About 60 labor unions are now involved in the struggle in Chicago.

CHICAGO, Aug. 6.—The stockyards strikers forgot their animosities and troubles today long enough to join in a peaceable demonstration, the first since the strike was called, nearly four weeks ago. In a street parade several miles in length fully 25,000 strikers and their families encircled the stockyards district, marching to music from a dozen bands. The demonstration ended with a picnic at Oswald's Grove, where addresses were made by prominent labor leaders.

While these events were in progress there was peace and quiet around the big packing-plants at the stockyards. Even the question of extending the strike by involving the teamsters was held in abeyance. The committee of the Allied Trades Unions, which was appointed to take the question of the strike to the truck and coal teamsters' met early in the day, but adjourned owing to the merry-making.

The question of shutting off the ice supply at the yards will also wait until Monday because of the picnic, the conference which was to have taken place between President Donnelly, of the striking butchers' union, and the officers of the ice-warehousemen's union being postponed.

Packers Hard at Work.
While the strikers were at their sport the packers kept up their work of killing and shipping. The usual number of nonunion men were received at the different plants and put to work. Country butchers were numerous among today's arrivals, and in a statement issued by the packers tonight it is asserted that a few more days like today will put them in such a position that it will not be necessary to add to the forces of the butchering and casing departments.

The run on the Drovers' Trust & Savings Bank came to an end today. Several small depositors withdrew their money from the bank, but by noon the run was over. The police are endeavoring to discover the identity of the persons who were responsible for the circulation of anonymous letters and circulars which caused the run on the institution.

Banks Pay All Coffers.

CHICAGO, Aug. 6.—When the doors of the Drovers' Trust & Savings Bank were opened today about 150 persons were in line to withdraw deposits, continuing the run begun on the bank yesterday. Vice-President W. A. Tilden said:

"We are prepared for every emergency. This demand so little bothers us that it merely shows our financial strength. We will say that we expect to make two large loans today."

Police were again on hand to prevent confusion. The bank was crowded and many persons formed in line on the sidewalk outside waiting to withdraw funds.

Discovery was made today that anonymous letters containing the principal medium used to bring about the run, were written on the stationery of the Hotel Windmere, and in some suggest strongly that the run was brought about as an attack upon Edward Tilden, brother of the vice-president of the bank. Edward Tilden is at the head of the Libby, McNeil & Libby Packing Company.

Ice Question In Abeyance.

CHICAGO, Aug. 6.—Consideration of the question of calling out truck companies and other hauling meat from cold-storage warehouses and of formally forbidding delivery of ice to dealers handling meat from the combination packers was again postponed today by the executive committee of the allied trades. It was decided that nothing could be done with the teamsters' problem until the return of the teamsters' union officials Monday from Cincinnati, where they are in convention. The action taken then will depend largely on the attitude assumed by the ice teamsters' organization.

Militia for Police Duty.

SIOUX CITY, Ia., Aug. 6.—Sheriff Jackson, unable to secure enough deputies for the strike district here, will use part of the militia company for police duty. As a result of last night's disturbances, the Cudahy Company will press the suit in the Federal Court for an injunction to restrain the strikers.

Butcher Company Attached.

NEW YORK, Aug. 6.—The Sheriff's office has received an attachment for $25,000 against the United Butcher Company, a Delaware corporation, with offices in this city and three factories in Massachusetts, in favor of Theodore M. Pos on a note of the company which went to protest a few days ago. The company was incorporated in June, 1902, with a capital stock of $2,000,000, and is a combination of three of the largest ivory manufacturers of the United States.

BOXERS GIVING TROUBLE.

French Reinforcements Are Being Hurried to Tonquin.

PARIS, Aug. 6.—The general commanding the French forces in Tonquin, French Indo-China, having represented that the frontier posts are insufficiently guarded and asked for 800 men. The government has decided to send reinforcements, of which a contingent will sail from Marseilles tomorrow.

A thousand men will depart on the next steamer, and further reinforcements are expected to leave France later. The reinforcements are intended to overawe the Boxers, who are contemplating a rising.

Tonquin, Tonkin or Tongking is the northern division of the kingdom of Annam, forming an integral part of French Indo-China. It borders on the two southernmost provinces of China, namely Kwangsi and Kwangtung.

It was announced early in July that French troops were mobilized in the borders of Kwangsi and that the Chinese Viceroy of that province had telegraphed to Peking for instructions. The government at the Chinese capital, it was added, replied that he was to take all possible precautions against a French invasion, but to make no trouble.

The French officials asserted that this concentration of troops was necessary to protect the overland trade against raids by the Chinese outlaws, owing to rebellion in the Province of Kwangsi. The French government threatened to send troops across the border and put it down.

This report, however, was subsequently denied from Peking. The French legation there emphatically repudiated the idea. It was pointed out that the French troops in Kwangsi, though serious from a Chinese point of view, caused no uneasiness to the French, the disturbance being in the northern part of Kwangsi and not near French territory. This was the situation early in July. On July 27, however, it was announced from Peking that the Chinese were once more alarmed at the size of the French force in Kwangsi, which has been the scene of famine and disaffection.

