THE grand Original Educational Contest Sale opens at this store tomorrow

As stated in last Friday's morning paper, and borne on every tongue, from lip to lip, the theme in every home and school, the one topic talked of in stores, shops, factories and on the street, since the news was printed—OLDS, WORTMAN & KING will send three of PORTLAND'S SCHOOL TEACHERS, EVERY EXPENSE FREELY PAID BY THE FIRM, TO THE BIG ST. LOUIS EXPOSITION THIS SUMMER! The news spread like wildfire and sprang with a bound into public favor, to such an extent that our example has been followed by houses of lesser importance already and, we trust, may be by others ere long, for the idea is splendid, and we are glad to again serve as leaders for slower stores to follow in the cause of the public good. During the progress of this great contest, inaugurated in the educational interests of Portland's boys and girls, and through them, the elders, the same grand matchless values will be given and the bargain game will wax hotter than ever. Honest, superlative qualities will be offered at unparalleled opportunity prices to fortunate buyers. We're starting now to clear the decks for the dismantling soon to follow when the walls come down between the "Old Homestead Store" and her newest child—the Sixth-street Annex. Every selling record will be beaten and a pace set in merchandising that will be killing to the competition of "PORTLAND'S BEST" CONGRESS STORE.

HOW the three fortunate teachers in the ORIGINAL Educational Contest will be chosen:

STARTING TOMORROW MORNING we shall give with every purchase amounting to 25c, a coupon with place for name of teacher and school over which he or she presides. Ballot boxes will be conveniently placed on every floor, near the entrances, three on the first floor and one each on each upper floor; pencils will be provided. Upon these slips you may write the name of your favorite teacher whom you would prefer enjoying the trip, and drop the slip into the ballot boxes provided. Each day they will be counted and the count verified by a representative of one of the Portland newspapers, the result will be announced daily in our advertisements UNTIL THE CONTEST CLOSES AT 6 P. M. OF SATURDAY, AUGUST 6, when the count will be again verified by a committee of prominent citizens and the award made to the three whose names have received the most votes.

The trip includes every expense paid including first-class tickets with Pullman sleeper both ways, expenses at first-class hotel for ten days and entrance tickets to Exposition grounds for ten days and all expenses, going and coming from the time the teacher leaves home until his or her return. All schools are included, public, private or parochial and all teachers from kindergarten to principals. A coupon given with every 25c purchase, four with $1.00 purchase, 40 with $10.00 purchase, and so on. Cash and credit customers alike. This "Old Homestead Store" never discriminates, but is equally thankful for the patronage of all.

Magnificent Millinery

Second Floor Salons.

The accompanying cut illustrates the new "Lewis and Clark Exposition" Sailor. This novel, jaunty Sailor is original with us and has not only sprung into instant favor locally, but has been copied extensively East. Some local stores have copied the name but have failed miserably on the stylish lines which go to make up the beauty of this charming Summer favorite for 1904. It's so practical it may be worn on nearly all occasions by dressy women, either for street wear or dress functions. They have a dash entirely their own, becoming to almost every face. We've fixed a popular price upon them of $6.00—they're well worth $7.50.

ALL THE HIGH-GRADE MILLINERY AT ONE-HALF, ONE-THIRD AND ONE-FOURTH OFF REGULAR PRICES.

MONDAY—All the French beauties, Connelly turbans and exclusive models from our own matchless workrooms and designer's hands are included in the wholesale reduction. Not a hat but what's worth the original price marked upon it, but Mid-Summer stocks are on the way and room must be made. These sweeping reductions will clear the cases at double-quick pace. Choose from any of these aristocratic beauties on MONDAY AT ONE-FOURTH, ONE-THIRD TO ONE-HALF OFF.

New lines popular Gage Hats open Monday morning. This line includes the jaunty, dashing new Sailors for the Summer girl, and genteel Turbans for women—new tailored hats just in at $1.98, $2.49 and $2.98
