

GRATEFUL WOMEN RESTORED TO BEAUTY AND HEALTH BY PE-RU-NA

Neglected Colds and Spring Catarrh Make Invalids of More Women at This Season of the Year Than All Other Diseases Combined.

"An Ounce of Prevention Is Better Than a Pound of Cure."

How to Protect Yourself Against Catarrh During the Uncertain Weather of April.

"Keep the feet warm and dry. Also keep the chest well protected. Be sure to go out in the fresh air every day, so as to be accustomed to outdoor air."

Health Hints for May

The following of these rules will secure to such individuals a reasonable guarantee against colds, coughs, catarrh, spring fever, and so forth, in spite of sleet, sleet, rain or sudden changes of temperature.

If, however, you are already the victim of a cough, loose or tight, catarrh, acute or chronic, the remedy that relieves readily, cures quickly and restores permanently is Peruna.

A few doses of Peruna at the beginning of a cold will change the entire course of events. It operates directly on all the mucous membranes, so that no matter where the cold may have settled it is bound to be reached by this searching remedy. Peruna absolutely prevents catarrh from fastening itself upon any part of the organism.

Miss Lydia Herziger, Grand Recorder of American Daughters of Independence, writes from New Orleans:

"I have used Peruna now for four years, each Spring and Fall, and it keeps me perfectly well and strong. I am able to continue working, and do not have to take a three months' rest, as I used to do every year. This is a great comfort to me, as I was not able to take such a long rest. I find that it is a preventive for colds and coughs, and soon rids the system of all disease and is an admirable medicine."

Mrs. Frances Wilson, 23 Nelson street, Clinton, Mass., writes:

"Had you seen me at the time of my illness and now, you would not wonder that I take delight in sounding the praises of Peruna. My ailment was a severe cold which attacked the bronchial tubes, and after using six bottles of Peruna I was on my feet again. I think Peruna a wonderful medicine."

Miss Edna Wilson, 145 Temple street, Los Angeles, Cal., writes:

"Peruna cured me of catarrh of the bronchial tubes which had been most annoying for many months. I had a severe pain in the chest, with a cough and an asthmatic condition. I had tried many things to rid my system of this before I heard of Peruna. It was only a short time before I began to feel beneficial results, and in less than a month I was well. Your medicine is very meritorious and deserves praise."

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio.

MR. J. C. MORRISON. The Testimonials Given Here Are Only a Few of Thousands of Testimonials From Thankful Women. Cure a Cold Before It Develops Into Catarrh.

At the Beginning of a Cold is the Time to Take Pe-ru-na.

Mrs. C. Morrison, 3600 S. New Jersey St., Indianapolis, Ind., writes: "Some months ago I contracted a severe cold returning from the theater. This cold settled in my head and developed into catarrh of the head and nose, and I know of nothing more obnoxious. Every morning when I arose my head was all stopped up, throat dry and parched, and I would have to spray for half an hour before I could clear the head. I noticed that Peruna was advertised as a certain cure for catarrh, so I tried what it would do for me, and found after four weeks' use that it had cleared my head and throat, leaving no trace of catarrh. I therefore wish to add my testimony to the many you have as to the efficacy of Peruna."

Spring is the best time to treat catarrh. Nature renews herself every Spring. The system is rejuvenated by Spring weather. This renders medicine more effective. A short course of Peruna, assisted by the balmy air of Spring, will cure old, stubborn cases of catarrh that have resisted treatment for years. Everybody should have a copy of Dr. Hartman's latest book on catarrh.

With healthy mucous membranes climatic diseases lose their terror, the system is enabled to throw off contagion and health inevitably follows.

MISS BERTHA M. RUSH, OF PITTSBURG. Miss Rush Suffered With Systemic Catarrh—Was Nervous, Had No Appetite, Grew Thin and Emaciated. She Now Looks Like a New Woman After a Course of Pe-ru-na.

