SALEM, Or., Feb. 25,-(Special.)-More than two dozen game bills were introduced at the recent session of the Legislature, but only nine of them berame laws. None of them carry emerpency clauses, and will go into effect

Comparatively few changes were made In the regulations regarding closed seasons, but the most important acts were night or with dogs. The number of deer that may be killed in a season is limited

The purpose of the act prohibiting the sale of game is to limit in some degree, the number of birds killed. The hunters' license law is intended to restrict hunt-ing to some extent, but more especially to compel the sportsmen to contribute toward the payment of the expense of forcing the game-protection laws. If the license bill had passed in the sweeping form in which it was introduced, it would have produced considerable revenue, for it required every hunter to pay a fee of Representatives from the farming nties would not support the bill in that form, however, and the law was amended so as to except a man and mem-bers of his family hunting on their own This means that practically all case money will come from city sen. The law says nothing as to the rights of men living on farms which they occupy as lessees, and a strict in-terpretation of the law will evidently be that when a city man owns a farm and rents it, as many do, the city man may hunt thereon without a license, while the farmer must pay the license fee before he or members of his family can hunt.

Provisions of License Law.

The hunters' license law, known as Senate bill 269, makes it unlawful for any person to hunt for, take or kill any game animals protected by the laws of this state, during the open meason, without such person having in his personal possession at the time of said hunting, a icense issued to him by a County Clerk

A license must be issued to any person the applies therefor and who pays a fee of $1 if he he a resident of the state, and $10 if he be a nonresident, expire on December 31, regar date of issue. Not more than one liin any year, and the license shall not be transferable. The license must give the name and residence of the person to whom issued, and a brief description of him, for the purpose of identification,
A license issued in any county is good anywhere in the state, but is subject to inspection at all times by any peace offi-cer or person charged with the enforcement of the game laws, or by the owner property upon which the person may

Sale of Game Prohitited.

The act prohibiting the sale of game was Senate bill 77, and applies to deer as well as to birds. It rends as follows: It shall be unlawful for anyone to sell or offer for sale, barter or exchange, or have in prepension for the purpose of sale, barter or exchange, or to ship or cause to be carried or transported beyond the boundaries of the State of Oregon for sale, barter or exchange, ex-cept for selectific and feeding purposes, any moose, elk, mountain sheep, silver-gray uirrel, wild awan, mallard duck, wood duck ceon, teal, apoonbill, gray, black, sprig or canvasback or any duck, water-rall, upland plover, prairie chicken, grouse, pheasant, ruffled grouse, ring-neck or Clina pheas-ant, qualt, bob white qualt or partridge, expercallule, wild turkey, woodcock, allver pheasant, golden pheasant, copper pheasant, green pheasant or Reeves pheasant.

Violation of the law is made punishable by fine of $100 to $6000, or imprisonment months to two years, or by both fine and imprisonment

Season for Ducks and Geese.

The closed season for ducks and geese will hereafter begin February 1, instead of March 1, and the law has been changed in several respects by the passage of Sen ate bill 55, amouding section 2014 of the code. By this act, the killing or possession of any wild goose, wild swan, mallard duck, wood duck, widgeon, teal, spoonbill. black sprigtail or canvasback, or uck, is forbidden between February 1 and September 1, and during the open season not more than 50 ducks can be killed by one person in a week.

It is made unlawful to kill any wild on any in and or sandbar in or along the Columbia River east of the Cas-cade Mountains, on which wild geese habitually rest or roost.

An exception is made in this section as to Coos and Lake Counties. In Coos the closed season for the fowls mentioned is to extend from February 1 to August 1, and in Lake from April 1 to August 15. Otherwise this act applies to Coos and

An Eastern Oregon Law.

The closed season for sagehens, sagecocks grouse, quali and Mongolian phees-ants was fixed by the passage of Senate bill 26, amending section 2021 of the code. This act makes it unlawful at any time to kill or have in possession, except for scientific or breeding purposes, any pheasant except native pheasants. The act then prohibits the killing or possession or sale of sagehens, sagecocks, grouse or native pheasants, except for scientific or breeding purposes, between December 1 of each year and August 15 of the following year. Hunting or sale of quall is for-bidden at any time except between the second Saturday and the third Tuesday of September each year, and the number of qualls that may be killed during such open few days on accesson is limited to gir in a day, or 12 in of the Senator.

Prairie chickens, which are found only in Eastern Oregon, are given pro-tection in all Oregon except Wasco and Umatilla Counties until September 15. 1909, after which time they can be taken only from September 15 to No-vember 15, except in Wasco and Uma-NEW LAWS EFFECTIVE MAY 18 killed at all seasons. This law is Senate bill 28, amending section 2022 of

No Hunting Deer at Night.

By House bill 139, amending section 2010 of the code, deer are given protecion from hunters as follows: Killing of buck deer except in Baker,

Grant, Harney and Malheur, forbidden except from August 15 to November 1. Killing of female deer, except in Baker. Grant, Harney and Malheur, forbidden except from September 1 to November 1. In all counties hunting deer is for nder between one hour after sunset and one-half hour before sunrise, and at any time with dogs. The number of deer that may be killed by any person in one open season is limited to five and the sale or exchange of deer is for-

No Closed Season for Black Bass Taking of black bass has heretofore en permitted only during the months of June, July, August and September but the close season has now been abrogated and black bass may be taken at any time of the year. Persons who are informed upon the subject say that black bass have become so numerous that there is no longer need of a closed season, and it has been asserted by some that these fish prey upon young salmon and are an enemy to the salmon industry. Catching black bass in Willamette Valley streams is becoming more common each year as a sport. Fishing for trout or cut-throat trout in Rogue River, at any time of the year in any manner except with hook and line, is made a misdemeanor punishable by fine of $50 to $100.

In order to give the Game and Forestry Warden more power in the ap-pointment of special deputies, the law upon that subject was amended by the last Legislature. Section 2052 of the code was amended so as to remove the the prohibition of the sale of game, the stablishment of the hunter's license and special deputies and the total amount the prevention of the hunting of deer at vided for six deputies at $2 a day for actual time served, not exceeding $250 in a year for each, or $2500 a year for all. The act of this Legislature per-mits the Game and Forestry Warden to appoint any number of deputies at $2 per day and expenses, but the total expenditures must not exceed the total amount of the appropriation added to the amount derived from hunters' licenses. The new law also leaves out that portion of section 2052 which authorizes the Warden to appoint three deputies in each county without comensation. In the past the deputies has appointed depended for compensapensation. tion upon the allowance of one-half the amount of fines collected.

The blennial appropriation for the Game and Forestry Warden and deputies is $8400, of which $2400 pays the Warden's salary, leaving $6000 for the Warden's expenses and the salaries and expenses of deputies. To this appro-priation will hereafter be added the license fees, the amount of which can-not yet be even approximately esti-
