Ballard is Terrorized by an Insane Contractor.

JUMPS IN FRONT OF CARS

Amil Sandstrom Imagines He Has Collection of Taxes and Also Throws His Money in the Streets.

SEATTLE, Wash., May 20.—(Special.)—Amil Sandstrom docked a horse's tail, tore up a public fountain, ordered a saloon man out of his place of business, hurled himself before approaching street-cars to compel them to run slower, and terrorized the little town of Ballard by his maniacal ravings and insane actions until the police captured him today.

Sandstrom imagined himself to be in charge of the work on the Government's Lake Washington Canal, and insisted it was his duty to make the street cars company pay its taxes. He was bewilderment over the number of cars, but bravely kept up the work of throwing himself onto the tracks to stop them until he was tired. Then he began his destruction of property about the town.

After the man had been taken to the police station he took immediate charge and ordered Chief and patrolmen to do his bidding. His wild actions startled the officers for a time, but he quieted and began promising fat jobs indiscriminately to those who approached him.

While on his mad career about town Sandstrom introduced the diversion of throwing his money about the streets. He is a contractor, but at one time was a teamster—a fact possibly responsible for his docking a horse's tail during his afternoon's career.

CHARGED WITH BRIBING JURY

Convicted Tenino Cattlethieves Are Charged With Second Crime.

OLYMPIA, Wash., May 20.—(Special.)—Albert Wilson and Peter Curry, the two Tenino men convicted of cattle-theft, and whose trial was attended by an attempt to bribe three members of the jury to fall asleep, were today sentenced to three years each in the penitentiary on the cattle-stealing charge. This followed a scene said to be unparalleled in the history of legal procedure in this state.

In the presence of a crowd that packed the courtroom, their attorney, George C. Israel, made a strong effort to secure an order for a new trial on the ground that the bribery matter had been improperly discussed by the jury, and had influenced certain members to bring in a verdict of guilty. Israel acknowledged that he was unable to secure an affidavit from any juror that the discussion took place, but pleaded that the court summon the jurors before the bar and question them under oath. This motion was denied, and Israel then asked the court to dictate to a stenographer a statement of what had transpired in the Judge's private room following the trial.

Judge Linn acceded to the request and told the foreman of the jury had asked a private audience with the Judge after the trial was handed in.

The foreman told the Judge that it had been stated in the jury-room that three members of the jury had been offered a sum of money to hang the jury; that the offer had been refused by two, a member of the jury panel who did not sit in that case; that no statement had been made to him that the discussion occurred before the jury reached its verdict.

Israel then renewed his request that the jurors be summoned before the bar of the court, and Judge Linn denied the motion and refused a new trial. Prosecuting Attorney Allyn then served an information with the bribery of Juror Welch, and followed this by serving other informations charging them with attempted bribery of three other jurors.

CONDON MAY HAVE HOSPITAL

Father Kelly Is Working Project With Prospects of Success.

CONDON, Or., May 20.—(Special.)—There is a movement on foot to erect a hospital in Condon, to be organized and equipped with modern conveniences. Rev. Father Kelly, pastor of the Catholic Church of this district, has interested himself in this project for the past year or more. He has been in correspondence with the directors of his church, the sisters of which make a specialty of hospital work, and while the demand for competent nurses and hospital workers in these parts is being met, the need for a hospital is always greater than the supply. It is hoped that arrangements can be perfected at an early date which will insure a first-class hospital for Condon.

Under present conditions, every citizen of the town or surrounding country who is so unfortunate as to become a victim of some malady which requires a delicate surgical operation must be subjected to the hardships of a trip of almost 200 miles to Portland before the operation can be attempted, not because of the lack of skilled surgeons, but because the proper facilities for performing the operation under the right sanitary conditions are not to be had at home. This situation not only entails a heavy expense on the patient, but it reduces the chances for a successful operation and for the ultimate recovery of the subject.

FORTUNE-TELLERS BUNCOED.

Money Paid for License to City Does Not Protect Them.

SEATTLE, Wash., May 20.—(Special.)—The City of Seattle collects a license for fortune-tellers. The state law declares such persons are vagrants and may be punished as such. It was reported by the courts today that if a fortune-teller pays the city's license and is subsequently prosecuted under the state law he cannot recover his license fee. The payment to the city constitutes something of a bunco game in which the fortune-teller has no redress.

A Massey was arrested, a few weeks ago under the state law as a vagrant and paid a fine for the offense. Prior to this Massey, who is recently from Portland, took out a city license and paid $10 for it.

When the city refused to allow Massey to practice under a license which the municipality had given, he brought suit for the return of $50 he had paid for that license. The case was heard last Tuesday and Justice Gordon withheld decision until this afternoon, when he decided against Massey.

NAVIGATION OF SNAKE RIVER

CAPTAIN GRAY TELLS OF LOW-WATER OBSTRUCTIONS.

Temporary Improvements in Two Seasons Would Make Comparatively Safe.

