TEACH AND LIVE

Pedagogues Save Little for Old Age.

PRINCIPALS LOOK UP DATA

Plea for Increase in Compensation by School Boards.

APPEAL BACKED BY FIGURES

Showing From Reports of Twenty-Three Teachers From Widely Separated Points in Fifteen Counties of the State.

SALEM, Or., May 14.—(Special).—That the public school teacher in Oregon can save on an average only $4.86 per month out of his salary is the information the Marion County Principals' Association has gathered after careful inquiry. This is $52.20 per year.

The association has undertaken to show that public school teachers are not paid salaries large enough to enable them to live in a manner fitting to their profession and at the same time save money to support them in their old age. The facts have been gathered and placed before the people and school officers of Oregon with the hope that the figures will lead to an increase in salaries.

The Principals' Association has had the subject of salaries under consideration for some time, and it was agreed that the compensation of teachers is too low. After a discussion of ways and means it was decided that the best way to reach the directors is through an argument backed up by figures showing incomes and expenses.

"We submit," say the educational workers, "that in return for good service the school districts should pay fair wages. School teachers should not be expected to work for a mere living from year to year, with no opportunity to save something for the time when they will be too old to work. If, therefore, we are able to show that with present salaries and the present cost of living the average teacher cannot save a reasonable sum out of his salary, we can then justly claim that the compensation of teachers should be increased."

son town on a salary of $105.00 per month. He receives $50 per year for nine months' work, or $7.15 per calendar month. The items of his expense are:

Board	$2.00
Laundry	1.00
Clothing	1.00
Reading matter	3.00
Churches and charities	2.00
Amusements and institutes	1.00
Car fare and travel	1.00
Recreation and Summer outing	1.00
Health and medicine	1.15
Incidentals	1.00
Total expense per calendar month	65.00
Saving per calendar month	18.90
Saving per year	188.90

The lowest expense per calendar month was reported by a woman teacher mentioned above, who drew the smallest salary and lived on $44.70 per month.

The largest net saving reported was by a man who drew a salary of $100 per month for nine months, giving him an income of $900 per year, of $3 per month. The items of his expenses were as follows:

Board and lodging	$22.00
Laundry	3.00
Clothing	1.00
Reading matter	2.00
Churches and charity	1.00
Amusements and institutes	2.00
Car fare and travel	3.50
Recreation and Summer outing	1.00
Health and medicine	2.00
Incidentals	1.00
Total expense per calendar month	51.25
Saving per calendar month	38.75
Saving for the year	388.00

Nothing to Show for Year's Work.

In addition to these figures gathered from teachers in different sections of the state, the committee secured reports from 21 teachers in Marion County, some in city or village schools, and some in rural schools. Out of this number 11 reported that they are unable to save anything at the end of the calendar year. The averages computed from the reports of these 21 teachers are as follows:

Income—Salary per school month	$43.77
Months employed	7.07
Salary for the year	$310.47
Salary per calendar month	25.19
Expenses per calendar month	12.50
Board and lodging	$11.75
Laundry	1.25
Clothing	1.25
Newspapers, books, etc.	7.25
Churches and charity	3.25
Amusements and institutes	1.75
Car fare and travel	1.44
Recreation and outing	1.23
Health and medicine	1.22
Incidentals	1.51
Total expenses	27.06
Saving per calendar month	2.28
Saving per year	27.36

Clothing and Board.

In both the statistics from all over the state and from over Marion County the expenses for clothing vary widely. The highest report for clothing is $11 per month, the amount reported by a man in Southern Oregon. Women teachers report an expense of from $4 to $8 for clothing, though one Willamette Valley teacher placed her expenses for clothing as low as $2 per month. The highest clothing account reported by a woman teacher was $10 per month. One man kept his clothing account down to $2.50 per month.

Board and lodging runs all the way from $10 to $22 per month. Nothing is said in the reports on the question whether the men have families to support, but it appears that if they do they are charging up only the cost of their own living. Out of the 21 teachers who reported from different portions of the state, nine were men and 12 women.

In presenting these statistics gathered from the teachers the committee relies principally upon the averages given above as making a fair presentation of the incomes and expenses of the teachers of the public schools. If anyone entertains the opinion that the expenses are too high, the committee asks the question: "Which item of expense would you reduce or cut out entirely?"

