

hymn composed and set to music by himself. Mr. G. P. Ralston proposed "Our Young Men," to which Mr. E. J. McAllister responded. Mr. Frank Silvestro, "Our Young Ladies," which was responded to by Mr. T. S. McDaniel. Mr. E. Althaus proposed "Our Social Life," and was responded to by Rev. B. G. Short. of Taylor-street Methodist Episcopal Church. A vote of thanks was given to the Ladies' Aid Society and their president, Mrs. E. C. Frost.

The reception to Dr. Brounger on Friday evening at the White Temple, was largely attended, particularly by the younger members of his congregation. When he took his place to make an address, an immense bouquet of roses from the gallery was thrown at him, and this was a signal for hundreds of others to do likewise, until he was fairly planted in a bed of roses. The suddenness of the "rose shower" and its surprise, fairly overcame Dr. Brounger, who almost made him forget his speech. After nearly apoplexy, however, he recovered his equilibrium and made a bright and happy address.

The large Sunday-school hall was profusely decorated with white and red festooned crepe paper, with many class monogram banners and countless roses and flowers. A delightful evening programme was rendered, which was thoroughly appreciated and received many encores. The hospitality and good cheer, for which the White Temple is so well-known, were in full evidence. The lower temple was also handsomely decorated, and delicious lemonade was served from four bowls.

A delightful afternoon was spent on Friday at the home of Mrs. Hallock. The occasion being a miscellaneous shower given by Miss De Spain and Miss Constance De Spain in honor of Miss Florence Hallock. A profusion of roses, sweet peas and daisies decorated the rooms. Festoons of red hearts hung from chandeliers and arches.

Miss Alma Hallock sang "In the Time of Roses" charmingly. The game of hearts was played. Dainty refreshments were served, after which the hall was decorated with daisies and filled with many beautiful gifts was presented to Miss Hallock. Those present were: Mesdames Raley, Pruitt, Jackson, Sweeney, Lowell, Manley, House, Berkeley, Daly, Silvestro, Jones, Rourke, Dickens, De Spain and W. J. Furnish, of Pendleton; Misses Hallock, Alma Hallock, Groat, Stone, Sheridan, Zander, Osheniffer, Hayes, Hexter, De Spain, Constance De Spain, Dickens, Edna Thompson, and Katherine Furnish, of Pendleton.

Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Graham entertained the East and West Side Ladies and Clark Winter Clubs at their home in Irvington last night. The Military whist was played at 11 table. The rooms were prettily decorated with flags and cut flowers. Prizes were won by Mrs. Edwin Ross, Mr. Draper, Mrs. A. S. Edith, Mr. R. Webster. The guests of the club were: Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Singletary, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Richmond, Mr. and Mrs. D. Webster, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Capron, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Clifton, Mr. and Mrs. David Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Burt Denison, Mrs. Mervyn Denison, Mrs. A. L. Woodward, Mrs. Weaver, the "Ladies' Reed," the Misses Phyllis, Miss Grace Watkins, Miss Evelyn Tyrell, Mr. R. Fisher, Mrs. L. Kuster, Mr. McCorken, and Dr. and Mrs. Ross, of St. Helens.

A pleasant surprise party was given on May 23 by Mrs. Bert Morehead and Miss Edna McDonald in honor of Mrs. B. P. Johnson's birthday at her home, 711 Madison street. The room was decorated with ferns and roses. Games were played and a programme of music was given by Miss Hattie Milne, after which refreshments were served. Those present were: Mr. C. V. Randall, Mr. and Mrs. Goodwin, Mrs. Milne, Mrs. I. M. Whitcomb, Mrs. George Egbert, Miss Vida Sullivan, Mrs. George Milne, Mrs. Nellie Hess, Mrs. M. Morehead, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. McAlpine, Mrs. Jessie Smith, Mr. Frank Morehead, Miss Eva Derham, Mr. and Mrs. B. Morehead, Mr. and Mrs. McAlpine, Miss Edna McDonald and Miss Kate McDonald.

