Baker City.

The event of the week for Baker City was the old folks' reunion for Union and Baker Counties, which was held here Thursday. Three hundred and twenty-five old people between the ages of 65 and 102 years, were royally entertained by the citizens of Baker City. All men and women in Union and Baker Counties over 65 years of age were invited to the reunion.

This was the first time the people of Baker City have attempted to entertain the old people. The first two outings were at Sumpter, the fourth at Grande last year. Aside from the entertainment at the Baptist Church, the main thing was the banquet. This important department was under the management of Messrs. Donald, Lake, Carter and Ellis, who were assisted by Messdames Ames, Johnson, Wisdom, Imhaus, Postlethwait, Bowen, Erinkley, Saxton, Wisdom, Hand, Stuckell and Porter, and Misses Barton, Benson, Boreman, Hill, Swinger, Prescott, Canadian, Miller, Jackson, Kellough, Elmer, Klumbeck and Carter.

Among those who may be credited with a large share of the success of the whole affair are Hon. Joseph Barton and wife, Mrs. and Mrs. J. C. Manning, Mrs. Schalka, Mrs. McCoy, Mrs. Caviness, Mrs. Scriber, Mrs. Preston, Mrs. Couch, Mr. J. D. Slater, and Mr. Church, arrived on the noon train. They were met by the reception committee and the White Swan band. Conveyances were on hand to convey all the old folks to the Baptist Church, where the formal exercises were held.

Governor Chamberlain came in on the same train with the Union County visitors. The entertainment at the church was rather informal, with the Philharmonic Society; invocation by Rev. Dr. Bell; welcome by Mayor Carter; a brief address by the Governor; a recitation by Miss Lucy Edwards; an address by Dr. Bell; old songs by the Philharmonic Society; took up the time until the banquet was announced. The banquet was served in the National Guard Armory adjoining the church. The old people were served in the order of their class badges—white for all over 80, red for all over 70, and under 70, blue for all over 65 and under 70.

The oldest man present was Andrew Loahr, of Union County, who will be 102 years of age October 15, 1904, having been born in Canada in 1802. The oldest woman was Grandma Palmer, of Baker, who is 90 years of age.

All the old people over 80 were given the place of honor at the head table. As a special mark of respect, Governor Chamberlain, in the presence of the old people of the old people. The Governor and Grandfather Loahr occupied the places of honor at the head table. After the banquet, a number of prizes were awarded.

WEDDED AT HILLSBORO WEDNESDAY

MR. AND MRS. ELMER H. SMITH.

A very pretty wedding was celebrated at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Imbrie, of Hillsboro, Or., August 17, 1904, at high noon, when their eldest daughter, Miss Mary H., was united in marriage to Elmer H. Smith, of Long Beach, Wash., formerly of Portland. Rev. J. F. Day, of the Hillsboro Baptist Church, officiated, the ceremony being performed under a beautiful canopy of flowers. The house was beautiful in fern, Oregon grape, sweet peas and early Autumn leaves. The bride wore a gown of embroidered chiffon, over white silk, and carried a bouquet of white and pink roses. Mr. W. B. Hare, of Portland, was groomsmen. While the ceremony was being performed, Miss Mabel Ballard, of Seattle, played softly, "Oh, Promise Me." After the wedding party, consisting of about 50 relatives and friends, were seated to a delightful luncheon on the spacious veranda. Mr. and Mrs. Smith departed on the evening train for Long Beach, Wash., where they will be at home to their friends after September 15.

The groom is a well-known business man of Pacific County, Wash. The bride is very popular in Washington County, where she has a large acquaintance, having been a Deputy County Clerk for several years under her father's administration. She is a granddaughter of the late William Massey, a pioneer of 1843, and also of the late Robert Imbrie, well known all over the state.

hall on Grand avenue. The hall was prettily decorated in evergreens and red and white. An unusually large number of people were present to enjoy the evening's entertainment, which was in charge of Mrs. Max Skibbe, Mrs. Archibald, Miss Eva Goodman, Mrs. John McCann and Miss Magee.