If the expense account is acknowledged to be reasonable, the committee inquires: "Should public school teachers be asked to work for the wages now paid, in view of the small savings that can be made upon such an income?"

INDIANS MAY HAVE STOLEN.

Bakers Incurred Displeasure of Redmen From North.

SEATTLE, Wash., May 14.—(Special).—A demand was made today that $500 be used for the return of Brewster Baker, the son of R. D. Baker, who disappeared a week ago from the Baker family's Summer home on Bainbridge Island. A meeting at Ballard to arrange details was insisted upon.

The theory that Indians may have been responsible for the disappearance of the boy was strengthened today by the discovery of the fact that a large number of British Columbia Indians fishing in Port Orchard on the coast of the island have gone. A year ago a party of British Columbia Indians demanded food from the Bakers, and when refused one of their party threatened vengeance. The Indians returned this year, a part of them going to Eagle Harbor while others fished in Dog Fish Bay and Browne's Bay, inlets from Port Orchard.

These Indians were about the island at the time the child disappeared, but have gone away since and no trace has been found of them. The Indian Agent at Madison reservation baser on a trust of employe to investigate among the Indians and learn whether the boy was taken away with the red men. Two detectives today completed a tour of the mainland from Seattle, but could find nothing to substantiate the theory that the boy was held by Indians near Eagle Harbor.

A systematic search of the beach about Bainbridge Island will be made Sunday by a big force of men, divided into parties that will work while the tide is out. The waters are to be dragged and it is expected the drowning theory will be thoroughly satisfied by the investigation.

IRRIGATION IN UMATILLA.

Seattle Capital Heavily Interested in Project.

SEATTLE, Wash., May 14.—(Special).—A syndicate of capitalists in which Seattle men are heavily interested, is preparing to put through a deal for irrigating 14,000 acres of land in Umatilla County, Oregon. The promoters of the scheme are Joseph F. McNaught, of Seattle; R. R. Lowell, of Pendleton, Or., and George S. Hankin, of North Yakima. The land lies in the Maxwell and Cold Springs basins, close to the O. R. & N.

An engineering report just submitted shows the plan contemplates the use of the waters of the Umatilla River.

Marking Teachers' Papers.

OLYMPIA, Wash., May 14.—(Special).—The work of marking manuscripts from the May teachers' examination will begin in the State Superintendent's office next Monday. It is expected that the number of applicants will be greater than at any previous examination, but it is stated at the Superintendent's office that the work of issuing certificates will be completed within 30 days.

Income and Outgo.

The averages computed from the reports of the 23 teachers will show approximately the income and the expenses of the teachers of the state. The averages are as follows:

Income—Salary per month	$31.15
Months employed	7.07
Salary for the calendar year	220.47
Salary per calendar month	35.78
Expenses per calendar month	14.48
Board and lodging	14.48
Laundry	1.25
Clothing	1.25
Newspapers and books	1.18
Churches and charity	1.22
Amusements, entertainments and institutes	1.22
Car fare and travel	1.36
Recreation and Summer outing	1.00
Health and medicine	1.24
Incidentals	2.89
Total expense per calendar month	35.99
Net gain per month	4.66
Net gain per year	55.92

Computation for Twelve Months.

As will be observed, the salary for the school year has been distributed over the entire 12 months, and no account is taken of anything the teacher may earn during the vacation period. The view the teachers take is that the salaries they earn in six months or nine months must keep them for 12 months, and in computing their income per month they divide their income for the year by 12. From this monthly income they deduct their expenses for a month.

How this manner of computing affects the amount of the monthly salary will be readily apparent. For example, a teacher drawing $30 per school month for six months has a total income of $180, or $15 per month for the calendar year. The teacher reporting this salary, the lowest mentioned, pays $10 for board, $3.50 for clothing and $1.30 for all other expenses, making a total of $14.70 per calendar month, leaving a saving of $3.00 for the year out of six months' salary. This teacher was a lady and charged up nothing for laundry, and only a few cents each for the other items on the list other than those of board and clothing.

The highest expense account reported by any teacher was $65 per month, by a man who is a principal in a Southern Ore-
