NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 14.—Yale went down to defeat before the men of Princeton today in the annual football game on Yale field, by a score of 11 to 6.

The contest, which was one of the most spectacular ever witnessed on Yale's gridiron, was stubbornly fought throughout. Until the last five minutes of play, when Dewitt, the Princeton captain, kicked a marvelous goal from placement, and broke the tied score of 6 to 6, the result was in doubt.

Yale made one touchdown, from which a goal was kicked. Princeton equaled Yale's record, and added a first from placement. At the end of the first half the score was tied, and close observers looked for a Yale victory, but the New Haven men were unable to get the play into the line again, while Dewitt's kicking ability gave to his team a victory.

While Princeton deserveth to win, Yale deserveth to lose, for Princeton's scores were practically the direct results of Yale's fumbling. Yale's small score, moreover, was due to fumbling equally as fatal.

Within 14 minutes from the time play began, Yale had torn through Princeton's line consistently and had sent Hogan across the line for a touchdown. Princeton could not cope with Yale's stone-wall defense, and the play was largely in Orange territory.

Yale Makes Bad Fumble. Yale followed up her first advantage and again pressed toward the Tigers' goal line. A fumble gave the ball to Princeton when Yale was on the verge of crossing the line for another score. Again Yale pounded Princeton's line for short but consistent gains, and again Yale was within striking distance. The Yale quarterback, with the game well in hand, apparently decided to save his men, and signaled for an attempt at a goal from the field. Mitchell dropped back and fumbled the ball on Princeton's 20-yard line. The visitors broke through. Dewitt snatched the ball from the ground, and, protected by fine interference, ran the length of the field for a touchdown. Vetterlein kicked the goal, and the score stood even at 6 at the end of the first half.

In the second half, as in the first, Yale's superiority of offense was apparent. Twice Captain Rafferty's men rushed the ball with irresistible force toward the Orange goal line, and twice, with touchdowns in sight, the sons of Yale fumbled grievously. Again the backs hurled themselves through the opposing line, only to lose their last hope of victory through holding in the line, which cost Yale 20 yards and the surrender of the ball.

Battle is Waged Furiously. The battle was waged furiously, and the Yale men were the first to show the effects of the struggle. Princeton resorted to the kicking game, and with but five minutes to play, another Yale fumble placed Yale in serious trouble near her own goal line. Luckily for Yale, one of her own men fell on the ball, but Bowman, the Yale back, was forced to kick from behind his own goal line.

He punted well to Yale's 42-yard line. Vetterlein, who was playing back for Princeton, caught the ball, and with great presence of mind heeded the catch for a kick from placement. With the score still at 6 to 6, the great crowd was breathless while Jewett prepared to try for goal at a slight angle. The distance seemed forbidding, but Dewitt was superbly equal to the occasion, and shot the ball between the goal posts in masterly style, thereby insuring Princeton its first victory in football over Yale since 1893.

The game afforded something of an anomaly in view of the fact that Yale, the defeated team, gained the greater distance both in kicking and in rushing. Mitchell, the Yale back, outplayed Dewitt unmistakably. Indeed, Princeton's captain apparently had an off-day. He punted poorly, and three times failed in attempts at drop-kicking. In rushing Yale was much superior. Princeton, however, was able to handle the ball more cleverly, and was never slow to take advantage of Yale's misplays.

Play is Clean Throughout. The play was clean throughout, and no penalties for roughing were imposed. Yale was penalized four times for off-side play
