Experts Think National Irrigation Works Desirable.

WOULD RECLAIM VAST TRACT

Henry E. Ankeny, of Eugene, Says the Klamath Region Contains the Very Best Area for Such a Beneficial Institution.

That the Klamath region contains the very best area in America for National irrigation works is the opinion of F. H. Newell, chief of the reclamation bureau, and of other experts in the interior De-So it's all right now. partment. Such is the report brought from Klamath County by Henry E An-keny, of Eugene, who attended the conferences of Major Newell and citizens and land owners in the irrigable area weeks ago.

The land-owners whose lands would be recialmed under the proposed Governent project are unanimously in favor of Government's entering the field, says Mr. Ankeny, and no serious obstacles the way. If the Government's estimate of the cost per acre of 'reclaim-ing the land shall be approved by the ing the land shall or approved by the land-owners, the reclamation bureau will proceed to carry out the project and will charge the cost as a lien against the land. Such cost is to be paid back to After srranging things nicely, and telling Matron Simmons never to fail to call on the reclamation fund in ten annual installments, the first one year after com-pletition of the project. Thenceforward her in time of trouble. Mrs. Woodcock the water and land rights are to be inseparable and the irrigation works are to be conducted by land-owners, who, for that purpose, have already formed a water-userw association. Mr. Ankeny says that perhaps 5 per cent of the irrigable land is in private ownership.

The next step toward consummation of the project will be made by the reclamation bureau, in submitting to the land-owners an estimate of the cost. Major Newell announced that the work could cheaply done and that it would certainly not amount to more than $15 an acre, and in all probability considerably ers. Mr. Ankeny says the land-owners were highly satisfied with that announceattendance is expected. Government engineers have 111-011 sthering data since last Summer, and the estimate will soon be forthcoming. Thereupon the Government will lay its before the land-owners, and if they shall be willing to pay the cost, the Government will proceed with the and evening, closing with illustrated lec tures. "The money," said Mr. Ankeny, "will some out of the reclamation fund and will be, in effect, a loan to the land-owners, which they will pay back to the Government li years after completion of the project. This use of the reclamation fund will cost them nothing, not even even Thus the Government will reclaim the land more cheaply for them than any group or company could do it 2 29.

for themselves." According to the testimony of Mr. Ankeny, only three obstacles could hamper the project, and neither of them really exist-first, apathy of land-owners, who, powever, have shown themselves intense y eager; second, private irrigation com spnies already in the field, two of which however, are willing to get out of the way and the third of which can be ousted by condemnation: and third, impairment navigation by withdrawal of water rom Tule and Little Klamath lakes for draining land now submerged and for frigating land now arid. But the last impediment, says Mr. Ankeny, will not be encountered by a National project, because the general Government has ju-risdiction over navigable waters. To a private company this would amount to a really serious difficulty because of interstate complications.

The irrigable area lies in the basin of tures favorable to the use of the public schools for educational pruposes in the way of lectures and entertainments. The club emphasized the position Mr. Rlis takes that the public schools belong to the children, and that one boys' club was better than a down policemen's clubs. It was the sentiment of the board that there should be no cressition of effort un-til the assembly halls of the public schools should be opened and used for educational purposes in the several communities. In edition to this business the meridian addition to this business, the president held consultation with chairmen of several and cor 225,000 and 240,000 acres of land in Klamath County, Oregon and Modoc and Siskiyou Counties, California. Its rall connec-tions will be with the Pokegams road, which runs up Klamath River from the Southern Pacific. The waters of Lost River which flow into Tule Lake will be stored in large lake reservoirs at the head of that stream in what are called Clear and Horsefly Lakes. Surrounding Tule and Little Klamath Lakes a large amount of submerged and swamp land will be drained and rendered tillable. Among the persons who have large swamp-land holdings and would be benefiled, are E. P. McCormick, of Salem; State Treasurer Charles S. Moore, of Klamath Falls, and Jerry Martin, of San Francisco, and there are smaller holdings in the hands of many other persons. Around Tule Lake the largest owners are the Jesse E. Carr Company. The private irrigation companies now in the field are three in number. One of them, the Klamath Lake Irrigation com pany, of which Mr. Ankeny is president would reclaim about 30,000 acres. Frank Adams is head of another company. Both are willing to give way to the Government, and are content with the Govern-ment's offer of indemnity. But the Klamath Canal Company, a California enterprise, has a big project of its own in view, and is reluctant to pull out. Mr. Ankeny says that the reclamation bureau has been considerate of his company's rights, as it is of all vested rights, and that he and his associates are satisfied.

'if the work should be left to private enterprise," he remarked, "more than half of the land, which the Government plans to rectain, would stay useless for-ever. The Klamath Canal Company could reclaim probably not more than 100,000 acres, whereas the Government proposes to make productive more than three times as much, at bare cost, and withou charging interest against the land. Fur thermore, after the works are finished the land-owners have control of the wa-ter supply. This would not be the case ter supply. This would not be the case of they had to buy their water from a ompany.

Hears' Report From Oregon Educa tional Display at St. Louis.

At a meeting of the Board of Federation of Women's Clubs, held at the home of Mrs L. Samuels, this week, Mrs. Rose H. Hoyt, presiding, an important report was received from Mrs. L. Blumauer, who ex-amined the educational exhibit: at St. Louis. Mrs. Blumauer was requested to examine the Oregon display. She reported that, while the exhibit was representative and creditable, it was not prepared nor handled to the best advantage, and suffered in comparison with the displays from California and some other states. The Oregon exhibit, she said, was in large volumes and follos, and in such shape that it could not be examined by visitors. In this connection the board, by vote, decided to ask that the Federation be granted a representative on the committee on educational exhibit for the Lewis and Clark Fair, and Mrs. Rose H. Hoyt was authorized to present the request to the
