Uncle "Josh's" Breakfast Food

"That noo feller across th' branch on th' Brown place won't har'ly keep up 'ith th' percess-shun hyer 'bouts," remarked the philosopher one April evening.
"How d'ye know, Unc' Josh?" asked some one, "he haint been here more'n six weeks, an' he 'pears all right."
"Wall, I wuz pas' his place a-Tuesday, an' he wuz plowin' fur oats. The groun' wuz fine, jus' 'bout dry enuf an' warm. It wadn't hard an' tough like ol' sod, but nice, smooth plowin'." Wall, the feller hed run a couple furrers across th' field, an' they wuz crooked ez a dawg's hin' leg. That's enough fer me—a man that can't turn a clean furrer ain't a goin' to hol' his own a-farmin' in this nabor-hood."
It's so in business. A store must plow straight to hold its customers. No crooked work; no wobbling.
This will enable it to plow the best furrow and attract more customers. To do this we have divided our business up into a great number of specialty stores—all under the one general head, of course. Each section is managed by a man or woman who knows that branch of business best; no manager is asked to know anything else than his own specialty, or to bother about anything else; all anyone has to do is to plow his or her furrow straight.
"Plow deep and straight with all your powers," says Horne.

LEAN ON THIS STORE

Going on a vacation? Take this store with you. Let the store's good service follow you wherever you wander this Summer. If you board, lean on us for the what-nots of the toilette and the little things for the Summer rooms—things that Summer landlords don't furnish; if camping or keeping cottage, lean on us for everything you may need for the furnishing, from the hammocks to the bedding and table linen—the crockery—the cutlery and the glassware. Our prices, as you know, are based on the lowest plane of fairness. Uncle Sam works for us thro' the mail-order section, which, by the way, is not mentioned half often enough in our newspaper talks to patrons. 'Tis an immense, busy adjunct to this store. Ask or send for one of our catalogues, take it along with you to the seashore, lake or mountains, use it liberally while gone—a penny buys a postal that Uncle Sam will fetch us without delay, write your order on it and goods will be shipped you day your order is received by us. When you return, leave your catalogue behind to benefit your Summer neighbor who stays. We charge nothing for this service—it's good business—good service. We do nothing for buncombe or effect—our mail order renders practical, efficient service for you and for us. 'Twould be better, of course, for you to come in and personally select your outfits before you go—but whether you do this or use the mail order—whether you are a "go-away" or a "stay-at-home," 'twill pay you at all times to LEAN ON THIS STORE. Below we print the splendid BARGAIN NEWS of this store's second week—and last—of the MONSTER CLEAN-SWEEP SALE—'twill pay you to read what the brooms are doing.

LADIES' NECKWEAR
(FIRST FLOOR.)

MUSLIN UNDERWEAR
CHILDREN'S HATS and BONNETS
SPLENDID VALUES
Made with the carefulness and generous cut of home-made Underwear. All the endless tucking and ruffling and buttonhole making skipped. Prices that seem hardly to pay for materials. Nothing is shoddy or the kind to go to pieces in the wash-tub.
(SECOND FLOOR ANNEX.)

Having but a limited quantity left from last week's sale of those fine Val and Torchon lace trimmed cambric drawers and embroidery trimmed gowns, regular $1.50 values. We have added to them a lot of long and short chemises of fine muslin or cambric, lace or embroidery trimmed and muslin skirts with deep lace trimmed frounce. $1 values, to close at clean sweep sale, we've marked 'em 65c.

SPECIAL SALE OF SILKS

Two pieces Black Moire velour, $1.25 quality. Silks formerly selling for $1.00 and $1.25 a yard, now 59c.

A line of children's white lawn gullees tucked and lace trimmed, also a quantity of children's white dresses of different fine materials, very nicely trimmed; all to be swept out at Half Price.

Ladies' Bathing Suits

SHOES AND CAPS
First Floor, Underwear Section.

Some of the styles this season don't invite a wetting. Those of silk, for instance. Better suited for a beach promenade—though some silk suits are worn in the water. But there are styles both natty and wettable, giving one free choice as to what she may elect to do. Quiet effects rule, however, with just enough trimming by way of contrast. Broad white sailor collars are favored; white is mostly used for trimming.
There's a certain degree of safety in choosing from the largest and best selected stock of Bathing Suits—one is pretty sure to be satisfied.

- Ladies' Dark Blue S. S. Mohair Bathing Suit, 4 rows of white braid about sailor collar and skirt; two rows white braid down front, V-shaped front, $2.00 ea. Same in Black, ea.
- Ladies' S. S. Mohair Bathing Suits, Dark Blue or Black, White Sailor collar, wide band of white about waist and skirt, four rows of Blue braid trimming on wide bands of white, ea. $2.50
- Ladies' Blue or Black Mohair Bathing Suits, with three rows of White braid about sailor collar, waist and skirt, ea. $2.85
- Better grade, with same trimming, ea. $3.50
- Ladies' Black or Blue Mohair Bathing Suit with White Sailor collar, White wide band of white, trimmed with four rows of Black braid, about sailor collar, waist and skirt; beauty; ea. $3.75
- Ladies' Black S. S. Mohair Bathing Suit, Red Duck Sailor collar band and about skirt, trimmed with 4 rows of White braid, ea. $2.50

Oriental Rugs

At Very Unusual Prices
(FOURTH FLOOR)

Oriental rugs, like diamonds, have an established market value which fluctuates but slightly. It sometimes happens, however, that in the exigencies of business, dealers are compelled to realize on these wares at prices considerably below their market value. Such an opportunity was presented to us recently when we were able to acquire between seventy and eighty beautiful Oriental rugs at two-thirds what they would have sold for in the regular way.

All well made, in small and medium patterns, and not an imperfect one among them.

For dining-rooms, sitting-rooms and libraries the Oriental rugs are unequalled as a floor covering, for besides the beauty of their coloring and design, they are easily kept clean and last for generations.

We have never before offered so fine a collection of these desirable rugs at such favorable prices as now.

We're Going to Make a Clean Sweep of These Oriental Rugs

We have an exceptionally strong line of runners for stairway or hall—also Kiskeimez, Cashmere and Khivas in large floor pieces. We have about 300 small rugs, including Daghestan, Shirvan, Kazak, Mossoul, Guanghes, Bokhara, Teheran, Oushak, Sarouk, Schna, Kirmanshal, etc.

Crockery and Glassware at a Money-Saving

(Third Floor)
The values in today's special sale of glass and crockery ware are decidedly unusual. The various articles offered are household necessities, as staple as wheat, and their prices vary little ordinarily the countrylover; but for this sale we have made reductions that in some cases even disregard cost. Buying one's housefurnishings here means an advantage at all times, and the savings are even greater than usual today. There are fairly liberal quantities of all the items mentioned:

Jelly Tumblers, each, .75
Fruit jar rubbers, extra wide and heavy, per dozen, 25c
Decorated china—special—each—
Decorated berry bowls, 50c; special, .30
Decorated tea pots, 50c; special, .30
Decorated tractor jars, 50c; special, .30
Decorated chocolate pots, 1.15; special, .75