Mrs. E. T. Allen, wife of the assistant pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, has been the guest of honor at several delightful entertainments. One of the most charming was a surprise given last Wednesday at the residence of Mrs. James E. Wilson, 455 Taylor street. The girls of Mrs. Allen's Bible class were out in force, making an attractive picture in dainty summer gowns. The hours were passed with games and music. Miss Brooks giving a reading, and vocal solos being contributed by Miss Rogers and Miss Wilson. Mrs. Henry Fries gave piano numbers. A pleasant feature was the presentation to Mrs. Allen of a beautiful picture, "The Modern Madonna and Child." At the close refreshments were served. Thirty guests were present.

Mrs. Catharine Daly entertained 26 guests Monday afternoon in a most delightful manner at the home of Mrs. P. Weaver, of Omaha, Neb. The house was beautiful with elaborate decorations of flags of all nations. Ferns and cut flowers were seen in great profusion everywhere, making a scene so lovely as to be remembered as an ideal military whist company. Mrs. Charles Ross was officer of the day, seeing that the facts were conducted in true military fashion. Her fort winning honors was Great Britain, which was represented by Mrs. Ross, Mrs. Abrey, Mrs. Denison and Mrs. Murphy. Elaborate refreshments were served. Mrs. Daly was congratulated on her success as a true military hostess.

The Five Hundred Club was entertained on Tuesday afternoon by Mrs. Pelton Reid, at her home, 715 Twelfth street. The dining-room was profusely decorated with English ivy and roses. The hostess presided from the chandelier to the corners of the table, and a rose luncheon-ent was used. Beside the club members, Mrs. Reid had as her guests Mrs. B. P. Johnson, Mrs. C. E. P. Hill, of the First Presbyterian Church, who is stopping in Portland en route to her home from San Diego, Cal.; Mrs. Robinson, of San Francisco; and Mrs. Louis Shick, who has recently come to Portland. Mrs. Shick is the daughter of Mr. O. M. Clark, who has just purchased the Linnton mill.

The Clover Leaf Club has brought its year's work to a close, to the regret of all concerned, on account of the illness of the president, Mrs. J. P. Wagner. This club has been holding semi-weekly meetings since the first of this year, and has made good progress, its aim being to study nature and encourage originality. The work will be taken up next October with renewed interest, armed with the knowledge gained by the study of pictures shown at the coming Exposition.

Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Bouty entertained Monday evening in honor of the John Card Club, of which they have been members the past season. A number of other friends were present. The evening was very pleasantly passed, and prizes were awarded. Beautiful and unique prizes were awarded, and delicious refreshments were served. One more party, in the nature of a farewell, will be given Monday evening, June 5, at the residence of Dr. L. B. Smith, 614 Fourth street.

One of the most delightful children's parties of the season took place on Friday, the 19th inst., at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Wilcox. Their daughter, Miss Claire, entertained 20 boys and girls at a dance in honor of her birthday. Parsons' orchestra furnished music. Scotch broom, sweet peas and daisies were used for decorations. The children were given for decorations.

Mrs. R. H. Austin, 651 Hood street,

A DRAMATIC LEADER OF MUCH PROMISE

MISS ELLA KATHERINE EHMSON.

Oregon, and particularly Portland, singers, stage people and dramatic readers are gaining a name in the East for the talent they possess and for the good use they make of their opportunities, and one of the best of the younger dramatic readers and students in this city at the present time who may make a name on the professional stage some day, is Miss Ella Katherine Ehmson, public school teacher. Born in Nebraska, Miss Ehmson was brought to this city when she was quite a small girl, and here she secured her education, being a graduate of the Portland High School. For a long time she has shown taste and talent for dramatic reading and acting, and already she is an eloquentist of marked ability. Her instructor in dramatic work is G. Lester Paul, of the Western Academy of Music, Oratory and Dramatic Art, and along with Mr. Paul she has appeared in dual selections with success. She has also read before the Women's Club, at the Marquand Theater. Hard work and close study are before Miss Ehmson until she reaches her ideal, and her friends are confident she will warrant their kind prophecies. Personally, Miss Ehmson is a blonde, tall and stately, and she has that soft, peachy complexion that artists love to produce on canvas and then fail, for they cannot excel the color Nature paints.

was hostess to the ladies of the "Jolly Whist Club" Thursday afternoon. First prize was won by Mrs. Coffey, and second prize by Miss Helen Eilers. The consolation by Mrs. W. H. Manekin. Miss Carrie Seal will next entertain the club at her home, 86 Idaho street, Friday, June 3.

