committee will report on May 27, at 10 o'clock A. M.

The body will be cremated, and the only funeral services will be at the Crematorium. Two trains of cars will leave the corner of First and Alder streets for the Crematorium, one at 1:30 o'clock, and the second at 1:45 o'clock P. M.

The members of the bar will meet at the Courthouse at 1 o'clock and attend the funeral in a body. Whitney L. Botsel will act as marshal.

John F. Logan, president of the alumnae of the law school of the University of Oregon, has issued a call to the members of the alumnae to meet at 12:45 P. M. today in Judge Cleland's courtroom to take separate action with reference to the death of the late Judge Bellinger and to attend the funeral with the bar in general. Judge Bellings was a member of the faculty of the law school from its beginning until 1904, occupying the chair of equity, now held by Judge Sears.

at the house, and the last rites will be very simple and unostentatious, as would have been the wish of the jurist who was, during his life, much opposed to pomp and show.

Dr. Thomas L. Elliot, pastor of the First Unitarian Church, of which Judge Bellinger was a trustee, will conduct a brief service at the Crematorium, after which the impressive service of the Masonic Order will be read by Washington Lodge 46, of which the deceased was a member. The lodge will meet at the hotel room this afternoon at 1 o'clock, and attend the funeral in a body, as will the members of the Multnomah Bar Association and of the Portland Cremation Association.

Cars will be in waiting at First and Washington streets at 1:30, at 1:45 and at 2 o'clock this afternoon to convey those who may desire to attend the services to the Crematorium. Those attending should take the Sellwood cars, as the Oregon City cars no longer run past the Crematorium. The members of the family will go direct from the residence on the East Side to the Crematorium without coming to the west side of the river. Members of the bench and of the bar, friends of the deceased and of the family and members of the fraternities and associations of which the deceased was a member will attend the services. Members of the bar and of the Masonic lodge will take the car leaving at 1:30 to secure the seats reserved for them at the Crematorium.

Cyrus A. Dolph, one of the closest personal friends of Judge Bellinger and his former law partner, has had charge of the funeral arrangements and has assisted Mrs. Bellinger in the choice of the pall bearers, both honorary and active, who will assist in the services. The honorary pall bearers are: A. Bush Adams, Judge Sears, Cyrus A. Dolph, Dr. Harry Lane, Tyler Woodward and C. H. Rafferty.

The active pall bearers will be: W. W. Cotton, Millard O. Lowndes, Dr. Chapman, E. D. McKee, Frederick V. Holman and Charles J. Reed.

BENCH AND BAR MOURN HIM

Legal Fraternity Does Honor to Judge Bellinger's Memory.

The members of the Portland bar met in department No. 1, State Circuit Court, yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock to do honor to the memory of Judge Bellinger, who died on Friday. The room was crowded, and never has there been a more representative gathering of the legal fraternity, young and old.

Judges Cleland, Fraser, George and Sears occupied the bench. Judge Fraser, who is now the presiding judge of the court, called attention to the fact that it had been the custom for the presiding judge to act as chairman on such occasions. "We are called together," he said, "to take action relating to the death of Judge Charles B. Bellinger. What is your pleasure, gentlemen?"

Frederick V. Holman stated that Cyrus V. Dolph could not be present for the reason that he was engaged in attending to the funeral arrangements. Mr. Holman moved that a committee of five on resolutions be appointed, and that Mr. Dolph, who was a former partner and for many years a friend of Judge Bellinger be made chairman of the committee. He seconded the motion, and Judge Fraser announced that he would appoint the remaining four members of the committee on Monday. The establishment of the crematorium and who had always been a staunch advocate of cremation. The resolutions adopted follow:

"Resolved, that this board has learned with deep regret of the death of Judge Charles B. Bellinger, the president of the association; that in his death this association has lost not only its able, earnest and conscientious executive, but also one most active and influential in its foundation and most earnest and energetic in its work, and that the secretary is hereby directed to spread this resolution upon the minutes of this association and to communicate to the family of Judge Bellinger an expression of this board's sympathy with them in their great loss."

Tribute to Judge Bellinger.

At the weekly meeting of the Oregon State Equal Suffrage Association, held yesterday at 193 Sixth street, Mrs. A. S. Dunaway in paying a feeling tribute to the memory of Judge Bellinger, stated that the deceased jurist was an original member of the association, organized in 1872, and had never ceased to sympathize with and aid the movement with his counsel and encouragement. He took special interest in the equal suffrage campaign of 1900 and had said to Mrs. Dunaway, "The next time you make the effort you will surely win." At the close of Mrs. Dunaway's remarks a committee was appointed to draft resolutions and promptly reported the following:

"Resolved, That in the death of Judge Bellinger the Oregon State Equal Suffrage Association has suffered an irreparable loss.

