Only two pacers entered the free-for-all pace, Miss Hudson's Ben Bolt and W. E. Allison's Atlas. Mr. Lohmire and Ed Geniry drave the sidewheelers, and it was a splendid horse race. Ben Bolt won and the trophy, the directors' cup. It was the fastest mile traveled during the day, the pacers making the journey in 2:19.

Barnato Wins Half-Mile Run. The half-mile running race went to Barnato, ridden by R. H. Jenkins, E. B. Tongue's Bill Balley was second, and Laurette, ridden by T. H. Tongue, was third. Laurette, who is celebrating her 19th birthuny, had decidedly the worst of the racing luck in this event, because she was pulled up almost to a walk by Mr. Tongue, who thought that the field had not been sent away. The game old mare was out in front and well in her stride when she was pulled up, and before Mr. Tongue could get her moving again, Mr. Jenkins shot Barnato to the front, and he was never headed. Bill Bailey, however, gave the winner a hard tussel after they had rounded in for the stretch, but he could not quite get up. The half-mile was Monday. run in 0:53

marcago, with E. M. Lazartus up, won the mile and one-quarter race. J. N. Coghian's Humbert, ridden by Will G. MacRae, was second, and F. W. Leadbet-ter's Racivou, ridden by E. T. Chase, was third. This race was by all odds the pret tlest race of the day. All three of the horses, with Marengo a neck in front, ran almost the whole distance so close to-gether that a blanket could have covered them. Marengo had the race well in hand throughout, and won by half a length. Humbert, one of the gamest little horses that ever a log was thrown over, hung on the the big sorrel son of Coloma, and had he been up to his race of June 2, when he traveled the same distance and won over the sticks, he would have given Marengo a harder race. The little horse was short, but he traveled the route as gamely as a lion. Racivou was not up to his race. In the final sixteenth he made a bld to come on, but Mr. Chase could not get him up. Marengo has run many a race during his career, but it is safe to say that he never ran better or was better ridden than he was yesterday by Mr. Lazarus. The time, 2.5%, was almost three seconds slower than Humbert ran his hurdle race in, but, considering the may in which the treat it.

considering the way in which the track had been cut up by the harness races, the time was remarkably good.

Increase in Desert Entries.

WALLA WALLA, Wash., July 1 -- (Special.)-Homestead entries to the number of 194 were filed at the local Land Office during the quarter ended yesterday, and 29 final proofs were made. This is about the average business for the office, although several years ago, during the land boom nearly twice the business would be done

In a like period. The number of desert entries was larger than usual, perhaps on account of the interest in the Pasco district, where it has been announced the Government will ald in irrigating a large belt of arid land from the Palouse River, an immense ditch now being planned to carry the water a dis-

James Whalen is Touched Up for 15 Hits and Roach for 14.

James Whalen, drawing salary from Henry Harris as a pitcher, and who, by the way, lost his first game since the Seals took the road, came in for a trimming yesterday afternoon, and the Dugs best him 11 to 8. They also jolted his curves 15 times. Roach came in for a trouncing and during the en-gagement was hit 14 times. Louis Louis Castro was the bright and shining star He hit for a triple and was the busi-ness end of three out of the four double plays which the locals pulled off during the game. The score:

Robert Chitton, who was playing poker in a rear room, heard the command of the robbers, and slipping out of the rear door, ran to the police station, where he notified the officers. Sergeant Robert J. Hannah and a special officer immediately started for the scene of the holdup. The special officer went down First avenue in order to reach the front of the saloon while Sergeant Hannah went down an alley in an effort to head off the robbers. He had proceeded but a short distance down the alley when he met the holdups who commanded him to throw up his hands. He did not comply with this request, and both men opened fire on him One of the robbers shot him through the stomach with a revolver, while the other fired a shotgun charge into him at short range, tearing a gaping hole in the officers' side large enough to insert an arm, killing him almost instantly. The night bartender of the Owl saloot suspected James and Ed O'Grady of be-ing the holdups, and at once confided his suspicions to the Sheriff. The bartender recognized the voices of the men, and was positive they were the holdups. He declared that Jim O'Grady entered the salcon a moment before the holdup and looked about the place in a peculiar man-ner. He then left the place and gave the should be better a sale of the place and gave the signal, the barkeeper says, to his brother Ed and a man named Mozier, who entered the saloon with guns leveled. Ed O'Grady and Mozier fired five shots at the Sheriff when he cornered them at their home, and then leaped from the win-Posses are now pursuing the two men who will be lynched if caught. The O'Grady brothers and Mozier are wellknown rounders of town, having lived in

Noted Character in Montana.

BUTTE, Mont., July 2.-In the death of BUTTE, Mont., July 2.—in the death of Charles Lane, in a miserable shack at Red Lodge, Mont., one of the most nota-ble characters in Southern Montana has been removed. Lane was one of the plo-neer mining men of the Northwest, and was a familiar figure in many of the old mining camps of Montana. At one time Lane was wealthy, but his end came in poverty, the old prospector dying a vic-tim to the drug habit. Lane at one time was a Government tim to the drug habit. Lane at one time was a Government acout in Colorado and Nebraska, being well known in circles about Dendwood, where he mined for a while. Lane's relatives live in New Jersey, and are reputed to be quite wealthy.
