WASHINGTON. Feb. 20.-Panama was the subject of three speeches in the Senate today, and was the only subject of general importance. the speech he began Thursday, and Morgan and Money both made brief addresses. Morgan spoke in opposition to the treaty, as usual, and announced he would not be heard again on the treaty

Money announced his intention of vot ing for the ratification of the canal treaty, but criticised the part taken by the United States in connection with the ession of Panama.

During his speech, Spooner engaged in spirited colloguy with Tillman. He defended the President against the assumption that his position on Panama involved the right of the Southern

The first work of the Senate was the authorization of the printing of a state-ment by the Western Federation of Min-ers relative to the labor troubles in Colorado, and in reply to the statement of the mine operators of that state, which has airendy been printed. had been such as to render it indefensi-ble. He was sure this and other acts of the United States, in connection with the Panama revolt, would deserve and receive the censure of history. But, bad as our course had been in Panama, he was no worse than our course in Hawati and the Philippines had been. Taking up the declaration of Fitngerald (Dem., N. He either Germany or Great Britain. He charged Fitzgerald with favoring improve-ments for the naval establishment in New York, and in this connection he said there were too many navy-yards, many which could be out out. Dayton said that the Navy on its present basis could not compete with any of the great powers. Hitchcock (Dem., Neb.) opposed the spirit of extravagance which, he said, prevails. He declared that this republic is more extravagant than any power on earth. With the coming of militarism and imperialism had come that spirit which had come with every monarchy of wasteful extravagance for the Army and Navy. He spoke of the "gigantic and wasteful annual appropriations." "The Army and Navy," asserted Hitchcock, "are absorbing $2 for every $5 taken from the people in taxation.

Declares Trusts Profit Most. Hitchcock asserted that the larger item in both the Army and Navy bills went t the trusts—the armor trust, the railroad trust and the shipbuilding trust. The largest item in the Army bill out of a total of $75,000,000 was $40,000,000 for trans-portation. In the mival bill, there was an item of $12,000,000 which was to go to the armor-plate trust. There was only three armor-plate factories at the most to receive this money and two of these the Carnegie and Bethlehem plants, he declared were confronted by the same men, who united and conspired every time men, who united and conspired every time they made a contract with the Government to make the same price for armor. Hitchcock said at the proper time he would offer an amendment making it mandatory on the Secretary of the Navy to build an armor-piate factory, although he had no hope that this amendment would prevail. These appropriations were made for the benefit of the trusts, he said in the face of anti-trust legislation.

making large contracts with them likelf and was paying them the money.

There was a discussion between Cooper (Wis.), chalrman of the insular committies of the committee of the rane (Dem., Miss.) over the retention of the Philippines and the position of the Republican Administration on that sub-ject. Cooper declined to say whether the intention of the Republicans was to withdraw from the islands.