Orders had then recently issued for the arrest of one of the imperial commanders, Brigadier-General Tzu Shen Wu, but he heard of the intention of the government authorities and promptly went over to the rebels. As Tzu Shen Wu is a graduate of the Peking Military College and was trained by foreign instructors, his defection added to the anxiety of the Chinese government.

When questioned on the subject of the threatening situation in Southern China, the authorities at Peking declared that they were competent to check the rebellion, and added that the reports that France had again threatened armed intervention in Kwangsi were quite suppressed were baseless. The Chinese government further pointed out that the attitude of the French government toward China in her recent and present difficulties in the provinces bordering on French Indo-China, had been both sympathetic and friendly.

FRENCH PUBLIC UNINTERESTED

Anti-Ministerialists Make No Capital Out of Break With the Vatican.

PARIS, Aug. 6.—The continued hot weather intensifies the disinterest of the public in the quarrel between the capital, which is not obliged to remain at the capital has fled to the seaside and fashionable spas.

The efforts of the anti-ministerial party to make political capital out of the Roman question are falling very flat, the public sympathy taking apparently little interest in the revolutions of the details which led up to the final break. The conviction is spreading that Premier Combes will make a determined effort to obtain the abolition of the concordat when Parliament reassembles, but possibilities two months hence do not arouse excitement at present.

Bacon, the harbor engineer and hydrographic surveyor of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway Company, stationed at Port Arthur, that his case will be dropped by the government. The message, which has been received from Mr. Bacon, is dated Montreal, to which place he proceeded to contest the warrant for his arrest and deportation.

MINERS MAKE REPLY

Governor Peabody Blamed With Colorado's Troubles.

LABOR DOES NOT DEFEY COURTS

Western Federation President Says Members of His Organization Have Always Been Ready to Stand Trial on Charges Brought.

DENVER, Aug. 6.—A reply to Governor James H. Peabody's explanation of his course in connection with labor troubles in this state was made today by President Charles H. Moyer, and Secretary-Treasurer William D. Haywood, of the Western Federation of Miners. The Governor's charge that the press has been unfair in its comment on the situation in Colorado is controverted.

"The press has not used the bare knuckles of denunciation, but merely the padded gloves of reluctant criticism," declare the Federation officers.

"The shame, the reproach and ignominy which 'tarnish' the fair name of Colorado last at the door of the Executive Chamber of the State Capitol."

Replying to the Governor's assertion that he has waged war only against the Western Federation of Miners, and is friendly to other labor organizations, the Federation officers refer to the employment of troops to deport coalminers from Southern Colorado, and ask:

"If the Western Federation of Miners is the only lawless organization, then why did the hired uniformed mob, known as the Colorado National Guards, with your sanction and approval, deport and bully coal miners whose National organization boasts of a conservative Mitchell, and an organization which has not as yet proclaimed its indorsement of the principles of Socialism?"

"Ah, yes, beloved Peabody, you love organized labor so well that if you were Governor of Illinois the people of the Nation would be sure to have heard the crack of military rifles behind the stockades of the packing companies of Chicago."

The very fact that organized labor in every part of the United States, Canada and Old Mexico has thundered its denunciation against the executive of Colorado during the last few months, and tens of thousands of dollars have flowed into the treasury of the Western Federation of Miners disproves the charges of lawlessness manufactured by the packers and the rebellion."

"The Western Federation of Miners has at no time in all its history attempted to enter the courts. Its members, charged with crime have been willing to enter the sanctuary of a judicial tribunal and be tried by a jury of their peers. In all the trials that have been held in the State of Colorado during the present strike, where the membership has been charged with almost every perjury in the catalogue of crime, a jury has been brought in a verdict of acquittal."

"In the cases that were tried before the courts of Teller County the testimony 'was' bought and paid for by a mine-owners' association fastened the guilt of criminal salaried detectives, and when the cases of murder, conspiracy to murder and inciting to riot come before the courts in September the finger of guilt will point to the mine operators and the Citizens' Alliance."

"The 'holy of holies' with James Hamilton Peabody."

SPINAL CORD PATCHED UP.

Remarkable Operation on a Young Woman in Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 6.—Clara Nicholas, a young waitress, whose spinal cord was pierced by a bullet fired by a jealous sweetheart as she was leaving her place of employment in January, 1901, and who, it was believed, would be a helpless cripple as the result of her injury, has shown such wonderful improvement recently that it is thought she will be in a short time recovered completely.

After her injury, Miss Nicholas was taken to the hospital, where it was found that her spinal cord had been pierced by the bullet. She remained unconscious for a week, and the attending physicians expected her to die. An operation was decided upon, and the spinal cord was sewed together with gold threads.

For nearly two years Miss Nicholas lay helpless on a cot in the hospital, paralyzed from the waist down, and unable to move; but recently she has recovered feeling in her lower limbs, and is now able to stand alone and walk about the hospital with the aid of a device made expressly for her.
