

SWEENEY MAKES MANY PURCHASES

He Invests Nearly a Million Dollars in Portland Realty.

PRICES NOW GO BOOMING

Down-Town Property Has Doubled in Value Within a Few Months and Lots Are Everywhere in Demand.

SWEENEY INVESTS NEARLY A MILLION.

Charles Sweeney, of Spokane, who has within the past eight months invested $850,000 in Portland real estate, says:

"Many offers have been made me of real estate in some of the most prosperous cities in the United States, but I have refused all except those from Portland and Spokane. Among the offers made were some from Seattle, which I did not take. From Portland, Mr. Sweeney's purchases in the last few months are:

Dekum block, Third and Washington streets.....	$350,000
Dekum block, Thirteenth and Morrison streets.....	75,000
L-shaped property, Seventh and Morrison streets.....	100,000
Washington block, Fourth and Washington streets.....	200,000
Northeast quarter, Third and Stark streets.....	125,000
Total.....	$850,000

Mr. Sweeney is also about to build an eight-story structure for Tull & Gibbs at Seventh and Morrison.

Since February 1, $650,000 worth of Washington-street property has been sold. This represents only a small fraction of the sales made in town, but being the most active district, is most worthy of comment. Last week, however, on this busy thoroughfare, only one sale was reported, that of the southeast corner of Ford and Washington streets for $8000. This property, which was in the hands of the Security Savings & Trust Company, was sold to J. D. Wharton and Katherine A. Daly. Mr. Wharton recently bought a lot to the west of the new Silverfield street, immediately across Washington street from the end of Ford.

The most prominent sales of the week were the Catholic Church property on the northeast corner of Third and Stark streets, to Charles Sweeney, for $125,000; the southwest corner of Sixth and Flinders, by C. A. Dolph to J. D. Hart for $25,000; and the northeast corner of Fifth and Burnside by Dr. Henry E. Jones to Rosewell Lamson for $35,000.

There may now be said to be a fair boom in Portland real estate. It should be remembered, however, that this boom has been going on since the first of the year. It is now obvious in the light of the transfers actually made that the boom came with Charles Sweeney. Since he first began to buy real estate in Portland last fall the market has been continually increasing until now prices have doubled and even more than doubled on all down-town property. There has been a feeling among possible purchasers to wait until the fall was over and then buy, but they saw that the time to buy was right away. Portland has had a rising real estate market ever since.

Barney Bernard, Coming Actor

BARNEY BERNARD.

By A. A. G.

KEEP an eye on Barney Bernard, the young Hebrew actor, who was in Portland last week. He is a comer. At 23, with health and ambition and energy enough to run a drudge, he stands a good chance of some day becoming one of our most important stars. He is thoroughly Jewish, and proud of it, so he set out to give the stage a Hebrew character that is not a grotesque caricature. He has a big field and has it practically alone, for David Warfield, whom he evidently follows to some extent, is not playing Jewish roles now. Bernard is being taken seriously, although he is a graduate from Weberfeld burlesque, and finds that fact something of a handicap. In San Francisco, where they have been laughing at and with him for three years, they could not get at first understand the Barney

SPORT THAT COSTS MONEY

Eight Millions a Year Spent on Yachting, Vessels Worth $43,000,000.

Pearson's Magazine.

More than $42,000,000 invested in yachts, $4,000,000 in clubhouses and club property and $3,000,000 spent every year for pleasure in yachting. The expenditures given are for the United States. There are now 290 yacht clubs in this country, with more than 20,000 members and a total of 215 carefully recorded yachts.

There are perhaps 10,000 very small launches and motor-boats and an unknown number of tiny sailboats which do not enter into this field of consideration. Among the recorded yachts, 112 are steamers, 139 are auxiliaries (having small power engines to use when winds fall light or when working into harbors), 205 are schooners, 1422 sloops and cutters, 225 yachts, 146 catboats, 308 launches with gas, electric, or naphtha motors.

Of the steamers, 357 are built of wood, 25 are composite structures of wood and steel, and 123 are entirely of steel. These steel vessels are worth $17,249,000.

Seven Vessels Costing $3,500,000.

All modern vessels are built of steel, and the seven that are over 200 feet in length are among the handsomest in the world. These are W. K. Vanderbilt's Valiant, James Gordon Bennett's Aphrodite, A. J. Drexler's Margarita, Mrs. Robert G. G. Morgan's Cornair, Eugene Higgin's Varuna, and Colonel Oliver H. Payne's Aphrodite. The average price for these seven has been placed at $500,000 each.

