

The Meier & Frank Store

THANKSGIVING SALE 1903.

Tomorrow starts the Annual Thanksgiving Sale of Wearing Apparel and Household Effects—An event we have planned to make memorable in the annals of Portland retailing. The seasonableness, as well as the excellence of the special offerings, we expect will attract the greatest throng of buyers we have ever entertained. In many departments it's essential that stocks be greatly reduced to make room for the immense lines of Holiday merchandise anxiously waiting to be put forward—then, again, there's Winter Clothing needs and Thanksgiving Table requirements that have to be supplied. As we aim to be universal providers, every one of 44 departments has joined in the bargain giving. A marvellous array of tempting values. Limited space permits listing only a few.

You Should Buy Cloaks During the Great Thanksgiving Sale In the Big Cloak Department

Another week of generous bargain-giving in the Cloak Store—The magnificent response to our last week's special announcement only spurred us on to greater deeds of bargain-giving—We're going to make this a gala week in the garment store—More and better bargains in high-class wearing apparel than we have ever before offered—Thanksgiving clothing needs should receive your prompt attention if you want to effect a big saving—

Costumes, Wraps

Our entire stock of imported Evening Gowns and Wraps is marked at a splendid reduction from the regular selling prices—If you want a high-class garment this is an opportunity not to be overlooked.
