THE GENERAL PUBLIC, TOO! A PERFECT MODEL IN BAS-RELIEF OF THE PROPOSED PANAMA CANAL WILL BE GIVEN FREE TO A PORTLAND SCHOOL! ANOTHER SPLENDID EDUCA-TIONAL FEATURE proposed by this "Old Homestead" Store that has the interests of the younger generation at heart. Our Mr. Olds, senior member and president of this great home organization, during a recent trip East purchased from its maker, at considerable expense, a perfect papier-mache model of the proposed Panama Canal, now in process of building by the United States Government. This model is now on exhibi-Panama Canal, now in process of building by the United States Government. This model is now on exhibition in one of our large Fifth-street show windows. As an educational feature, its value cannot be overestimated. Mr. Olds' purpose in buying the model was to present it to some Portland School, and this purpose will be carried out by the firm. The school will be chosen by popular vote of the public. A vote will be given with every 25-cent purchase, and the school receiving the largest vote, starting tomorrow morning at 8 o'clock, and closing Wednesday evening, November 23, at 6 o'clock, will be awarded the model. The announcement will be made of the result of the voting in the papers of Thanksgiving day. Voting boxes will be placed about the store as in the Teachers' Educational St. Louis Contest, and voting conducted the same, except that partone will present their sales slip at a booth conventity placed in front of the Levely. Aigle, directly in patrons will present their sales-slip at a booth conveniently placed in front of the Jewelry Aisle—directly in front of the main Fifth-street entrance—where they will obtain their votes. Vote for your favorite school.

Echoes From the "Teachers' Educational Contest"

The teachers forming the contingent sent to the great St. Louis Exposition are home, delighted with their trip. All speak in highest terms of the trip and of the generous treat-ment accorded them by this firm. We are pleased, indeed, with their expressed gratification and the results that we believe have accrued; the benefits derived by the teachers will be disseminated, through their pupils, into thousands of homes here in Portland, and will, we believe, be powerful factors in building up our own great Lewis and Clark Exposition next year. The purpose was educational, it has borne worthy fruit. SOME GLEANINGS FROM TALKS WITH THE TEACHERS. SOME INTERESTING "EXPENSE" FACTS ANENT THE ST. LOUIS FAIR.

Thousands more would go to St. Louis if they knew the purse would reach. It will. It is important this should be known. The impression created upon the visitors' minds at St. Louis this year will affect in almost unlimited degree the attendance at our own Lewis and Clark Fair.

St. Louis can easily care for a crowd three times as great as it has had. There isn't any crowding in boarding accommodations, restaurants, trolley-cars, at Fair gates or on "the

The town is gaited for the Fair. Authorized rooming agency right in Union Station, where all trains arrive. You select room (say, in private house-nearly all take roomers). A You pay his stre fare. That's all.

Rooms, as a rule, cost $1.00 a day. It's easy to select two rooms and corral a bathroom—total $3 a day.

Fall Suggests Flannels

Domestic Aisles teem with them, just from the mills-1st floor. Our showings in these lines, also Cotton and Wash Goods, Linens, Waistings and everyday dress stuffs, that fill the big corner of the store devoted to "Domestics" is of unusual scope this season, due to peculiar trade conditions that have thrown into our hands some of the best values ever known, and this, too, in the face of prices for raw materials that are going kiting to the clouds on account of short crops in the producing regions. We called the cream of the markets and present everything that's new and worthy. We mention an item or two:

Flannelettes in fine cashmere finish and pretty Persian, scroll or floral designs and neat fancy stripes; plain colors, too, 10c, 121/2c, 15c and 18c yard.

Wool Waistings-Viyella Flannels, Flannelle Suede, Wool Jacquards, Roman Cloths, Scotch Waisting Flannels, Linen Warp Waistings, in an immense variety; selections are at their best; of course, early buyers skim the cream. Prices? Easy, 25¢ up yard.

Danish Cloths, the best half-wool fabric ever woven, in a beautiful color line. Single width, 15¢ yd; double width, 25¢. Hundreds of styles in the generous choosing of Outing Flannels for Fall; 6c to 12c yard.

ribbon, chiffon and furs, with silk embroidery; colors pink, light blue, navy, red, tan, brown, castor, cardinal and green, at prices from 25¢ to $20.00 each.