Miss Bertha M. Rush, 545 Kincardie street, Pittsburg, Pa., Superintendent Junior Society of Methodist Protestant Church, and leading soprano of the choir, writes: "Words cannot describe my thankfulness to you for Peruna. I was a sufferer from systemic catarrh for years and was in a very much run-down condition. I was extremely nervous and had the most foolish fears over nothing. I was thin and emaciated. My physician advised me to leave this climate, but as it was not convenient to do so at this time, I took the advice of a friend to use a bottle of Peruna. I took it faithfully and when the first bottle was gone I felt so much better that I bought six more and took them faithfully, after which I looked like a new woman."

I gained in flesh, my appetite returned and all my old symptoms had disappeared. I am more than thankful to Peruna. My physician advised me to leave this climate, but as it was not convenient to do so at this time, I took the advice of a friend to use a bottle of Peruna. I took it faithfully and when the first bottle was gone I felt so much better that I bought six more and took them faithfully, after which I looked like a new woman."

A Prominent Wisconsin Club Woman Gives Grateful Thanks to Pe-ru-na. ANNOYING SYMPTOMS.

"Peruna Cured Me After Using Only Seven Bottles."—Mrs. M. S. Rogers.

Peruna is Known in All Parts of the Civilized World. Nowhere in the United States is There to Be Found a Household That Has Not Heard of Peruna, and Very Few Indeed Have Not Some Time or Other Used It. Peruna is Now Acknowledged to Be a Shield Against the Microorganisms of Catarrh and a Remedy for All Forms of Catarrhal Diseases. It Ought to Be in Every House.

Mrs. M. S. ROGERS. "I Feel Like a Different Woman Now and Am Never Troubled With Any Catarrhal Symptoms."

Mrs. M. S. Rogers, Vice-President of Neenah Mothers' Club, Wisconsin, writes:

"For years I was troubled with catarrh of the head and did not know what was the matter with me. I was rarely without a headache over my eyes, and when I took cold my head stopped up. The discharge from my head was very obnoxious, my breath was bad and I was miserable for months."

"A friend suggested that I try Peruna, and as I had heard of it before, I gladly did so. My experience was the same as many others who have used it. Cured me after using only seven bottles. I feel like a different woman now, and am never troubled with headaches, nor offensive breath, nor any of the evils resulting from catarrh."

TURNS TO MILES Hill Desires That He Be Mate of Parker.

MOVE TO SATISFY THE WEST Might Be Lukewarm, Since Judge Is Close to Capital—Ex-Senator Is Believed to Have Received Assurances From General.

ALBANY, N. Y., May 14.—(Special.)—The report is current among the big politicians here tonight that Senator D. B. Hill has opened communication with General Nelson A. Miles, with a view to the latter accepting second place on the National Democratic ticket with Judge Parker.

It is said Judge Parker is popular in the East and South, but that he is not well known in the West, and there might be some lukewarmness because of his supposed close connection with the moneyed interests of the East. The plan is to counteract this by nominating General Miles as his running-mate. It is argued that the splendid military record of Miles appeals strongly to the West and South, where the people are anxious to average what they call a slight infliction upon a gallant soldier by President Roosevelt.

So far as could be learned tonight, ex-Senator Hill has not received an answer from General Miles, but it is said assurances were practically given that he would consider the proposition favorably.

HEARST EXPLAINS HIS POSITION All He Wants is Democrats Who Have Been Such for 20 Years.

WASHINGTON, May 14.—William R. Hearst will support the nominee of the St. Louis Democratic Convention, whoever he may be. He today authorized the Washington Post to make this statement unequivocally. He ridiculed a story sent from Albany that he and Mr. Bryan, Arthur Brisbane, Weaver, of Iowa, and others were planning a huge bolt and the formation of a new party. He said he had been making his fight for the nomination in the name of progressive Democracy, but his fight had been within party lines and would continue to be so. Whatever the result, he intended personally and through his newspapers to support the regular ticket.