In the next class are F. W. Vanderbilt's Warrior and Howard Gould's Niagara, each worth $250,000.

The 25 vessels of composite build are worth $269,000, and the wooden boats are worth $7,929,000. This makes a total for the steel yachts owned by American yachtsmen of $25,362,000.

If the 2118 American yachts of record were arranged in a line up the Hudson from the Battery at ordinary anchoring distance they would reach to the Poughkeepsie bridge.

The steamers over 200 feet long, headed by W. K. Vanderbilt's Valiant, 225 feet long, and 123 feet wide, would make the line to West Sixteenth street, about three miles.

How the Crews Are Paid.

Big vessels like the Valiant, Varuna, Cornair and others require crews of 25 men. It would take $250 men to handle the steamers and auxiliaries, 1517 for the schooners, 420 for the yachts, 1215 for the sloops and 600 for the power boats, making a total of 3902 men.

The pay of an ordinary sailor is $30 a month. Many owners add to this $5 a month for good conduct. Quartermasters get a little more than sailors, mates $50 to $100 a month, assistant engineers the same as mates, and captains and engineers from $75 a month to $3500 a year. The average payroll for these 3902 men might be put at $40 a month. This would mean $360,000 a month, or $1,800,000 for the five months.

These men have to be fed. Fifty cents a day is allowed for each man. This means $195,000 a month for food, or $975,000 for the five months. Each sailor must be provided with one blue uniform, two suits of duck, caps, rubber boots, etc., and these cost $15 for each man, another outlay of $135,000.

The overhauling and fitting out of the vessels will mean an expenditure of $1,500,000.

Warrant Issued for Brudo.

A warrant for the arrest of Leon Brudo was placed in the hands of Captain of Police Griffith last yesterday afternoon. It was issued on a complaint made to the District Attorney, charging assault with a dangerous weapon upon the man's wife, who was formerly a dancer in the Oriental Theater on the Street of Cairo, an attraction on the Trail at the Lewis and Clark Exposition.

Brudo became jealous of his wife, and also wanted her to marry him in American style. She refused, and a quarrel ensued. When the place was packed with people, the man drew a revolver and fired two shots at his wife. She was slightly injured. He then turned the weapon on himself and attempted to commit suicide. He is still in St. Vincent's Hospital. His wife left that institution yesterday.

CAMPMEETING AT TURNER

Opens With Prospects of Very Large Attendance.

TURNER, Or., June 24.—(Special.)—The Turner missionary convention opened its sessions Friday night with a service of song, led by Charles McVey, the noted singing evangelist, followed by a rousing sermon on "Christ, the Great Teacher," by Rev. J. V. Coon, of Milton. The camp ground is being filled up rapidly and the cottages are being occupied. A large attendance is anticipated. The sessions will be held in Turner Memorial Tabernacle, the largest church building in the state, with a seating capacity of 4000.

The Ministerial Association held its sessions yesterday and the other conventions came in succession until July 24. In the evening a song service was led by Charles McVey, followed by a sermon by Rev. J. A. Lord, editor Christian Standard, of Cincinnati.

THE BEST PLACE TO DINE

Grillroom of the Hotel Oregon Has Superior Accommodations.

Where is the best place to dine in Portland? At the new grill-room of the Hotel Oregon, Seventh and Stark.

The grill-room is the most handsomely furnished in the Northwest, the orchestra plays the latest music, the linen and silverware are the costliest, the service is quick, the ventilation is perfect, and the cooking of the chef is delicious.

You will not be sorry if you drop in after the theater.

School Directors Confess and Are Sent to Jail.

POTTSVILLE, Pa., June 24.—Joseph B. Potts, David Priest, Jacob Noll and George Hovey, School Directors of Shenandoah, were today sentenced to serve one year in jail for bribery and conspiracy. The men pleaded guilty to accepting bribes for their influence in appointment of school teachers.

Strike Stops Bridge-Building.

NEW YORK, June 23.—A general strike of the structural ironworkers has stopped progress on the Blackwell's island bridge across the East River. According to H. S. Buchanan, of the International Association of Structural Ironworkers, the strike is in sympathy with one now on at the contracting company's main plant at Harrisburg. Several hundred men are involved.
