Stirring Holiday Sales Full of Saving Spirit

START HERE TOMORROW—A GRAND THANKSGIVING FETE OF VALUES!

Satisfactory Thanksgiving shopping is best done here at Portland's biggest and best store. Immense assortments from first hands, newest authoritative styles and fairest prices solved the problem long ago for Portland's shrewdest buyers.

THE "DIFFERENT STORE"

The Lights Along "The Fair-Way"

Mrs. George E. Welter, of 430 East Ash Street, Portland, Or., Awarded the $10.00 in Gold

For submitting best name for the new thoroughfare through this store, between Washington and Alder, connecting Fifth and Sixth streets. Mrs. Welter writes: "I am of the opinion that a name in keeping with your style of doing business would be appropriate by choosing for the name of your new avenue or street simply this, 'The Fairway.'"

The name means much. We consider it extremely fitting. A big, busy fair is constantly going on along its borders; 'tis a short cut through between busy streets and leads toward the big 1905 World's Fair; it expresses the conduct of this "Old Homestead" pioneer store toward its patrons at all times. In fact, the "Fairway" is "Multum in Parvo." We desire to thank our hosts of friends who took such an interest in the naming of the street or "way," and sincerely wish that all might have been successful. We deeply and sincerely appreciate the kind wishes and sentiments expressed and we want every one who took the pains to write us suggestions—over 200 were received—to accept the personal thanks of every member of the firm for their kindly interest. We trust we may merit the kind, appreciative words said to us. Words cannot express our gratitude and we only wish we might shower $10 gold pieces upon every one of the writers. A committee consisting of prominent newspaper men from the several local papers, decided upon the above name as the most appropriate, only after passing hundreds of others regretfully, for all had merit and some were extremely fitting in many ways. To all we again extend heartfelt thanks; to Mrs. Welter both thanks and congratulations. If the lady will call with proper identification at the advertising office, at her convenience, we shall take great pleasure in passing to her the reward of merit she has so well earned—$10.00 in gold. OLDS, WORTMAN & KING.

A Stirring Sale of Women's Undermuslins

New Sixth-street Annex—Second Floor.

The steady growth of this branch of our great business—the trade in Muslin Underwear and dainty lingerie—and its allied departments—the Corsets, Art Shop and Infants' Store, is conclusive evidence that our old patrons are well satisfied and that thousands of new ones are learning the way to the better store where "lowest prices" is never confounded with the despicable "cheap." We have demonstrated that Muslin Underwear may be low in price without being of inferior quality or stingy in cut. The Babies' Store is a source of constant help and economy to busy mothers, and the Art Shop is the Mecca of thousands of tasty fancy-workers. Any wonder the business is doubling? The Panama Canal Vote

The strain is becoming intense among the leaders in the contest, and 'tis rumored that thousands of votes are being held back by friends of several of the "top-liners." We trust so far as possible they may be cast before Wednesday to facilitate the count. The contest ends at 5 P. M. Wednesday next. The result will be announced in Thanksgiving papers. The composition contest is ended. The compositions will be handed to a committee of ladies interested in educational work for a decision as to their relative merit; that decision will also be published and awards of the $25 in gold divided and made on Thanksgiving Day.

THE RESULT OF THE VOTE AT 5 P. M. YESTERDAY

Table with 2 columns: School Name and Total Votes. Includes High School, St. Mary's Academy, Harrison School, Park School, Portland Academy, Alkinson School, Williams-Avenue School, Falling School, Holladay School, Sandyville School.
