SOCIETY

The social world of Portland has been a topic of the press, occasionally with the mention of the names of many prominent families. The social events of the past week have been characterized by elegance and hospitality. The season of social gatherings is still in full swing, and the inhabitants of the city are enjoying the pleasures of the season.

The dinner given by Mrs. J. S. Bowers was a gathering of the social elite of the city. The elegant setting and the delicious food made the evening a memorable one. Mrs. Bowers, a hostess par excellence, welcomed her guests with grace and charm.

The dinner was followed by a dance, and the guests enjoyed the music and the dance floor. The evening concluded with the departure of the guests, leaving the hosts and hostesses with the satisfaction of a successful social event.

The wedding of Miss Ruby Lewis and Mr. Charles Wright was a beautiful occasion. The ceremony was conducted at the church of St. Paul's, and the wedding party consisted of the bride, groom, and a number of close family members.

The wedding was followed by a reception at the home of the bride's parents. The guests enjoyed the refreshments and the conversation, and the evening concluded with a dance.

The season of social gatherings is still in full swing, and the inhabitants of the city are enjoying the pleasures of the season.
