Great Storm on German Coast.

BERLIN, Jan. 7.—A storm that is raging on the north coast of Germany exacts an intensity that of a week ago. The flood threatened to destroy the protected dike near the mouth of the River Elbe and large detachments from the neighboring garrisons were set to work strengthening it.

It was agreed that three material obstacles must be removed before the Klamath project can be formally adopted, notwithstanding it has already been adjudged entirely feasible and declared to possess many attractive features.

States Must Cede Land. Secondly, inasmuch as Lower Klamath and Tule Lakes are to be entirely drained and their beds ultimately irrigated, the Government insists that the States of Oregon and California shall by appropriate legislation transfer to the Government title to lands lying under these lakes, so that when drained they can be disposed of to settlers under the National Irrigation act.

WILL ABOLISH VETO

Pope Puts End to Claim of Catholic Rulers.

SECRET BULL IS PREPARED

Veto Against Rampolla Causes Him to Forbid Cardinals to Communicate Veto From Any Ruler to Future Conclaves.

ROME, Jan. 7.—One of the most important acts thus far in the pontificate of Pope Pius X has been embraced in a secret bull, the text of which will not be made public until the pontiff is dead.

The bull is in connection with the claims of Austria, France and Spain to the right to veto the election of any cardinal to the papacy. All the cardinals have not been informed as to the contents of the document, it having been drawn up in accordance with a double-headed veto by the cardinals living in Rome, with the exception of Cardinal Rampolla, who is absent from the city.

The bull is the direct result of the veto against Cardinal Rampolla, should he have been elected successor to Leo XIII, which was presented to the conclave August 2, 1903, by Cardinal Puzyna, bishop of Krakow, Austria, at the instance of Emperor Francis Joseph.

Briefly, the bull says that all cardinals are absolutely forbidden, under penalty of excommunication, to communicate with any ruler, and that, if any cardinal, knowing the objection of his ruler to the election of a cardinal, communicates this objection to his colleagues in the conclave, he also will be excluded and not allowed to vote.

Of the imports, foodstuffs show a reduction of $2,500,000. This would have been much larger, but for the increase of $14,000,000 in the value of sugar, although the increase in quantity is only about 1,900,000 hundredweights.

WILL RELY ON BATTLESHIPS.

Lesson Drawn by Germany From Naval War in Orient.

BERLIN, Jan. 7.—The only lesson to be drawn from the maritime events in the Far East is that it is impossible to conduct naval warfare without large battleships.

The report that Germany intends to lengthen the course of instruction for torpedo-boat crews, in view of developments of the present war, brought forth this statement from a German naval expert, which indicates that naval circles of Germany generally share the views of the American Navy Department and that there is no intention to depart from the present theory of dependence upon battleships.
