Hello Central! Give Me All Portland

Hello Portland! This Is the Big Olds, Wortman & King Store---Exchange 12--- Santa Claus Talking! Good Morning! Yes, I'm Here Again, Good Folk

"A little early?" Oh! not so very, we've a lot to do, you and I, in the next 24 shopping days, and we'll have to stir our stumps right lively to get the loads of Christmas things all ready for the reindeer vans to deliver four weeks from today. You see we had to take off the runners and come along on wheels after we crossed the mountains, else I'd been here a day or two sooner. Yes, I picked out this store 'cause 'tis the best, we'll be all fixed out great tomorrow with Christmas things, we'll --- whirr-r-r --- whirr-r-r --- Hold on! Hold on there, central! Some one's butting in; suppose it's some o' those no 'count stores want to hear the news. Hold the wire a minute, Portland, till you get the news of the week. Go ahead, all right now, Portland. What's that, Portland? You were coming down tomorrow anyhow? "Always do on Mondays?" Well, it's a good practice. Bring along the Christmas lists with you! Now wait, I've a lot more to tell you, hold the wire till I'm thro'. There's a lot of important news to 'phone today

Hello, Central! Give Me the Child World

Hello, Children! Golly! what a lot of voices! Why, I met over 15,000 of you little folk here last year, and I reckon there's a lot of new voices talking now I never heard before--that's fine! This must be a Roosevelt town--no race suicide here, anyhow. Well, youngsters, I'm here again at your best store, that has grown to be the biggest since the reindeer and I were here last year, and, Lor' sakes! they've been to work and put in two great big monster rooms that move up and down quick, like--like magic--"elevators." I think they call 'em; that makes three, and a hundred people, big and little, can come up to my place on the fourth floor every minute. Well, we'll take care of you all, and you're perfectly safe as the building is fireproof and couldn't possibly burn if it wanted to; then the big sprinklers would drown out a fire while you winked. You see, I chose a safe store here for you--as well as a best one. What do you want in your stockings this year, kiddies? Toys, dolls--Oh, my! but I've got so many kinds of both I couldn't begin to name 'em; drums and horns, blocks and picture books, steam engines and automobiles, Happy Hooligans, Gloomy Guses and policemen, fire engines, truck ladders, tool chests, toy stoves, steam engines, and--but what's the use? In a nutshell, I've brought to Olds, Wortman & King's this year the biggest lot of toys and dolls Portland folk ever saw "out West." And such a lovely doll show! What's that? A doll party--yes, every day now until Christmas, brown-eyed, blue-eyed and black-eyed, blondes and brunettes; dolls all dressed for the party and dolls you'll have to dress before they go. But, as they say in the books, "more anon," children, I've got to talk a lot today to the big folks. Good-bye, see you tomorrow, good-bye. Click!--Whirr-r-r-r! Hello, Central! Yes, this is Santa. Give me the mammas and the papas, please. All right. Hello, Big Folks! This is Santa--just want to tell you of a few things of "SPECIAL" interest in Toytown and Dollville for tomorrow, the children will tell you the rest. "The Different Store" offers this week--

Yes, we fill mail orders promptly and well. Send for the Christmas "Book of Joy," mailed FREE to any address upon request, by mail or phone. Call up or write the Mail Order Dept.

Hello, Central!

Give me Exchange 12, please--Olds, Wortman & King. Oh! Hello! Is this Olds, Wortman & King's store? Yes, well, this is the Columbia Theater, Miss Countiss talking. Did you get my note? Yes, indeed, we did, Miss Countiss, and thank you a thousand times for your kind words. May we publish it? Oh, thank you very much, Miss Countiss. Good-bye. The letter and the lady speak for themselves.

Messrs. Olds, Wortman & King: Of course, I am delighted to wear my second edition of the "Cathrine Countiss" Sailor and glad that the success of the first edition made this new creation necessary. It is pretty and jaunty as the first, and has a matchless style of its own that seems especially pleasing. You have a genius for getting up bewitching things for feminine wear. Most cordially, Cathrine Countiss. Portland, Or., Nov. 26, 1904.

The New Cathrine Countiss Sailors Are $5.00