"I am for the St. Louis nominee," said Mr. Hearst to the Post. Having uttered that plain spoken sentence, he added, with a smile: "I should, of course, like any other man, be honored and gratified should the Democrats see fit to nominate me. I have supported the Democratic ticket in the last five campaigns. I supported Cleveland three times and Bryan twice. I intend to support the nominee of the party at St. Louis, whoever he may be. I have not been able to deny all the foolish things that have been said about me. I have not even kept up with all that has been said. But all the foolish things that are 'foolish' than all the rest," and Mr. Hearst indulged in a hearty laugh at the new adjective he had coined.

He has been making my fight for the nomination in the name of progressive Democracy," he said. "I have been making my fight on party lines."

An inquiry was made about the significance of the several contesting Hearst delegations over the country. "Every State Convention of both parties has contesting delegates," said Mr. Hearst. "Contests do not mean that bolting will follow. Some of my friends have instituted contests for delegates. In certain cases contests have been instituted by my friends, in entire sincerity on their part, which I would not have sanctioned had the matter come to my knowledge in time. But these contests can be settled in the usual way, as they are settled in every National Convention. Please make it plain that I stand for the verdict of loyal Democrats, men who have been loyal to the party and have not been Democrats at pleasure. I am for the man who has been Democrats consistently for 20 years."

Will Not Have to Give Up Ballots. DENVER, May 14.—The State Supreme Court today set aside and vacated the writ of mandamus issued by District Judge John M. H. Jones, in the election commission to deliver today to the election judge representing the Democratic and anti-Wolcott Republican parties, the ballots and other supplies for the election in this city next Tuesday. In the argument, attorneys for the Springer Republican ticket contended that the purpose of the mandamus was to allow the election judges to ret the ballots in time to write them up and stuff the ballot boxes before the polls open.

Democrats Give Place to Gaston. BOSTON, May 14.—William A. Gaston, of this city, who was the Democratic candidate for Governor of Massachusetts in the last two elections, was chosen unanimously today as the Massachusetts member of the Democratic National Committee. The action was taken at a meeting of the state delegates to the National Convention. The present member is George Freed Williams.

Nominated for Congress. Twelfth Michigan District—H. Olin Young, Republican, renominated.

EX-PREMIER FAST IMPROVING M. Waldeck-Rousseau Will Be Able Shortly to Leave Paris.

PARIS, May 14.—Ex-Premier Waldeck-Rousseau continues to improve. Unless new complications develop, it is hoped that he will be able to leave Paris shortly for the country.

Come to Portland Two Days Earlier. OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washington, May 14.—On Senator Mitchell's request, the Navy Department today directed that the battleships Wyoming and the destroyers Preble and Paul Jones arrive in Portland June 2, instead of June 4. This is to allow them to be present during the carnival.

FRENCH FEARS RISE Her Confidence in Russian Success Is Diminishing.

ARMY'S STRENGTH DECEIVING Experts Now Conclude Kuropatkin Has Only 200,000 Men, but Continue to Believe He Is Working to Get Japanese Inland.

PARIS, May 14.—French confidence in Russian prowess is much shaken as a result of the recent developments concerning the weakness of General Kuropatkin's land forces. The early Japanese successes were accepted as merely preliminary, it being believed by the officials and publishers generally that Kuropatkin was concentrating a vast force, approximately 400,000 men, which, eventually, would annihilate the smaller Japanese army.

The military experts of the Figaro and other leading journals, have sought to demonstrate that Kuropatkin's success was a mathematical certainty on the grounds that his force was four times greater than that of the Japanese. But the reports of the last ten days have shown a constant shrinkage of Kuropatkin's army, until now it is generally accepted in official circles that he has not over 200,000 men, including those locked up at Port Arthur and in other garrisons.

The announcement that the Russian Commander has put off taking the offensive until July in order to secure reinforcements adds to the belief that his strength has heretofore been greatly overestimated. However, the officials and the public generally continue to believe that Kuropatkin is working a strategic plan, attracting the Japanese far inland, where ultimately he will overwhelm them.

