F. X. MATTHEW VISITS PORTLAND.—F. X. Matthew, of Champe, the well-known pioneer who voted with the 52 Americans at Champe to save Oregon for the United States against 50 who voted to place the country under British influence and finally for union with that government, is visiting his son and daughter on the East Side. Early yesterday afternoon he called at the office of Joseph Buchtel, a pioneer and friend, and spent nearly the whole of the afternoon in talking about pioneer incidents in which both had a part. Incidentally they talked about the arrangements for pioneer day at the fair. Mr. Matthew said that when he came to Portland he would get lost in the big timber, but now he got lost among the big buildings. He told how it was necessary in those days to go to Vancouver to get a chew of tobacco, where the weed was to be had by the yard and of sufficient strength to make a man feel that it was the genuine article. Although 88 years of age, Mr. Matthew is in excellent health, and takes an interest in public affairs, especially in the Lewis and Clark fair, which he had a prominent part in making possible. His mind is clear and stocked with historical events.

BISHOP W. F. HILL ARRIVES.—Bishop W. F. Hill, of the United Evangelical Church, arrived in Portland yesterday, and is the guest of Rev. H. L. Pratt at the latter's home, 802 East Eighth street. He has been making a tour of Western Oregon, visiting all the churches of the denomination, which he found generally prosperous. The bishop yesterday, with Rev. Mr. Pratt, as a guest, spent most of the day seeing Portland, including a visit to the Lewis and Clark fair grounds. He will remain in Portland today. At 10:30 o'clock he will be with the Rev. Mr. Pratt at the Second Church of the Holy Trinity, where he will preach and in the St. Johns United Evangelical Church, and will be at the Second Church of the Holy Trinity at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon, closing with a sermon at the First Church, East Sherman and Tenth streets. It is expected that the bishop will leave Portland Monday.

DR. GIBSON REMAINS PASTOR.—At the meeting of the Portland Presbytery, of the United Presbyterian Church, held near the Warm Springs Reservation, in Eastern Oregon, a few days ago, Rev. Mr. Gibson, of Bledsoe, was elected moderator for the ensuing year, and Rev. J. H. Gibson, D. D., was confirmed as pastor of the Grand Avenue Church, subject to the approval of the Home Mission Society. Rev. W. P. White, of Albany, was re-appointed state superintendent of missions. J. H. Leiper was elected representative to the general assembly. Owing to the long distance to travel to reach the place where the session of the presbytery was held, the attendance was small, being reported at seven.

DEATH OF C. C. MARING.—News was received in Portland of the death of C. C. Maring, in Blaine, Wash., Thursday evening. Mr. Maring was a son-in-law of Dr. O. P. Plummer, having married Frances Plummer, 35 years old. Mr. Maring was formerly a resident of Portland, removing to Seattle, where he was a member of the lithographing firm of Maring & Ladd. He was called to Blaine, Wash., on business, and a week ago suffered a paralytic stroke which caused his death. Dr. Plummer was called to his bedside last week. Mrs. Plummer and Mrs. Claude Gatch, a sister of Maring, left yesterday morning to attend the funeral, which will be held in Seattle Sunday.

A GRAND OUTING will be the Past Saches's eighth annual railroad excursion around the loop on Sunday next. All Eastern and other visitors should not fail to take in this delightful trip. It goes up the east side of the Willamette Valley to Albany, over the Corvallis & Eastern, Corvallis, and return down the beautiful west side. The scenic beauty of this trip is unsurpassed. The Chehalis Mountain view is worth the price alone. Trains leave Union Depot at 9 A. M. and Corvallis at 4 P. M. Two hours for dinner at Albany. Don't forget the date, Sunday next, April 23. Round trip, $1.50.

O. R. & N. Co. is extending its St. Johns branch up the Columbia slough to a point north of University Park and south of the old bridge pier in the Columbia River. The district opened to manufacturing along the slough is the most favorably situated for such business near Portland. There is a project on foot to open the slough to ocean-going vessels as far as Vancouver bridge. The land sloping on the south side of the slough is above high water and therefore needs no piling for foundations.

ASK FOR PORTLAND PAPER.—The chaplain of the Seamen's Institute, 109 North Front street, will be grateful for a regular supply of German, French and Scandinavian newspapers and periodicals, both for use in the mission and for the ward-bound vessels. GRAND AVENUE MAY BE REOPENED.—The prospects are brighter than at any time for the rebuilding of the elevated roadway on Grand avenue between East Stark and Pine streets and the street being reopened. W. H. Hall took hold of the matter with vigor yesterday forenoon, and after spending several hours, succeeded in getting the signatures of the main portion of the property-owners to an agreement to pay half the cost if the city would pay the other half.