Mrs. William Parker, of Woodburn, and a visiting friend from Portland, were the appreciative recipients of a dainty lunch sent in Monday night by Colonel J. M. Poorman, who, with his usual chivalric courtesy, remembered the ladies during the festivities of the Masonic fraternity.

Miss Rowe entertained on Wednesday afternoon at the Concordia Club, in honor of Mrs. Sam Rothchild, who is a recent bride in this city, from Boise. Six tables were placed for five hundred. Prizes were carried off by Mrs. Ignatz Lowengard and Mrs. Fred Rothchild.

Mrs. Eldor Lang entertained the Whist Club on Friday, at its last meeting for the season.

Royal Circle, No. 328, W. O. W., held their election last Thursday evening.

WEDDINGS.

James-Bell.

A wedding of the past week in which every class of society is interested, was that of Miss Rita Bell to Mr. William H. James, of Santa Rosa, Cal. Miss Bell is the youngest daughter of Major and Mrs. E. C. Bell, of Seaside, and for a number of years edited the social page of The Sunday Oregonian. In this capacity her acquaintance became unusually broad, and with every class she proved popular. Miss Bell is also well known as an artist, her drawings having appeared in local papers and magazines, and her water-color work now adorns many Portland homes. As the author of several short stories she proved cleverness. One, "The Baby's Honeymoon," published in the Sunset, is a distinctly fine bit of unique fiction. Mr. James is one of the best-known of the younger business men in Northern California. He was business manager of the Sacramento Bee for several years, and is at present proprietor and manager of the Santa Rosa Republic. The foremost paper in the northern section of the state. The wedding, which occurred at the home of the bride's parents, was attended by the immediate family. Dr. E. P. Hill, of the First Presbyterian Church, officiated. Mr. and Mrs. James will reside in Santa Rosa. They are spending their honeymoon in San Francisco and other California points.

White-Bushman.

Jay White and Miss Leona Bushman were married June 24 at the residence of the bride's parents in Seaside, by Rev. Dr. E. Gray. Many friends were present and showed great congratulations upon the happy couple. Mr. White is employed on Government construction work at Port Canby, which will be the future home of Mr. and Mrs. White.

Jones-Hellwell.

One of the pleasant events of the East Side took place on Wednesday evening, at the Calvary Baptist Church, when Mr. William H. Jones and Miss Florence E. Hellwell were united in marriage. Rev. A. Lawrence Black, pastor of the Calvary Church, was the officiating clergyman, and the ring ceremony was used. The church was beautifully decorated with ferns and roses, and a large double heart-shaped banner behind the altar where the bride and groom were seated. At five minutes to 8 Miss Adelaide Withcombe began the prelude to the wedding march, and precisely at 8 the groom, with his best man, Mr. Arthur Jones, appeared at the altar. Miss Thompson, who was maid of honor, led the way to the altar, followed by the bridesmaid, Miss Rudell. The maid of honor wore white net over pink silk. The bridesmaid was dressed in blue silk with white trim and white lace. The bride was led to the altar and given in marriage by her father. She wore a cream tulle over tulle.

LADIES, DON'T MISS IT.

McAllen & McDonnell

Corner Third and Morrison Streets

through Alaska waters on the lighthouse tender. They have been gone for about three weeks, and will not return before the last of June. Mrs. Helmer is chaperoning the party.

Mrs. Bauer has received word that Miss Marion, her daughter, who has been in New York studying during the past winter, has been taken ill with scarlet fever. This will delay Miss Marion's homecoming, which was expected in early June, until several weeks later. Miss Emilie Frances Bauer is with her.

