

WILL OPEN SUNDAY

Toilers May Visit Exposition on That Day.

GOODE DECIDES QUESTION

"Trail" Will Be Closed, but Machinery Will Revolve—The Museums, Art Palaces and Restaurants Will Be Kept Open.

President Goode authorizes the announcement of the decision of the executive board in the matter of Sunday opening. The Exposition will be closed in the morning until 12 o'clock, and open in the afternoon from that hour until 11 P. M.

It is believed that the decision of this question is such as to satisfy the just claims of all sections of the interested public. The decision has been reached after due consideration of pleas and counter-pleas, and it is believed that no essential principle has been compromised in the plan now determined upon.

All May See Fair.

The class of people who, by reason of environment and occupation, are unable to visit the Exposition on the six business days of the week, will have a full opportunity to enjoy the best essentials of the Exposition on Sunday.

Educational Conferences.

The educational values of the Fair will be emphasized on Sunday, and in this the committee on congresses and conferences will co-operate. This committee has just been appointed by President Goode, and is composed of the following members: Dr. J. R. Wilson, chairman; W. G. Elliot, Jr., secretary; W. L. Brewster, W. W. Cotton, Dr. E. P. Hill, Richard W. Montague, Dr. Stephen E. Stearns.

Religious Services.

To co-ordinate with our local organizations and needs such National or other large conferences, similar character as may have chosen Portland and the period of the Exposition as their place and time of meeting. The conferences under this second head will also meet on week days, to arrange for the requisite services to be held in the Auditorium at the Exposition on Sunday afternoons during the period of the Exposition.

he cannot be indicted for arson for burning his own building. Altogether it is a puzzling question.

SAYS CHARGE WAS FALSE

P. F. Wallace Sues Officials on Grounds of False Imprisonment.

Suit against the Orient Insurance Company of Hartford, Conn., Chief of Police Hunt and L. C. Hartman, detective, for $50,000, for false imprisonment, was filed in the State Circuit Court yesterday by P. F. Wallace. The complaint recites that the insurance company carried a policy for $500 on goods owned by R. Nudelmann. On June 28, 1934, it is alleged that Wallace, Nudelmann and Ben Rykus were arrested on a charge of arson for burning the goods. Wallace asserts that he was innocent of the charge, but notwithstanding he was confined in the city jail and county jail and was driven through the streets in the patrol wagon. Wallace further states that when he demanded a trial he was liberated, because there was no evidence against him, and he now wants damages.

THREE WANT DIVORCES

Mismatched Couples Seek Legal Release From Marriage Bonds.

James L. Coquillette has sued Mary Coquillette for a divorce in the State Circuit Court in Polk County, for desertion. The defendant is running a tamale stand in Portland, and was served with the papers by Deputy Sheriff Downey. Thomas M. Harkins, a pressman, in the employ of the Irwin-Hodson Company, has been sued for a divorce in the Superior Court at Aberdeen, Wash., because of desertion and failure to provide. Deputy Sheriff Cordano served the papers. Deputy Sheriff Parrott served papers in a divorce suit filed in Spokane by Addie J. Giles vs. Robert J. Giles.

FREIGHT MEN TO VISIT FAIR

Western Classification Committee Will Meet Here in July.

One more large and important convention has been arranged for Portland for 1935, and this time through the efforts of the local freight officers of the railroads.

E. G. Fulton, assistant general freight agent of the Northern Pacific, yesterday received a notice from P. O. Becker, chairman of the executive committee of the Western classification committee of traffic men, stating that it had been decided at the last meeting of the committee to accept the invitation of the freight department here to make this the meeting place of the general committee for the present year. The convention will be held in Portland on the third Tuesday in July. The Western classification committee, of Chicago, is one of the large and representative bodies of the railroad world. It is composed of traffic representatives from all the principal lines of the United States, and has to do with the classification of all freight cars on the railroad system.