Veterans Discuss Campaign. The feeling of confidence, however, is steadily diminishing. General Brugere, head of the French army, called recently on General Fortier, the United States Ambassador, and the two veterans went over the Manchurian campaign from the standpoint of French and American military.

They agreed that much would depend upon the topography of the country between Mukden and Harbin, owing to the part artillery will play in commanding the passage of rocky defiles. During the discussion, it was suggested that a Russian campaign somewhat similar to General Lee's campaign in Virginia probably would be the most effective means of stopping the Japanese advance.

Official advice received here today says there is an enormous congestion of military forces near Irkutsk, Siberia, owing to the inability of the troops to cross Lake Baikal, the floating ice still preventing passage of the boats, and a detour round the foot of the lake requiring seven days. Therefore, a large force is held back until it is possible to cross the lake. It is the main belief here that these troops may sufficiently augment General Kuropatkin's strength to permit him to take the offensive.

HARD FIGHT WITH DESPERADO Officer Beats Him Badly, but Not Until He Has Shot Sergeant.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., May 14.—Police Sergeant Gibson was fatally shot by Sol Temple, the Oklahoma desperado, on the street tonight. Temple was captured after a hard fight with Patrolman Grable, who beat the desperado almost to death with his own gun. Temple stole a team of horses and was arrested by Sergeant Gibson.

MORE GOLD IS ENGAGED. Steamer Sailing From New York Tuesday Will Carry $10,500,000.

NEW YORK, May 14.—An engagement of $2,000,000 of gold at the Assay Office for shipment to Paris, on Tuesday's steamer, was announced today, but the name of the shipper was withheld. This brings the total, thus far announced, for Tuesday up to $9,500,000, of which $2,500,000 is by shippers whose names are refused. Including this total of $9,500,000 for next Tuesday, the aggregate amount of gold shipped to Europe from this port since April 7 is in excess of $30,000,000.

San Francisco Sends Much Gold. NEW YORK, May 14.—The treasury has paid to banks $2,191,000 on telegraphic orders against a deposit of imported Japanese yen at the San Francisco mint. The total amount of gold sent from San Francisco to New York since the first of the year is $21,700,000.

man he criticises takes it good-naturedly and rather enjoys it. He had prepared a speech, but he could not hold himself to it tonight. Temple was captured after a hard fight with Patrolman Grable, who beat the desperado almost to death with his own gun.

The first duty of an organization like this is to bury local pessimism. When the people of a community are of a fault-finding disposition or find too many enemies or more letters bar against the progress of their home city, which in many cases dims the ardor, enthusiasm and patriotism of the more progressive citizens.

His Method in Operation. Then he referred to 10,000 copies of the Lewis and Clark Exposition booklet "Oregon," prepared by Henry E. Reed, which had been sent to the club, and called attention to blanks which he had sent to the members to be filled in with the names and addresses of persons to whom letters wished matter relating to Portland and Oregon to be sent. At the foot of the blank is "I came from" (city), (state), (years ago), and then follow the member's name and address. He said on this subject:

"This is the first time in my public career that I ever drew a blank. I got two of these this afternoon, but none tonight. That shows a horrible dereliction of public spirit which is almost criminal. I am going to have these blanks filled in if I have to make a canvass among you. If you can't write, we will furnish somebody to do it for you, but we want the names."

He went on to tell how every one of the 25,000 boys and girls in the city could help by writing a letter to their relatives in the East and sending them a copy of this booklet, or, better still, writing a letter to the old home paper. Only about 25 per cent of the people of the city were native-born and the newcomers could be made workers for the city by having meetings of the former residents of the different states and through interesting news items and a reason for the publication of facts about Portland. Children should be taught facts about their own city and state and the club could offer a cash prize for the best article on Portland and Oregon published in a newspaper outside of Portland. The Club would see that the traveling business men from Portland were interviewed in other cities and that their presence was noted in their trade papers. It would furnish letters of introduction to its members visiting in other cities, so that they could call on the officers of similar organizations and tell them what Portland is doing. He told of many other ways in which publicity for Portland would be secured.

