When the result was made known to Mayor Williams last night and he was asked for a statement, he replied: "I don't know that I have anything to say," but studied a moment and went on: "I have not interfered with the other gentlemen who sought the nomination. They had a free field and the people have decided. I shall expect the other gentle-

CITY QUIETS DOWN

Worst of Rioting Is Over in Chicago Strike.

CHARGES AGAINST POLICE

Employers Accuse Them of Shielding Rioters—Shea Asks Deference to Mediate, and Roosevelt May Be Called On.

CHICAGO, May 6.—Comparative quiet reigned in the downtown streets today for the first time since the beginning of the strike. There were a few scattered outbreaks, but there was a complete absence of the marching crowds that for days followed the wagons of boycotted firms through the streets and seized upon every opportunity to attack drivers and wagon-guards. Although there have been no positive developments as yet, there is a strong feeling both on the part of the employers and the strikers that the worst of the strike has been passed and that in a few days the streets of the city will be cleared for traffic.

While the fighting disappeared in the streets in a large measure, it broke out with great violence in a war of words between the members of the Employers' Association and the labor leaders.

Charges were also made against 300 to 500 of the police, it being said that from the outset they have in many cases favored the strikers, refusing to arrest them when they were seen assaulting nonunion men, and lost no opportunity to take the latter into custody whenever it was possible for them to find an excuse for doing so. It is said by members of the Employers' Association that captains and lieutenants of police have been derelict in their duty in the suppression of disorder and charges are filed against numbers of them before the police trial board. Mayor Dunne tonight appointed a commission to investigate the facts in the dispute.

Confident Rioting Is Over.

The Mayor tonight expressed himself as confident that the serious part of the strike was over and that there would be no more excitement in the streets. Sheriff Barrett expressed similar views and declared that there would be no more fighting and that with the deputies and the police the people could be protected. The strike was stimulated somewhat today by a walkout of the employees of several wholesale grocery houses that so far have not been concerned in the trouble. Forty-four drivers were called out in three establishments. Tugmen also joined the ranks of the strikers although there were no formal orders from their unions to do so. No action was taken by the tugmen's unions as to whether its members will be permitted to work on boats which haul merchandise to boycotted houses.

Mayor Dunne's plan for recruiting the police force by men taken from the water department did not prove a great success. One hundred men were sent in by Superintendent Levering, of the Water Department and of these 35 were chosen for police duty. Several of the number declared outright that they would not guard wagons, while several more stated that they had sore feet and could not walk beside the wagons. Five men assigned to Inspector Levin struck when he ordered them to guard a wagon belonging to Marshall Field & Co. By night nearly every one of the 35 had been dropped from the rolls of the Police Department.

False Report About Bomb.

A story that a dynamite bomb was hurled at a United States Express wagon at West Van Buren and Des-plaines streets last night was sent out from the Desplaines-street police station today. Julius Hildebrecht, Henry Pfeiffer and Joseph Rogers were arrested, but the two latter were dismissed. Special Agent Eddy, of the express company said: "The alleged bomb was nothing but a blue powder inclosed in a breakable bag. The man who threw the bag was arrested and will be prosecuted for violating the United States law."

ARKELL FAILS AS STOCK PROMOTER

Ex-Publisher of Judge Is Suspended From San Francisco Exchange.

DISOWNED BY DR. WEBB

Refusal of Vanderbilt's Son-in-Law to Back Tonopah Deal Results in ex-Newspaper Man's Undoing.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 6.—W. J. Arkell, ex-publisher of Judge, but now a free-lance financier, received a severe jolt in his career as a mining-stock promoter today when he was formally suspended from membership in the San Francisco and Tonopah Stock Exchange. The suspension was in consequence of Arkell's failure to "take up" buying contracts aggregating about $75,000. Arkell himself admits that he was pinched in the recent slump of Home and Home Consolidated to the tune of $40,000.

The heaviest losers will be his fellow-brokers, for they will be obliged to satisfy the claims of all outside customers whose connection with the Arkell stocks was indirect. It is another case of being caught long of stock and short of margin.

The immediate cause of Arkell's stumble was the publication in the newspapers of W. Seward Webb's disavowal of the deal. Webb, who with Arkell's Tonopah Home Consolidated Mines & Exploration Company, in the face of Webb's flat refusal to have anything to do with the scheme, Arkell printed his name as one of the directors, thus calling forth the bolt which smashed the market Thursday. The names printed by the mine company in its advertisement were: T. L. Oddie, of Tonopah, president; Joseph Letter, of Chicago, first vice-president; W. J. Arkell, of San Francisco, second vice-president; Directors, in addition to the foregoing, Senator George S. Nixon, of Nevada; T. B. Gee, S. A. Knapp, B. L. Smith, W. J. Douglas, J. W. Smelton, M. O. Mansen, A. L. Hodgens, A. Bush, S. D. Woods, G. N. O'Brien and W. S. Webb.

The American National Bank, of which G. N. O'Brien is cashier, was named as registrar and the stock of the Consolidated was listed on the Exchange.

SHOOTS HIS LANDLADY.

Boarder Kills Her and Tries to End Own Life in Cell.

CHICAGO, May 6.—(Special)—Mrs. Annie Dummer, 50 years old, was murdered in her home in the rear of 238 Huron street, this afternoon by Peter Neum, 28 years old, a boarder in the establishment. When posing as an insider of the San Francisco track, Herzog, or Hornaday, as he was called, had an office at 719 Market street. He was at first struck by his wife, formerly Frances Drake, who was once a newspaper woman in this city and afterwards noted as a star in "Lady Ursula" when Arkell owned the establishment. She was moved to the Parrott building.

LID IS SLAMMED DOWN

All Gambling in Minneapolis Closed in Very Short Time.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., May 6.—(Special)—With one cool swoop gambling was stopped here tonight. A squad of detectives with a patrol wagon was driven on a gallop to every gambling-house in the city, and the proprietors and employes were secured in a short time. Ten places were darkened by the squad before the sporting fraternity was aware of what had happened. All of the fixtures were confiscated.

Union Ends a Strike.

CHICAGO, May 6.—Nineteen hundred workmen employed in constructing the new factory town of Sears, Roebuck & Co., returned to work today, after being on strike for about 24 hours. The origin of the strike was a demand for increased wages, pressed by a few men but discontinued by officers of the workmen's union.

California Refused New Trial.

TOLEDO, O., May 6.—(Special)—George Letcher, the California business man now under sentence in Vryan, O., for the burning of a store at Montpelier, has been refused a new trial. A second motion for a new trial has been filed by attorneys of Letcher because of new evidence.