The meeting will bring a large number of well-known traffic officials of the country to Portland to confer in regard to the classification of the freight cars to be used on the lines. The meeting will also be held in regard to the classification of the freight cars to be used on the lines. The meeting will also be held in regard to the classification of the freight cars to be used on the lines.

USED NAME OF ANOTHER

Man Arrested for Attaching Cartoonist's Name to Checks.

A man giving the name of H. J. Murphy was arrested yesterday afternoon by Patrolman Wendorf, at Park and Washington streets, and lodged in the City Jail on a charge of forgery. He is alleged to have passed two checks for $150 each, drawn on the First National Bank, and to which the name of The Oregonian was forged. The bogus paper was passed at the residence of a woman, 71 Sixth, and the Court Bar, 58 Sixth. One check was made payable to Harry Murphy, of The Oregonian art department.

New Firm of Impresarios

It has remained for the West to give to the world the first firm of impresarios that is composed and wholly directed by women. Not only has West given the world the firm, but it has furnished the firm's members, Miss Lois Steers, daughter of Mrs. M. H. Steers, and Miss Wynne Coman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Coman, of this city.

Madame Nordica was the first really great singer to appear in Portland and other cities of the great Northwest. She made the first tour in the season of 1901-1902 under the direction and management of Miss Lois Steers, who was the inception of the present firm, for Miss Steers followed up her success with Nordica by bringing to the Northwest other great musicians, and the business has broadened that has been attended with such success that Miss Wynne Coman, well known to Portland society, has left a position with Munssey's Magazine to join Miss Steers in managing the firm in the most successful fashion of the greatest managers of the present day.

The amount of work involved in this undertaking is greater than most people would at first thought believe. To conduct successfully a tour of one of the greatest prima donnas, to see that every detail is properly attended to, to look after the musical and financial success, to attend to the requisite amount of advertising, to make arrangements with house managers, attend to transportation, the movements of both singer and baggage, and do the numerous other things that must be done, is no child's play, and is a task that heretofore has never been undertaken save by men who have spent years in the business.

The firm has no fear of failure, however. Miss Steers, since the season of 1901-02, has amply demonstrated the fact that she knows the business and can well attend to it. Miss Coman has had a training that will go a great way toward guaranteeing the success of the firm. Both have the required amount of business ability, energy and pluck. While there are still four events to be toured by the firm before the close of the present season, preparations have already commenced for next year's work, which will be of large proportions. Under the management of these two women, the Northwest will see as many world-renowned singers and musicians next year as may be seen in New York.

MISS LOIS STEERS.

Miss Steers to undertake the responsibility of the trip. "At first I was appalled at the suggestion," says Miss Steers. "Later, however, I determined to undertake the task. Madame Nordica made the trip and made it successfully." This was the first time Portland people had a chance of hearing one of the world's greatest singers. But it was not the last chance. Miss Steers followed up her Nordica success by touring from San Francisco to Salt Lake City the Metropolitan Orchestra. Schumann-Heink, who has made two tours under Miss Steers' direction since the season of 1901-2. Semberich, the Kneisel quartet, Dr. Jensen, two tours with Gabrielowitch, Harold Bauer, Josef Hofmann, Lillian Blauvelt, the Spiering quartet and Gadeki. These have all appeared in the Northwest since the season of 1901-2 under the management of Miss Steers. The great amount of work required bework she is undertaking. She is a Portland girl. Seven years ago she went to New York to enter the journalistic field. Prior to that time she had served an apprenticeship on The Oregonian. She entered the office of the New York Journal, worked there for a short time, then joined the forces of Munssey's Magazine, working as manuscript clerk for $6 per week. Opposite to Miss Steers, Miss Coman began at the bottom. But she did not stay at the bottom long. She was rapidly raised in rank, became a reader, later an associate editor and assistant dramatic editor. Her work was appreciated. She won her spurs by merit alone. This is the combination of the new firm. Both members have won their way by their integrity and perseverance. The prima donnas will come and go, and it will be the Misses Steers and Coman who will act as guiding angels for the pets of the merit-applauding public.
