath of life, the freedom of spiritual experience that means as much to religion as the free search for truth does to science. He who lives up to the teaching of the Unitarian pulpit will be a good citizen and a good man."

WHERE DO THEY ALL GO? Thirteen instruments were sold on Monday last, 4 on Tuesday, 19 on Wednesday, 6 on Thursday, 9 on Friday, and more on Saturday. The club was founded in 1891 and at the present time occupies an elegantly appointed clubhouse and meets on the Coast. It is remarkable in that no intoxicants are permitted to be sold in its buildings or on its grounds, and it is composed largely of young men and its gymnasium and apparatus are as good as any money will buy.

WILL HOLD CARNIVAL. The Multnomah Club has decided to hold a carnival and a street fair from September 14 to 25 inclusive. Arrangements are in charge of the Multnomah Carnival Association, consisting of members of the club who are officers of the association. R. F. Frazer, president; E. L. Powell, secretary, and C. H. Buckenmeier, treasurer. The Jubour Amusement Company's show has been secured. One expects to prove a big attraction. They will be located on Multnomah field, while the booth will be erected on Chapman and Yamhill streets, upon which the club-house is being erected...

SHOW THEIR AMERICANISM

Porto Ricans Celebrate Flag Day as Never Before. SAN JUAN, P. R., June 12.—The flag celebration day here today broke the record, and there was a display of Americanism throughout the place. Fifteen hundred flags were carried in procession by the pupils of the public schools of San Juan, and there were patriotic exercises at the theater, which was decorated with the Stars and Stripes. All the other cities of the island report similar enthusiasm.

SORROW FOR G. C. STOUT

Bar Hears Eulogies on Him and Adopts Fitting Resolutions. Members of the bar met in Department No. 1, State Circuit Court, yesterday to honor the memory of the late George C. Stout. There was a good attendance, and the speeches were impressive and words of praise for the young lawyer, who was beloved by all, and whose untimely death is deeply mourned.

Noted German Singers Arrive. NEW YORK, June 12.—Among the passengers who arrived today by the steamer Augusta Victoria, from Hamburg, were Katherine Fleischer-Edel, Wilhelm Birkenrover and Max Lohng, singers for the National Saengerfest to be given next week in the Liberty Arts Building at St. Louis, under the auspices of the North American Saengerbund.
