formulated in a letter to Mr. Hyde, in which he would be accused of unwarrantably spending thousands of dollars of the sociley's money every year. Among the arguments being made were that Mr. Hyde draws a salary of $100,000 yearly, which he does not earn, and that he gives $10,000 a year to a retinue of servants who are not in the employ of the society, but are paid out of the society's funds; that he employs a force of 30 clerks, whose sularies amount to $75,000, and are not needed by the society; and, finally, that among these 30 clerks are three French secretaries, who are employed by Mr. Hyde exclusively for work for the Societe d'Assurance Francaise, but whose salaries are paid by the society.

AGENTS STAND BY ALEXANDER

Say Hyde Made First Move Which Caused Quarrel.

NEW YORK, April 22.-The letter sent to agents of the Equitable Life Assurance Society yesterday by Vice-President Hyde was the subject of a meeting held at the Equitable building by those of the agents who have remained in the city. Mr. Hyde's letter explained why he had not heeded their request for his resignation, and today's meeting was to decide whether they ought to make a reply. After some discussion it was decided that, as their convention had adjourned until Thursday at the Hotel Savoy, the matter could not be reopened unless all of the agents were present. No reply was framed.

A number of general agents and man-gers were today in conference with Gage E. Tarbell, the second vice-president of the society. One of the committee which presented the conference's request to Mr. Hyde said today:

"It is not true that Mr. Alexander was the instigator of the present controversy. One year ago Mr. Hyde himself sought at Limoges. to have the to have the board of directors elect the president and authorize the latter to appoint the other officers of the society. My assertion about this is substantiated by the official records of the meeting of the board of directors, when Mr. Hyde sought to put his project through." J. W. Estes, of Chicago, one of the secretaries of the conference of general agents, said Mr. Hyde's letter, instead of satisfying the policy-holders, would make them more determined than ever that the vice-president should retire. Mr. declared that, "if the $400,000,000 as. Estes de sets and $80,000,000 surplus of the Equitable belong not to the policy-holders but to the stockholders, then the Equitable's business has been built upon false pretenses, and amends and legal redress will have to be made to the policy-holders."