DEATH OF MRS. FLOYD A. BURROUGHS.—News has been received in Portland of the death of Mrs. Floyd A. Burroughs, in East Templeton, Mass., April 12. Mrs. Burroughs is a niece of Mrs. Agnes Buntin, of Montavilla, and it was while on a visit to her aunt that she met Mr. Burroughs, whom she married in September, 1902, both removing to East Templeton, Mass., soon after. News of her death was received by her friends in Portland with expressions of sorrow.

EXHIBITIONS to the bench show must bear in mind only two days more are left in which to make entries. It is a positive fact that entries will close April 25 and none can be accepted postmarked after that date. The list of special prizes is larger this year than at any previous exhibition. About one-half of the number can now be seen at Feldenhelm's, and by early next week all the special prizes will be on display. The present outlook indicates a larger number of dogs will be entered than at any show held heretofore.

NACHRICHTEN.

After the Smoke Clears Away, Says the Editor of the Nachrichten.

No matter what may be the result of the primaries, it will be understood, after the smoke has cleared away, that Mr. Merrill has been a candidate for Mayor. There will be no doubt about that in any quarter. He is making a canvass that is waited for on every breeze, and there is little question but that his campaign will have its effect on primary election day. A man whose business attracts his fellows' admiration, and should this obtain in the coming contest, Mr. Merrill's stock will be soaring to the skies.

City Offenders Before Municipal Judge Hogue

"Box Car" Casey charged with larceny, was before Judge Hogue.

"What is your plea?" asked Deputy District Attorney Haney.

"How can I plead when I don't know anything about the case?" asked the prisoner.

"You must know something of it," said Judge Hogue.

"It's all a mystery to me," "Box Car" replied. "I was drunk."

Patrolman Anderson then explained that he found the defendant at Second and Yamhill streets, and saw him steal goods from a rancher's wagon.

"If the officer says I did it, I must have, but I do not remember it," said the defendant.

"You've been before me for various causes, and have been sentenced by me many times," said Judge Hogue, "and I see no reason to hope for any reformation in you. I give you 30 days this time, and the next time you come before me I'll give you six months."

Casey was led away by Bailiff Goits, but turned to join in a general laugh, when Judge Hogue, remembering his term of office will expire before the prisoner is released, said: "Oh, I'll take it back—I have sentenced you for the last time."

"I can buy tobacco at any cigar store in the city," said J. Smith, when asked by Judge Hogue yesterday where he secured tobacco with which to make cigarettes.

"Do you hear that boy's statement?" asked Judge Hogue of Deputy City Attorney Fitzgerald.

"Yes, I heard what he said," replied Mr. Fitzgerald.

Smith, who is aged 18 years, then told the officials where he had purchased tobacco many times, but no complaint was laid against any person.

An effort is being made by the court officials, assisted by the police, to abolish cigarette smoking by minors, and each Saturday several cases are taken before Judge Hogue for disposition.

The Smith boy lives at 7 Park street, and Robert Shrood, another lad brought in on a similar charge, lives at 72 West Park. Both were admonished to quit smoking cigarettes, and promised to do so.

Secretary of Humane Society.

For the past 25 years W. T. Shanahan has been secretary of the Oregon Humane Society, and dumb animals have found him their friend. Now he is so much in love with the work that he has decided to give up his position as president of a piano company to become the permanent secretary of the Oregon Humane society, his salary being raised by popular subscription. Mr. Shanahan expects to travel over Oregon and will see that the state laws are rigidly enforced.

Santa Cruz Marine Exhibit.

SANTA CRUZ, Cal., April 22.—(Special.)—Santa Cruz is to have as a feature a marine exhibit at the Lewis and Clark Exposition at Portland. There are more than 70 varieties of fish in the bay. Specimens are being sent to Avalon, N. C. mounted. In addition, the weeds, shells and other products of the surf will be sent to Portland for exhibition. It will be the first time that such an exhibit has been attempted on the Coast.

Escapement is the finest product of the Scuppernon, a native grape, identified with the earliest settlement of the country. It is a delicious, refreshing white wine, moderately sweet, but with sufficient natural fruit acidity to make a perfect table wine, having an exquisite fruit aroma and "bouquet." W. J. Van Schuyver & Co., Inc., distributors.

Perry Crocker is said to be a bad boy, although his mother does not think him so bad as some others do. He was before Judge Hogue yesterday. The court wished to ascertain how the lad was progressing with his studies at Chapman School, and instructed him to come into court. The boy was charged with assaulting a man, and the case was not disposed of at the time.

After looking over the report card, issued by the principal of Chapman School, Judge Hogue found the boy had not been getting