LEWISTON, Idaho, May 20.—(Special.)—Giving his experience in the navigation of the Snake and Upper Columbia Rivers, Captain W. P. Gray, master of the steamer Mountain Gem, Lewiston, says:

"I have run steamboats from Wallula to Lewiston every month of the year and never knocked a hole in my boat large enough to cause her to be hauled out for immediate repairs. The river is always at a good navigable stage from April 1 to August 1, and often during the winter months, except during the extreme cold weather. From the middle of August to November 1 the water is usually very low, and between Riparia and the mouth of the Snake the boats rub on bars, reefs and boulders, and the wheel is damaged nearly every trip, and the boat's bottom soon becomes broomed and splintered."

"The captain gives by name a score or more of places in the channel that need attention. His long experience on the river has given him a thorough knowledge of these obstructions, and he points out the dangers at each point at low water."

"An estimate of the cost of moving obstructions can only be determined by actual survey," says Captain Gray. "A reef might show a small obstruction, and accurate sounding develop an extensive reef to be removed. This I learned while doing the soundings for the Government on the rapids in the Columbia between Celilo and the mouth of the Snake River, where I acted as assistant engineer for two seasons."

"Temporary improvements could be made in two seasons of low water that would make the river comparatively safe for steamers loaded to one-half their capacity to navigate except in low water."

"I would recommend for running at all stages of water, boats 100 feet long, 32 feet beam, 5 1/2 feet depth for hull. To run in high and medium stage of water, boats 120 feet long, 38 feet beam, 6 1/2 feet depth. I would recommend coal as the most economical fuel."

IS APPOINTED HOSTESS FOR COOS COUNTY

MRS. MARY MILLER HOYER, OF MARSHFIELD.

Mrs. Mary Miller Hoyer, of Marshfield, has been appointed hostess of the Coos County building by the commissioners to the Lewis and Clark Fair from that county.

Mrs. Hoyer is a native of Ohio, but resided since her childhood and until her marriage in Iowa, having moved to that state when a child with her parents. After her marriage with the late Frank X. Hoyer, a well-known newspaper man of the state, Mrs. Hoyer made her home for several years in Salem, where her husband was connected with the Capital Journal. Later they moved to Marshfield, where she has since resided.

Mrs. Hoyer is prominent in the social life of Marshfield and her appointment as hostess of the Coos County building has given general satisfaction.

University of Washington Professor Startles the Puget Sound Schoolmasters' Club.

SEATTLE, Wash., May 20.—(Special.)—Professor Padelord, of the University of Washington's faculty, declared today before a meeting of the Puget Sound Schoolmasters' Club that women teachers were gushing and lacking that degree of sanity that is essential to a good instructor of English. He declared Western boys and girls were deeply interested in Browning and that the study of English literature made the students more just, gentle and humane.

The severe criticism of women teachers was repeated by some of the listeners, though the majority took it as a joke.

SCIENTISTS TO GALAPAGOS.

Government Expedition to Study Animal and Plant Life.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 20.—An expedition to the Galapagos Islands in the South Sea will leave here June 1 under the auspices of the Academy of Sciences.

Specialists from the California and Stanford Universities will accompany the party, which will be absent one year. A thorough scientific investigation will be made into all the curious forms of animal and plant life to be found on land and sea. A Government yacht will convey the expedition.

NORTHWEST DEAD.

Michael Moore.

HILLSBORO, Or., May 20.—(Special.)—Michael Moore, an old and respected pioneer, who settled on a donation land claim, a large portion of which is now covered by the City of Hillsboro, died at his home in this city last evening, after an illness of about two years of paralysis.

The deceased was born June 4, 1820, and came to Oregon in 1844, settling on his donation claim. He was married to Miss Mary Wilson, a pioneer of 1845. The following children survive him: Mrs. Jane Williams, Hillsboro; Robert Moore, Ukiah, Or.; William Moore, Portland; Mrs. Nellie Moore, Pueblo, Colo.; E. W. Moore, Hillsboro. Four deceased children were also born to the union. Mr. Moore was highly respected, and his 61 years of residence here made him many friends. His train to the coast was the first of the season of 1844.

Darwin J. Chadwick.

GREAT FALLS, Mont., May 20.—Darwin J. Chadwick, special land agent here, was found dead in bed this morning. He is supposed to have died from paralysis, having had a shock some ten years ago. He was in good health when he retired last night.

Mr. Chadwick had been investigating land entries here for two years, and was formerly a prominent Republican in Colorado. When Utah was admitted, he was president of the Republican League of Salt Lake. For 15 years he has been connected with the General Land Office, serving in California, Arizona, Utah and Montana.

BELLINGHAM, Wash., May 20.—Information filed in the Superior Court, Whatcom County, this afternoon opens a case which will be taken to the Supreme Court to decide the legality of the state law prohibiting contractors from working more than eight hours on public work.

The information charges Charles E. Lind and his partner with working contractors more than eight hours on street improvement here. The Central Labor Council of Bellingham, backed by State Labor Commissioner Hubbard, is pushing the case.

Caught in Caving Tunnel.

