LEAF UNDERWRITERS ELECT OFFICERS

The Life Underwriters Association of Oregon held its annual meeting and election of officers in the parlors of the Portland Hotel at noon yesterday, when the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: William Goldman, president; E. L. Harmon, first vice-president; W. L. Morgan, second vice-president; Arthur P. Johnson, secretary; T. H. Mc-Allis, treasurer. The new executive committee consists of Arnold S. Rothwell, chairman; R. L. Lockwood, George W.
Hazen, F. M. Mathews and P. F. Leavy.
The purpose of this association is to promote friendly relations among the underwriters of the state, to bring the business up to a higher standard and to enforce the laws of Oregon pertaining to the business of life insurance. Previous to the business session of the association a lunch was served in the grill.

DEATH OF MRS. MARGARET C. SOULA

Mrs. Margaret C. Soula, aged 86 years, died yesterday morning, after a prolonged illness, at the family residence, 287 Twelfth street. The deceased was an old resident of Oregon, having come to this state with her husband, Henry Soula, who has since died, in the early '60s, and for more than 25 years she has been a well-known resident of this city. Mrs.
Soula was descended from Revolutionary stock, her grandfather having been an officer in the American Army during the War of the Revolution. Her father afterwards participating as a surgeon in the war with Great Britain in 1812. She left a large circle of mourning friends. The surviving relatives residing in Portland are her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Mary A.
Soula, and two grandchildren, William H. and Ada T. Soula.

TEACHERS TO BE EXAMINED

In the City Hall will be held the regular county and state teachers' examination, which will commence February 10 at 9 o'clock.
This will be the first examination for some time to be held in the City Hall, as formerly one of the public schools was used. The Park School had, as usual, been selected for the examination, but the examiners did not consider the possibility of Mrs. Just now the Park School is scarcely in a fit condition for anything of the kind, and two rooms on the third floor of the City Hall have been secured by Superintendent Robinson. The examination will cover the regular courses of study in the public schools, different certificates being given for the state and county tests.

CAN'T DENY CLAIM FOR REY

The case of C. D. Smith vs. Mary Hicker for possession of the premises at 29 Sellwood street, under the forcible entry and detainer act, was tried before Justice of the Peace Walden at 10 o'clock yesterday morning. The testimony showed that no rent had been paid since January 3, 1904.
The defense undertook to show that the plaintiff was indebted to the defendant's son for labor and that the amount due should be applied on the delinquent rent.
J. B. Orner, who appeared for the plaintiff, argued that such was not the law.
Judge Seton took the view that the defendant's son had rendered judgment for the plaintiff.

ADOPT CHAMBER'S WHEAT STANDARDS

Information was received by the Chamber of Commerce yesterday from the London Corn Trade Association to the effect that it has adopted the Chamber's standards of Walla Walla, red Walla Walla and bluestem wheat and Oregon barley. Thus far every place here from has adopted the standards selected by the committee of the Chamber. The fact is looked upon as complimentary to the work of those who selected and established the standards.

ORDER OF WASHINGTON VOTING COMMITTEE

As the time for closing the Order of Washington voting contest draws near, the interest in becoming great. The under of the order is determined that its candidate shall win. The vote as counted

MAJOR CLARKE AIDS THE FAIR

Miss Anna Harris, 1200 Everett street, friend of Major William Hancock Clark, of Washington, D. C., received from him a letter recently in which he wrote: "I have been adding to the appropriation from Congress of $125,000 for your fair, and it will surely come. Mrs. Weathered will be here February 4 for a few days."

THE DAILY NEWS FORTY-
THREE YEARS AGO

Compiled and Reprinted From Oregonian of February 7, 1861.

IN the issue of February 7, 1861, a column is devoted to an editorial which is a scathing denunciation upon the "acts of our disunion misrepresentative in the Senate." Governor Lane. The eight years of his political career in which he "made and unmade men" at his will, were said to have made him arrogant and caused him to believe that his rights were secured by a tenure that popular opinion would never shake. That the time was near at hand when he was to leave office (the coming March) was heralded with joy, and it was prophesied that his record on the question of secession would forever settle his political career.

"No one can defend his letter on the right of secession. He has been weighed in the balance and found wanting."

An interesting description of the visit of a "fire-eater" to Mr. Lincoln is given.
The fire-eater was R. D. Ray, a dis-unionist from Mississippi, who wore an immense blue cockade in his hat and who acted very sullen. In the course of the conversation, Mr. Lincoln had occasion to remark that the main difference between Northerners and Southerners is that the former holds slavery to be wrong and opposes its further extension, while the latter think it right. . . . and the anti-extensionists will not interfere with slavery where it exists," etc. The warlike South-erner became mollified by Mr. Lincoln's kind treatment before leaving.

