NOTICE IS GIVEN

Oregon City Land Office to Be Moved to Portland.

FALLS CITY IS FIGHTING

Petitions Circulated in the Valley and Extensively Signed Will Be Brought to the President's Personal Notice.

OREGON CITY, Or., April 29.-(Special.)-Positive notice of the removal of the United States Land Office from Oregon City to Portland was received today in the following, dated at Washington, March E, 1966, under order of the President, signed by W. A. Richards, Commissioner of the General Land Office:

Notice is hereby given that the President of the United States, by executive order dated March 21, 1805, has, pursuant to section 2251 of the revised statutes of the Inited States and by virtue of the authority therein given, directed that the United States land office now located at Oregon City, Or., be removed, with its business, records, and archives, to Portland, Or.

In pursuance of said executive order, the Inited States Land Office at Oregon City.

ed States Land Office at Oregon City, Or, will be permanently closed and discontinued at the close of business hours on June 30, 1905, and its business, records, and archives removed to Portland, Or, on July 1, 1905. While the people of Oregon City have la-bored diligently for several weeks to pre-vent the consummation of the proposed removal of the Land Office from this city to Portland, there is expressed no surprise in the announcement that the change will be made July 1, next. It has been expected. But the people of this city will not give up until the pro-tests that are now being circulated throughout the district are called to the attention of President Boosevelt, whose intervention alone will alter the situation, The chief worth of this office to Oregon City lies in the fact that it brings to this city many new people, prospective settlers, who are attracted here in quest of public lands that are open to settlement. Find-ing desirable lands suitably located scarce for the reason that the best have been settled upon, these people investigate the agricultural lands, and invariably find comething that suits them, and become residents of the county. In this way, the Land Office has become a great factor in the development and settling of Clackames County.

Anticipating the order of removal that has been signed, a mass meeting of citizens a few weeks ago named a com-mittee to take steps to prevent the proosed change in the location of this office. This committee employed Bruce C. Curry, of this city, to visit the various counties included in the Oregon City Land Office and secure signatures to remonstrating petitions that had been prepared, and in which were recited different reasons why the change should not be made. At Salem, the first place visited, Mr. Curry secured the signatures of every one of the state officials and a great many prominent and infigential citizens. Great success was met by Mr. Curry at Albany, Corvallis, McMinnville, Hillsboro and Forest Grove, but the work of circulating these petitions not having been completed, the total num-ber of signatures thereto is not known.

Register Dresser and Receiver Bibee, of the Oregon City Land Office, have not received any official notification of the making of the final order directing the m of business at the office here until the protests that are being circulated in the Oregon City land district are presented to the President, if that be possi-

"It seems to me," said T. F. Cowing, "tnat if the President and department have fully made up their mind to remove the Land Office to Portland that the change will be made. Personally, since my home is in Oregon City I should dislike the change. If the President has not yet considered all the protests sent in it may be that the order for removal will be rescinded. Should it not then will have to go to Portland to trans-

When interviewed last night G. L. Hedges said:
"I do not know of any late action having been taken in regard to the removal of the Land Office other than what has appeared in the papers. Nor do I know If the notice you speak of means the final decision of the Government. "It seems to me, however, that even if the office is closed on June 30, as or-dered, that the cases now set will have to be tried here. I know of cases set for hearing at this office as late as the end of July, but if the office here is closed the Government may follow the usual procedure in such event and send a representative to Oregon City to hear

"Personally I am opposed to the re-moval of the Land Office to Portland, and think that public opinion will yet be sufficient to prevent it.

Mr. Hardman's remarks were heartily applauded, and afterwards the glee club entertained the audience.
Edward Newbegin made a strong talk for the nomination of Mr. Glafke on the score of his talents as a business man and success in whatever he had undertaken. In speaking of H. S. Rowe's platform, Mr. Newbegin made most caustic reference to the occupation tax, which was read some figures to show how it oper-ated, as he declared, in taxing the poorer classes unjustly, laying burdens on the shoulders of the expressmen which they could ill afford to hear. Mr. Newbegin the purpose of identification and also spoke of Mr. Glafke as a self-made business man, risen by his own efforts to high place in the business world, and remarked that a man who could make himself felt in that way was the proper man for Mayor of Portland.

Mr. Glafke was introduced, and gave a brief and clean-cut statement of his prin-ciples and policies. He said that hereto fore the business element had been shut out from participating in the administra-tion of public affairs, but under the direct primary law the business man could make himself felt as never before. "My platform is for a business administration, with no promises to anybody," declared Mr. Glafke. "If elected Mayor, I shall go into the office without having made a single pledge to any man or set of men. A well-known professional photographer, whose modesty forbids the use of his name, has contributed the following on his impressions of the First American Photographic Salon Exhibition, Closed yesterday:

From an educational standpoint, no exhibit of photographs has ever been made ultimate success or fallure of a book or a pleture. Probably no craftsmen are more prone than photographic workers to adopt some one method of working and make use of it, sometimes, unfortunately, until it degenerates into a mannerism—but this undoubtedly tends to develop the style to its greatest perfection.

Judicious selections of masterpieces from all these different "achools" have made this collection what is probably the most comprehensive compendium of progressive and artistic photography ever brought together.

In our own exhibitions of professional

In our own exhibitions of professional photography, we too often see the commercial idea in the work, which, on account of the prejudices of the photographer and the preferences of the subject, generally lack the simplicity, spontanelty and freedom which are so charmingly apparent in the salon exhibit.

It is evident that the pictorialists who made this work have fortunately been untrammeled by any notion of values other than those of light and shade, and have, therefore, been perfectly free to reproduce, each in his own way, whatever they have seen and felt in the subjects before them.

Much as we regret to say it, the work of those who have adopted the methods of the professional photographers is the least interesting. Fortunately, however, the stereotyped "photograph gallery portrait" has almost disappeared from exhipleces.

The gentlemen who have worked so arduously and unselfishly to make this exhibition a success deserve our thanks and our congratulations.

Her attorney, Judge Spinetti, made formal application to the police this morning for her accusation or discharge. and both being denied, he has decided to appeal to the courts.

A writ of habeas corpus was secured in Judge Lawlor's department of the Superior Court and was made returnable in the same department Tuesday next. Just what steps will now be taken by the police neither Chief of Police Dinan nor Captain of Detectives Burnett are pro-pared to say. They are waiting developments in the matter of the suspect who s detained at Boulder Creek, and if he prove to be Torturici, the woman and he will probably be jointly charged with the crime before action can be taken in the Superior Court.

JABEZ WHITE IS AT WEIGHT

Englishman Seems Calmly Confident in Fight With Britt.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 29 .- (Special.) -Jabez White is already at weight for his contest with Jimmy Britt, which takes place next Friday at Woodward's Pavilion. The warm weather and the amount of work White has been doing under the guidance of Charlie Mitchell made it next to impossible for the Britisher to keep above the required notch of 133 pounds. From now on White will take things comparatively easy. He has trained longer and harder for the coming contest than he has for any in which he has engaged during his ring career, which embraces 80 winning ring engagements. That White is fully confident of taking Britt's scalp is easy to discern. He says little and scarcely takes the trouble to inquire into the style and methods of the American champion.