"Resolved, That we tender our heartfelt sympathy to his bereaved widow and family in their great sorrow, and do not forget the many litigants who looked confidently to him for justice.

"ABIGAIL SCOTT DUNAWAY, "HELEN M. MOTTLE, "LOUISA A. NASH, "Committee."

Resolutions of Respect.

Chase Chapter, Legal Fraternity of Phi Delta Phi, has adopted the following resolutions:

"Whereas, An all-wise Providence has called before a higher tribunal our esteemed brother, the Hon. Charles B. Bellinger, and

Whereas, We wish to extend our deepest sympathy to his sorrowing family, and express the profound respect in which he was held by the members of Chase Chapter, Legal Fraternity of Phi Delta Phi, therefore be it

Resolved, That these resolutions be sent to the members of the bereaved family, that a copy thereof be placed upon the minutes of this chapter, and also be published in the daily papers of the city.

Respect Shown in San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 12.—The Federal courts adjourned this morning out of respect to the memory of the late Judge Charles B. Bellinger, of the District Court of the State of Oregon. District Attorney Devlin made the motion in the United States Circuit Court at the same time that Assistant Ben McKinley was making a similar motion, and made a few appropriate remarks, as did Judge De Haven, of the District Court.

Salem Bar Orders Resolutions.

SALEM, Or., May 12.—(Special.)—The Salem Bar Association met this afternoon and appointed the following committee to draft resolutions upon the death of Judge Bellinger: B. F. Bonham, P. H. D'Arcy, H. J. Sigger, George G. Bingham and W. H. Holmes.

The committee will report at a joint session of the two departments of the Circuit Court May 18.

in the center of the ring, sustaining painful injuries. She was immediately removed to the show train and medical aid called. Fortunately, the injuries consisted of bruises only, no bones being broken. It is not thought there were internal injuries. Mr. and Mrs. Weaver have an open-air trapeze act that is marvelous, and are credited with doing some things that other trapeze acrobats do not do. For the past week both have been suffering from ill health, but, encouraged by the large crowd at the circus yesterday afternoon, they determined to go through their most difficult feat, thinking themselves strong enough for the ordeal.

Manager Rowe consented to let them go on with their act, providing they did not go into the grand entry and saved the strength for their act. This they did. When the performance had reached its height "The Aerial Weavers" were announced and their act began. They first went through the routine "warming-up" exercises, after which they accomplished the double pass. Mrs. Weaver, instead of being returned to the trapeze in a sitting posture, had insisted each time by the usual signals in drawing herself up by her muscles, a very difficult feat when accomplished more than two or three times.

Try Most Difficult Turn.

Then the Weavers attempted their most difficult turn—that of Mrs. Weaver performing in a trapeze held by the teeth of her husband. She descended to the trapeze and lowered herself for a swing. Returning from the swing, she again attempted to regain the bar by pulling herself up. She was unable to do so. She shot out at arm's length again, and once more attempted to regain the bar. This time her strength gave out, and before her husband could remove the trap from his teeth and pull his wife into position she was obliged to let go and fall to the ground.

The eyes of the audience had been centered upon the work of the Weavers, and when Mrs. Weaver fell cries went up from 4000 throats. She struck the ground with terrific force. Attendees ran immediately to her aid, and her husband dropped quickly from the trapeze to the ground. Music ceased and Mrs. Weaver was carried moaning to the dressing-rooms. Two physicians were called from the audience. They announced that the woman was badly bruised, but that no bones were broken and there was no fear of internal injuries. An ambulance removed the injured woman to the show train, where she was placed in a berth. All things possible were done to relieve her pain. It was announced late last night that she was resting easily and would be able to go into the ring again within a week.

Insisted on Performing, Though Ill.

"Neither my wife nor myself have been feeling well for the past two weeks," said Mr. Weaver last night. "I didn't want her to go on during the afternoon, but the audience was large, and of course all acrobats are ambitious. She wanted to do some of the most difficult feats, and I finally consented. We started on all right, but she persisted in pulling herself up from arm's length instead of allowing me to place her in the trap in a sitting posture. Of course this is very difficult and fatiguing, even when an acrobat is in perfect health. I saw her weaken the last time, but she did not heed my signal to wait, and attempted to pull herself up before I could get the mouth-hold loose and rescue her. I do not think that her injuries are serious. The physicians told me there were bad bruises, but no broken bones. The fall was such a short one that she didn't have time to roll up and fall on her shoulders. She was obliged to fall full length, and this was what caused her to be bruised so badly. It is the first time my wife has fallen for more than two years. Mr. Rowe has been very kind, and has ordered that she have anything she desires."
