SENATORS REALIZE DILEMMA

Roosevelt Still Says Hermann Carried Water on Both Shoulders, and He Don't Propose to Help the Delegation Out.

OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Wash ington, Feb. 6.-While they are not ready to make public announcement of the fact, the Oregon Senators have practically decided to consent to the confirmation of A. M. leaders in Jackson County, protesting against Woodford's nomination, and urging them to bring about York's appointment.

It is learned today that York was originally indorsed by Hermann after he had consulted with the Mitchell leaders in Medford, and had furthermore been instructed by the two Senators to recommend this man. The Senators, while not personally interested in the case, have been anxious to carry out the wishes of their political friends in Jackson County, especially as they had promised to back Tork. Their only hesitation about consenting to Woodford's confirmation is the fear that their acquiescence may be missenting to Woodford's confirmation is the fear that their acquiescence may be misconstrued to mean that they deserted the man they promised to support.

As a matter of fact, the Senators are confronted by a situation which compels them either to consent to Woodford's confirmation or array themselves boldly against him. President Rossevelt has a ply drew himself up to his full height and by drew himself up to his full height and by drew himself up to his full height and by drew himself up to his full height and by drew himself up to his full height and by drew himself up to his full height and against him. President Roosevelt has taken a positive stand and will not recall Woodford's nomination. In fact, when he was appealed to to help the delegation out of its dilemma, he said he was firmly convinced, after reading all papers in the case, that Mr. Hermann has attempt-"carry water on both shoulders," to struddle an issue, so to speak, and he did not intend to embarrass himself to relieve Hermann from an embarrassment that he brought upon himself. With such a statement as this confronting them, and recognizing that the present situation is in no way chargeable to them, the Senators feel that when the situation becomes thoroughly understood they will censured for consenting to Woodford's confirmation.

He was subsequently recaptured. Spencer came here and represented himself as an agent of the Chinese Six Companies of San Francisco. He moved about with the wealthy Chinese merchants, and had more or less business dealings with them for a time. Then he was accused of impersonating a United States official, and was said to have secured money from various Celestiais in this guise. When arrested he put up a strong legal fight, and at his preliminary hearing it was difficult to secure Chinese witnesses to give evidence against him, owing to their fear that he was backed by highbinders.

But Spencer was held, and after being incarcerated in the County Jall a few weeks he led a successful jall-break. His recapture followed, also conviction and six months' sentence in the Federal Prison, which he served.

BOLD HOLD-UP AT ASTORIA.

Logger Parted From His Money in Busy Part of the City.

Busy Part of the City.

ASTORIA. Or., Feb. 6.—(Special.)—One of the most during hold-ups that ever occurred in this city took place at 9:20 o'clock tonight near the corner of Commercial and Seventeenth streets, in a much frequented part. The victim was Theodore Meyer, a German, who works in a logging camp on the Washington shore of the river.

Meyer was on his way toward the rall-

William Glover was convicted on Sep tember 8, 1901, of having killed Frederick Nierhoff, near Auburn, on June 11, 1902. William Glover and his brother Oscar were owners and operators of a mine the American River, near the Nierhoff ranch. They were frequent visitors to the Nierhoff home, and, unknown to the parents of their 14-year-old daughter, Agnes, ents of their 14-year-old daughter, Agnes, an attachment was formed between her and William Glover, who was about twice her age. The father requested Glover to cease paying attention to his daughter, and the latter ordered him to keep away from the premises. On the day of the murder Glover paid a visit to Miss Nier-hoff in the absence of the father. As he was leaving the house Nierhoff arrived was leaving the house Nierhoff arrived home. Some words ensued and Nierhoff was shot by Glover, who had a rifle with him. Miss Nierhoff and Oscar Glover were witnesses of the shooting.