Mrs. Lischen M. Miller, of Eugene, was in town the early part of the week, stopping over for a few days to visit her friend, Mrs. Rogers, of Irvington. Mrs. Miller is on the way to New York for a short visit to her cousin, Mrs. J. Frederick Thorne, who will return to Oregon with her next week. The latter book, "The Wisdom of Omar," which has just been published in Portland, is the joint work of Mrs. Miller and Mrs. Rogers, and seems likely to prove one of the most popular things ever done by literary women of the state.

At the Women's Union.

Miss Tillie Stoyton left yesterday for a few days' visit to her home at Station, near Salem.

Mrs. A. Hammond, of Woodstock, was the guest of her sister, Miss E. Pope, at dinner on Wednesday evening.

Miss Julia Cowperthwaite returned on Thursday from a two weeks' trip to Astoria and other points down the Columbia.

Closing Dancing Party.

Portland Dancing Academy, 299 Alder street, Tuesday evening, May 30.

A very welcome arrival in Portland is Madame Tully, who with her husband, will be here for the summer. The Madame has the same apartments occupied by her a few years ago. She is the most successful professionally and agreeable and attractive personally of any "beauty" physician this part of the country has ever known.

While here, Madame Tully made many friends among the prominent society women of the city, and all are rallying around her again, giving greetings and taking her new patrons. Some of her remedies for the complexion are invaluable and not procurable elsewhere. Madame Tully is a perfect exponent of her own science, as she is even younger and handsomer in appearance than when here before, and claims it is all due to her prescriptions for the health and complexion.

"City's Honor" His Theme.

E. S. J. McAllister, the attorney who formerly represented the Anti-Saloon League of the city, will speak at the men's meeting at the Y. M. C. A. auditorium this afternoon, at 2:30 o'clock. His theme will be, "The City's Honor." Special music will be given by the Association Glee Club. The men's meetings at the association auditorium have been suspended for some weeks on account of special meetings at the Marquand Theater. They will be resumed today. The regular programme of men's meetings, Bible study groups and lunch, will be continued. There is no charge and the afternoon gatherings are free, for men only.

Sid. Blumenthal's New Position.

It will give pleasure to the many Portland friends of Sid. Blumenthal to know that he has been appointed advertising lithographic agent at the new Belasco Theater, for the season of 1905-06. There were a half-dozen applicants for the position, but Mr. Blumenthal's successful business record helped him to win out. He started in the business in this city as advertising lithographic manager at the Marquand Theater, and next occupied similar positions at Corday's and Baker's Theaters, with the James Neill Company, at Seattle, and recently at the Columbia Theater. He is a hard worker, and his many friends in the theatrical profession, both in the business and artistic ends, wish Sid. Blumenthal luck.

MADAME HAS HAD A VERY BUSY WEEK of it, and hundreds of ladies have called upon her. She has astonished all with her apparent youth, and many have been the exclamations of "How did you do it?" "Can't you teach us how to preserve our youth in the wonderful manner which you must employ to enable a woman of fifty-five to look not more than a day over thirty?"

To all of these inquiries Madame Tully has answered in a way that has satisfied all questioners. She simply assists nature to work out the course that is laid out for it to take, and in a few days a woman of fifty-five or sixty years of age, who has been twenty-five or thirty, but by using preparations furnished by nature's great chemical laboratory, concentrated by the skill and industry of man, she has been able to prolong the work of nature and make it accomplish that which in the ordinary course of life nature is unable, unaided by man, to do. Madame Tully claims to have discovered that which will accomplish this prolongation of youth.

Madame Tully's preparations are all that is claimed for them, and all that have occasion to use them have found that their effects are wonderful.

Madame Tully will sell in any part of her wonderful treatment in those who desire to make a profession of facial and skin treatment, and will supply them with outfit and all needed supplies.

Agents wanted for Oregon and Washington. All mail addressed to Madame Tully, Portland Hotel, Portland, Or., will be promptly answered.
