BOODLE SENATOR IS FOUND GUILT

Jury Finds That Harry Bunkers Accepted a Bribe for Protection.

California Legislator Fell Into Trap Laid for Him, and Was First Expelled From the State Senate.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., April 29 .- (Special.)-The jury this afternoon found Senstor Harry Bunkers, a member of the bribe. Bunkers accepted $350 for protection which he promised to grant a building and loan association in the investigation to be made by the committee of money he received being marked.

In his argument to the jury Attorney Seymour, after repeating the oath of office taken by Bunkers when he went into the Senate, turned to the defendant and scorched him as though with a tongue of fiame. Referring to Attorney Morehouse's description of Bunker's beautiful wife and his pure, noble life, Seymour asked: "Why is she not here to give this de-fendant her moral support? Way, because she would be compelled to hang her bead in shame, while her pure and noble husband told of his midnight engagements with what he calls "fairies." Taking up the contention of the defense that the witnesses for the prosecution were accomplices, Seymour exploded it by reading the legal definition, which de-clares an accomplice must have a "commen interest" with the chief offender in the commission of a crime. The defense had sought to prove that those who had given the money, although intending to trap Bunkers, were parties to the crime. The conviction of Bunkers is the first in the boodle cases. Senators French, Wright and Emmons are yet to be tried. The evidence in these cases is much the same as in that of Bunkers, and convic tion is looked for. The money was passed through Joseph Jordan, a newspaper man, who was the star witness for the prosecution. Bunkers is a San Francisco man and a part of the Ruef machine.

A hurricane of pent-up human wrath whirled and twisted through those eight cells. Curses and shouts rasped their way through the bars and floated to the prisoners in the yard, four stories below. For four hours the infurlated felons overawed the guards. No free man dared to enter the cells.

Every guard in the prison was called from his post in the towers, on the walls and on the roofs. The glint of rifle-barrel was needed to carry ter-ror to the striped and crouching hu-mans in the yards and buildings of the prison. The eight incorrigibles took advantage of this and prolonged their

Just how the trouble started no one seems to know. Convict Bert Short, who escaped from the prison on the gleamer Caroline last Fall and was captured in Chicago, was the leader of the revolt. At his command eight of the 15 inmates of the "incorrigible" cells began their fight for a change of quarters. They demolished every-thing in sight. They had been pre-paring for the occasion for weeks and had loosened everything possible in their cells, and when the word was given they set to work. For four hours they carried on things with a high

The prison officials then opened peace negotiations. The prisoners demanded that they be removed. This was done, but the administration "gaved its face" by insisting that the rioters would have to submit to a bread-and-water diet for several days. As an offset to this, light, airy cells were provided them in the main building, facing the beautiful flower gar-

ALBANY BIDS FOR THE MILL

Citizens Will Put Up Money to Aid in Rebuilding.

mills of the Bannockburn Woolen Mills company in Albany. This is the mill that was burned about a month ago, entailing a loss of $75,500.

Among those who addressed the meeting were: J. K. Weatherford, Fred Dawson, P. H. Goodwin, E. W. Langdon, F. J. Miller and Mayor W. H. Davis, Ali favored purchase of stock by Albany citizens, and several volunteered to take blocks of stock ranging in value from $250 to $1000. A committee was appointed to take charge of the work, ascertain how much money the work, ascertain how much money Albany people will put up to assist in rebuilding the mill, what kind of a proposition the Bannockburn Company will entertain, if any, and report. It seems that Albany will be able to subscribe enough stock in the Ban-nockburn Company to rebuild the mill if that company will put in the ma-chinery, and put the mill in working

HOOD RIVER GETS THE MILL BIRTH OF CIVIL GOVERNMENT AT CHAMPOEG MAY 2, 1843.

> Anniversary of Eventful Day in State's Annals Will Be Celebrated at Historic Place.

May 2, 1843, was an eventful day in the annals of Oregon-a day long to be re membered-each recurring anniversary o which should be appropriately celebrated by the people of today in order that they might realize somewhat of the condition existing in this country at the time the first American civil government on the Pacific Coast was born.

It was not until a little more than three years after this date, 1863, that the treaty between Great Britain and the United States giving title of the "Oregon Coun-try" to the latter power was signed; and even then multitudes of Americans among them some of the ablest statesmen of the time, thought that the acquisition of this country was a serious detriment to the nation. The manifestation of the American spirit by the organization of a government to hold this country under the forms of law, as understood by the participants in the meeting held 32 years ago doubtless had more influence uncoago, doubtless had more influence upon Congress in settling the "Oregon ques-Congress in settling the "Oregon ques-tion" in favor of the United States than