A very pretty wedding took place in Roseman, Mont., at 8 o'clock on last Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Lucy Palmer, when her daughter, Ethel, was married to Mr. Thomas B. Leake. The rooms throughout the residence were beautifully decorated with sweet peas, the wedding ceremony being performed under an arch of sweet peas.

The bride was dressed in a beautiful gown of cream voile over taffeta silk, with a veil of maline. She carried a shower bouquet of bride roses. The bridesmaid was Miss Edith Houston. She wore a gown of pink crepe de chine, and carried a shower bouquet of pink sweet peas. Dr. Clyde Jump acted as best man, and Miss Grace Griffin played the bridesmaid's wedding march. Rev. W. Lewis, of the Episcopal Church, performed the ceremony. The bride was given away by her mother. A large reception was held at the conclusion of the ceremony, after which Mr. and Mrs. Leake departed on the midnight train for a two weeks' trip to Hunter Hot Springs, and upon their return they will reside in Roseman.

Salem.

Wednesday evening, August 17, at the First Congregational Church in this city, Miss Lois Cosbow was married to Mr. Charles E. Fuller. The ceremony was performed by Rev. William Heppie, of the Methodist Episcopal Church. Only relatives and close friends of the bride and groom were present. The bride was given away by her father, Mr. Frank Douglas. At the close of the ceremony Miss Calbreath played Mendelssohn's wedding march, while the guests repaired to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fuller, where a reception was held. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Cosbow, of this city, and a very popular member of Salem's younger social circle. The groom is a member of the grocery firm, Fuller & Douglas. After spending a few days at home in Salem.

Forest Grove.

Mr. Samuel Markoe, a pioneer of Washington County, celebrated his 86th birthday last Sunday, and a number of relatives gathered in his honor at the home of his daughter, Mrs. James Royal. Those present, among whom are children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren, of Mr. Markoe, were Mr. and Mrs. James Royal, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hays, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Markoe, Mr. and Mrs. William Quaker, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Douglas, Mrs. Rebecca Bunker, Mrs. Sellers, the Misses Oral and Page Gardner, Bertha Royal and Jessie Markoe, and Messrs. Lowell and Glenn Markoe and Fred Jones. A pretty home wedding occurred on Wednesday evening at the Hillside residence of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Curtis, when a reception was held. The bride is a daughter of Mr. Loren H. Watkins, of this city. The parlor was beautifully decorated with roses and ferns, and a large arch of Oregon grape, under which the bridal couple stood, while the ceremony was performed by Rev. J. E. Barber. The bride and groom are both well-known and popular young people, and will make their home in this city.

A pleasant vacation meeting of the Revival Club, which was well attended, was held on Tuesday afternoon, at the home of Mrs. W. O. McKinlay. A social time was enjoyed, and a miscellaneous program rendered, after which the club served light refreshments. As the club meets every alternate Tuesday, it will have the number of meetings in August.

Charles A. Patnead and Miss Blanch Kendall were married at the home of the bride's parents on Wednesday morning, the ceremony being performed by Justice of the Peace Pearson. Miss Jennie Linbeck and George Lup were the bridesmaids. The affair was very informal, only relatives and intimate friends being present. The newly wedded pair left for Olympia the same morning, where they will reside.

Mrs. J. C. Hogan entertained a six-handed supper on Wednesday afternoon, in honor of Mrs. William Eastman, of Portland. The house was profusely decorated with beautiful cut flowers, and the wide range of appetizing refreshments were made lovely in the same way. Some of the card tables were placed on the porch. The honors were carried off by Mrs. John Perry. Delicious refreshments were served, the hostess being assisted in serving by the Misses McKinlay, Harriet Hogan and Ethel McDermoth. About 60 guests were present.
