

VOL. XXIII.

PORTLAND, OREGON, SUNDAY MORNING, FEBRUARY 14, 1904.

NO. 7.

New Burgess Hats

The hats you've longed to see—the "Burgess Hats"—are here. Very much prettier than any we've had in past seasons. Shapes along "Colonial," "Torpedo" and "Flat" lines—crowns quite different, too. Velvets, silks and quills as trimming—almost all show a touch of gold in the trimming.

New Cotton Dress Stuffs

Some authoritative Wash Goods news today: Dame Fashion, from whose decree there is no appeal, has made a complete revolution in the construction of Washable Dress Stuff for this season. In 1903 heavy close woven fabrics were the thing—this season lighter, finer fabrics have the call. The change is sure to be a popular one, for last season's fabrics left much to be desired—they were too warm, didn't launder any too well, and didn't look feminine enough.

The heavy Oxfords and Mannish Vestings have been supplanted by beautiful soft brocaded Madras, Linen Etamines, Nub Suitings, Mercerized and Linen Canvas, Mercerized Pongee, Linen and Cotton Flaked Suitings, Fish Net Weaves, Bourette Suitings and Dashed Linen Weaves. All of them light and airy—all distinctly feminine.

Embroideries for Spring

The new Embroideries are here from over the sea, and what a bright, crisp, refreshing array! A wonderful variety—from the modest edging to the most elaborate skirt-width embroidery—yet each design has been most carefully selected from as many dozens.

Interesting merely as a beauty show—doubly fascinating to all women who are planning lingerie and white dresses as well as children's garments—

Edgings from.....5c up to $2.50
Corset Cover Embroidery.....60c up to $2

A Great Handkerchief Sale

These Handkerchiefs are "seconds"—the annual clean-up of a large Belfast maker. The "hurts" which prevent these handkerchiefs from being in the "perfect" class are very trivial ones—a thick thread, maybe, a tiny hole perhaps, or a slight unevenness of the hemstitching being all that's wrong. But my! what damage has been done to the prices! You can buy at a half, a third, yes, even at a quarter of what they would be if classed among the "perfects." See corner window.

Men's
50c, 75c and $1.00
Handkerchiefs

23c

These Handkerchiefs are all pure linen, are full size and come in all the leading widths of hem.

The "hurts" which cause them to be classed as "seconds" are in most cases hardly to be found, and will not injure the wearing quality hardly any—if any.

Women's
35c, 50c and 75c
Handkerchiefs

18c

This sale will be the "ship arrived" for every woman with 'Kerchief wants.

The "hurts" which make them "seconds" are almost indiscernible, and will not impair their durability very much. All widths of hems, and all of them are pure linen.

Lace Curtains: Special

Just when your thoughts are turning toward Spring cleaning and refurbishing, comes this store with superb offerings in Lace Curtains.

How we are enabled to make these "special prices" is a long story—an error on the part of a shipping clerk mistaking our beautiful Portland for Portland, Maine, the chief cause—further details would most likely prove uninteresting, but the reading about the reductions in price this comedy of errors brought about will prove of interest.
