Statements made to Chief of Police Hunt and officers of the headquarters | exami staff yesterday are to the effect that Goggios fought with Smith during the early morning hours and succeeded in felling him violently to the cement floor of the coil, it is said by prisoners who were in fall that morning that after the fight Smith seemed to be unconscious, and he died shortly after-wards, it is alleged.

These statements were made to Chief Hunt yesterday, and were guarded with great care by him and his station Immediate search for Goggins was begun, but the patrolmen were unable to find him. It is thought he may have taken fright and left the city.

Smith was taken to police headquar ters early Thursday morning in a pa tree wagon, and ledged in the City Jall He was supposed to be drunk. At that time he acted all right, the police say, except that he appeared to be in-toxicated. Coroner Finley determined to hold no inquest when he ascertained from Leo Friede, of the tirm of Wadhams & Co., and Samuel Gilmore, a prominent mining man, that they saw Smith fall on the sidewalk in front of the Ladd & Tilton Bank, and that they summoned the patrol wagon and caused him to be cared for. As the new evidence had not come to light yesterday morning, the body of the man now supposed to have been murdered was shipped to Salem, where Dr. Morse, who has known a long time, superintended

Clot of Blood on Brain.

Dr. Weatherbee, who posted Smith's hody, is positive that more than o blow was struck on the victim's skull. He also holds that there was a clot of blood on the brain. This lends strength to the belief of the police that in the the jail cell Smith received