Get Convention and Factories. "It isn't millionaires that we want; we want plenty of them," said he, looking around on his audience of men with big bank accounts; "it's plain, ordinary characters of all kinds. The impression is abroad that Portland has no use for the people of the country which has made it rich. This is not so, but you stay at home and only send out your drummers, never going out to see the people yourself."

He said they wanted to organize the Pacific Coast to get all the conventions in 1905 which meet in St. Louis in 1904, saying: "The convention habit is a habit of the American people. It is a habit that a large committee should take charge of the American Mining Congress, saying that great good could be done by getting on the inside of the congress. Delegations should be sent out to organize the country towns, as had been done by New Orleans in organizing the four states immigration League of 100 such local organizations. An End to Pessimism.

"You've got to get down off your dignity," he said. "You've got to learn that a man who says a word against his city is just as much a traitor as one who will not fight for his country. It's a habit you've got into. You meet a man on the street and remark on the fine weather, and he will say: 'Yes, but we had a hell of a lot of rain last winter.'"

He told how to secure the establishment of new factories without subsidies or bonus, which he strongly condemned, and in response to a call from the chair several of them made brief speeches pledging their approval and co-operation in the new departure.

With one voice Benjamin I. Cohen, Whitney L. Boise, J. Frank Watson, A. H. Devers, Colonel Irwin Mahon, Walter Burrell, Ellis G. Hughes, W. H. Corbett and E. M. Brannick approved the new movement and the choice of the man to carry it out. Then on motion of Mr. Boise a rising vote of thanks was extended to Mr. Richardson.

AMERICAN HELD IN RUSSIA. Citizen of Wisconsin in Trouble Over Becoming Naturalized.

CHELLEBINSK, Russia, May 14.—Morris Kleiman, a native of Russia, but a citizen of Wisconsin, has been placed under arrest here, charged with violation of article 325 of the penal code.

Law Under Which He is Held. ST. PETERSBURG, May 14.—Article 325 of the penal code, under which Kleiman is held at Chellebinsk, provides that whoever absents himself from the fatherland and enters the service of another allegiance to a foreign state without the government's permission, is liable to deprivation of civil rights and perpetual banishment from the confines of the empire, or in the event of his return without permission, to transportation to Siberia. The second portion of this article is only applicable when a person has been properly tried and condemned for its violation by a competent court. It was at first reported here that Kleiman was held as a spy, and the attention of the Foreign Office was called thereto. The government is now investigating the matter. Russia has no naturalization treaty with the United States and the State Department, while it has remonstrated on several occasions, has recognized that where a naturalized Russian returns voluntarily to the jurisdiction of the Emperor, he is subject to the laws of Russia. If it develops that Kleiman expatriated himself with the consent of Russia, of course, he is not subject to the penalties provided for by article 325. In any case unless there is something more behind the arrest, the government probably will release the man. It is understood that Kleiman represented an American agricultural company. His passport is said to have been issued in Washington in 1901, although there is nothing definite on this point.

BRITAIN MAY BE INVOLVED. Brazil Stops Vessel She Alleges Is Carrying Ammunition for Peru.

WASHINGTON, May 14.—It is possible that Great Britain may become involved in the threatened clash between Brazil and Peru. United States Minister Thompson cables the State Department today from Petropolis that Brazilian officers yesterday stopped a British ship at Manaus while she was making her way up the Amazon River on the ground that she had aboard 300 cases of ammunition destined for the Peruvian military forces in the upper river country, the possession of which is now a subject of dispute between Brazil and Peru. As there has been no declaration of war, it is expected that the British government will enter a protest against the stoppage of the ship as illegal.