PENDLETON, Or., May 20.—(Special.)—While working in Tunnel No. 4 on the O. R. & N., at Meacham this afternoon, a portion of the tunnel caved in upon Edward Hargrave, inflicting wounds believed to be fatal. Hargrave was struck in the head by a large boulder and received bad wounds. He was completely covered up by the debris, but was rescued in a few minutes by fellow workers. He was brought to the city tonight and placed under the care of a physician, who says Hargrave has a poor chance for recovery.

Bar Examinations Set.

OLYMPIA, Wash., May 20.—(Special.)—Secretary Will Schaffer, of the State Bar Association, has announced that dates for the annual meeting of the association would be July 3, 7 and 8. The meeting will be held in Spokane. The programme will be announced in a few days.

Backed up by over a third of a century of remarkable and uniform cures, a record such as no other remedy for the diseases and weaknesses peculiar to women ever attained, the proprietors and makers of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription now feel fully warranted in offering to pay $500 in legal money of the United States for any case of Leucorrhoea, Female Weakness, Protrusion, or Falling of Womb, which they cannot cure. All they ask is a fair and reasonable trial of their means of cure.

No other medicine than Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription could possibly "win out" as the saying goes, on such a proposition; but they know whereof they speak. They have the most remarkable record of cures made by this world-famed remedy ever placed to the credit of any preparation.

Their preparation is the only one of its kind especially designed for the cure of women's peculiar ailments. This wonderful remedy, therefore, stands absolutely alone as the only one possessed of such unrivaled properties as to fully warrant its makers in publishing the remarkable offer above made in the utmost good faith.

"A short time ago I was almost dead with nervous prostration, general debility and female weakness," writes Mrs. Loretta Webster of 377 Virginia Ave., Lexington, Ky. "Worthy Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription was recommended to me by a friend, and I obtained splendid results, securing my health. Women ought to be grateful to him for his remedy, and I would advise them for their troubles. I advise every sick and suffering woman to stop spending money and wasting time with doctor prescriptions, when a few bottles of your remedy is sure to cure. I am the happy mother of five children, my eyes are clear, and feel right again."

Do not permit the dealer to insult your intelligence by suggesting some other compound which he recommends as "just as good" as the one he makes himself. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has stood the test of time and experience. Thousands speak well of it—because thousands have been cured by it.

Sugar Factory at KallsPELL.

GREAT FALLS, Mont., May 20.—A special session of the Legislature of that state announced that David Rees, a capitalist of Ogden, Utah, who is interested in sugar-beet factories at La Grande, Or., and Raymond, Alberta, has announced his intention of building a factory at KallsPELL, so as to be ready for the next year's crops. Guarantees of 4000 acres of beets are required.

OLD MINER TAKES POISON

Body Is Found by Friends on Floor of Cabin Beside a Bottle of Strychnine.

MEDFORD, Or., May 20.—(Special.)—Last night Coroner Cameron was called to Jacksonville to examine the body of Adam Schmitt, a pioneer miner who had been found dead in his cabin a few miles from that town. Schmitt, who was over 70 years old, had been in the city for some time, and had been employed by placer mining on Jackson Creek, but the dry winter has prevented him from earning the small sum needed to carry him through the year.

On the occasion of his last visit to Jacksonville two weeks ago he borrowed $10 from a friend and bought provisions with it. As he was going out with his load of provisions he remarked that that was the last load he expected to carry out. His failure to return to town for his mail caused a search to be instituted, with the result that the old man was found lying upon his cabin floor, and from appearances death had occurred shortly after his recent visit to Jacksonville.

A partly emptied bottle of strychnine was found on a shelf, and the position of the body indicated death by this agent. Evidently the old miner, feeling that he could no longer keep up the struggle for existence, had taken the poison in a fit of desperation.

BREAKS ARM, BUT SAVES LIFE

Heroic Action of Eight-Year-Old Girl in Garfield.

GARFIELD, Wash., May 20.—(Special.)—To save her baby brother's life from being crushed out, the little 8-year-old daughter of James Finch threw herself from a descending saw-saw board, sustaining a broken arm as the result, but saving the baby from serious injury, perhaps death.

A number of children were playing in Mr. Finch's yard with the saw-saw, when as her end of the board was descending the little girl saw the baby toddle directly underneath. With great presence of mind the girl rolled off the board, causing her end to go up at once.

A badly broken arm was the result of the child's heroism, but she says she will bear the pain gladly as her prompt action saved her baby brother from harm.

House Burns as They Dine.

WEISER, Idaho, May 20.—(Special.)—The residence of Coulter Bros., milkmen, was entirely consumed by fire about 2 o'clock this afternoon. The family were dining at the time and did not know the house was afire until notified by neighbors. By hard work the most of the contents were saved. The loss is about $2500. The building was so far removed from the fire hydrants that the fire department was powerless to quench the flames.

Eikhorn Reserve in Montana.

BUTTE, Mont., May 20.—A special to the Miner from Washington says:

President Roosevelt today issued a proclamation establishing the Eikhorn forest reserve in Montana. The Eikhorn reserve will be one of the largest reserves in the West. It covers an area as large as the Bitter Root reserve in Idaho, and will embrace the Crazy Mountains.