A recent survey shows that the Columbia may be navigated to within 12 miles of old Fort Colville. The mills at Warm Springs are turning out 1500 feet of lumber a day.

Great forces of Indian hostilities are felt at Bitter Root Valley.

An article appeared, compiled from a New Orleans Picayune, on a practical view of the separate secession of Texas and an estimate of what she had received from the Union.

The citizens of Roseburg are getting up a skiff to go down the Umpqua to ascertain the capabilities of that river for navigation.

A small fire in Captain Ankeny's smoking-house is noted in the sideheads.

Some $12,000 or $13,000 in war scrip sold at auction in Corvallis a few days since at 15 cents on the dollar.

Exports to San Francisco.
Per steamer Pacific: 5522 sacks flour, 3200 boxes apples, 273 cs. bacon, 180 kegs lard, 225 hides, 10 horses.

MARRIED.
In Marion County, at the residence of the bride's father, January 20, by the Rev. Neil Johnson, Mr. Samuel Steel, of Washington County, to Miss Sarah He-becca Minter.

By the same, on the 4th inst., at the residence of E. C. Adair, Mr. John T.
Goudy to Miss Ann Eliza Kemp, all of Bellevue.

On 25th ult., Mr. Levi Douglas and Miss Mary Ann Curtis, all of Lane County.

At Postville, January 19, Mr. G.
Hinckle and Miss Callista E. Smith.

Multnomah, Attention!
The annual meeting of your company will be held at the Engine-House at 6 1/2 o'clock this evening. A full attendance is requested.

WILLIAM SCAPIS,
Secretary of No. 2, Portland, February 7, 1861.

Splendid Appointments of the Hotel Scott Briefly Described.

The Hotel Scott was formally opened last evening under the most favorable auspices. This new hotel is located on Seventh street, between Ankeny and Burrhead streets, at the rear of the Postoffice, a most desirable location, being close to the business center of the city and at the same time removed from the most unpleasant features common to other locations downtown.

The Hotel Scott has been magnificently furnished, expense not being spared to make it one of the most desirable hotels in Portland. There is not a dark room in the house, numerous windows making every room unusually bright and cheerful. The floors are covered with the best grade of velvet and brussels carpets, while the walls are delicately tinted. The beds are highly ornamental and the bedding so comfortable that insomnia will be unknown to any of the guests. Bathrooms, lavatories, hot and cold water, gas and electric lights will be found on every floor; in fact, every modern convenience has been supplied that will add to the comfort of the guests. The hotel will be conducted on the European plan. A splendid restaurant will be maintained on the first floor, and it will be the aim of the management to employ only first-class chefs and the service will leave nothing to be desired. A billiard-room supplied with the best tables manufactured will be another feature that will appeal to the traveling public, and a well-stocked bar will supply creature comforts when desired. The halls are wide and fire-escapes have been installed, making it one of the safest buildings in the city. A handsome bus on rubber-tired wheels will meet all trains. It is not possible to mention all of the attractive features found in the Hotel Scott, which is strictly modern in all of its appointments.

Charles D. Scott, the proprietor, has traveled throughout the West for 15 years, and for the past year and a half was city salesman for Allen & Lewis.
He is a genial gentleman and thorough business man, who fully understands how to please his patrons. The building was erected by Charles A. Malarkey.

DO YOU WANT ONE?
Exquisite Louis Quinze Rooms in Du Barry Pink.

A luxurious sense of ease and opulence—a feeling of sinuous languor, the eyes are delighted, the nerves relaxed—this is the emotion that softly creeps over you as you enter a beautiful suite of rooms just fitted up at the Hotel Scott, which is the prevaling tone. Playful cupids roll among gliding clouds. The harmoniously blending colors lead to gilt torches blossoming in many-fingered candelabra; the solid-gilt, graceful slenderness of the furniture —all go to produce the realization that this is perhaps the finest example of Louis Quinze decoration and the lighting effects that Portland has yet seen. Descriptive phrases may give you an impression of the ravishing beauty of these apartments and will suggest to other well-to-do people that they ought have rooms of equal loveliness in their houses if they will but consult Barrett. The John Barrett Company,

DIAMONDS
ARE STILL GOING UP

If you bought a Diamond a year ago at the market price, you have made money on it. They have been advancing steadily and are going to keep right on. Our customers who took our advice and purchased stones from us are now in pocket by the transaction.

We are selling Diamonds right now at prices that make them a better investment than real estate, and if you are thinking of buying one we invite your inspection and will be glad to have you come in even if you only want to compare values. If you are a judge you will make the purchase at once.

Diamond rings from $10 up; brooches $7.50 and up; studs $7 up; scarf pins $5 and up; cuff links $5 up, etc.

Don't delay your purchase if you intend buying. If you can't pay the price now, make a deposit and we will lay the Diamond aside for you; you can then finish the payments as your means permit. Do it now.
