Jeffries Says New Champion Must Earn Honor.

PROPHECY ON RENO FIGHT

Lou Houseman Thinks Hart's Training in Nevada Has Been Too Arduous, and That Root Will Be Victorious.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 1 .- (Special.) Referee James J. Jeffries, if you please, left for Reno last night to be present at the Hart-Root battle which takes place Monday. Before setting out for the sagebrush commonwealth, Jeffries received a telegram from the Reno Club- to draw on it for $1300 which it agreed to pay him for his services. But for this message he would not have left when he did.

Jeffries was not sure that the Reno Club had good financis; backing, and he had no desire to visit Reno on "spec." Jeffries was given "hurry up" orders, as he was wanted on the ground to boom the big show. He did not intend to leave until Sunday night, but when told to leave last night he hus :led about and made reservation for his "Do you recognize this is a fight for the championsoip?" Jeffries was asked before he left. "I do not," he replied without a ond's thought, "The club is advertising that you will be on hand to bestow the title on the observed the writer. "I know it," remarked Jeffries, "but they have no right to. The title is something I can't give to whomever I please. If it was, I might give it to Colonel Martin Brady or Dick Adams.

Aleer frantically beckened Browning to No, the little is something they must all come over toward center, while he him-fight for, and it is for the press and public to decide who is champion. They budged. Ward drove a line fly to left are the best judges."

ou Houseman says of the coming battle:

Root Has Gained Weight.

Root will jump into the Reno ring at close to 175 pounds. He has been loing his training in the cool canyon north of Ogden, where he has put on rather than taken off weight. He writes that he has gathered some six or seven pounds and stace he weighed about 168 ounds when he left here—then already p fair shape-it is fair to presume that the Calcago boxer will not be far away from the 175-pound notch when he puts up his hands

"Hart is a very big man. When Root met and whipped him here on the occasion of their last meeting. Marvin scaled close to 195 pounds. There are scaled close to 195 pounds. There are those who say that he was on the far side of the 200-pound divide. For this battle he trained in Louisville. For the hattle of next Monday, Hart conditioned himself at Reno, as hot a place in mid-Summer as the Nevada desert can boast of, so it is likely that Hart will suffer—or profit, as the case may be—in the matter of weight. Everything considered it is unlikely that erything considered, it is unlikely that Hart will make much more than 190

"If this is so, there will be a weight difference of 15 pounds in Hart's favor. Hart is a hard-hitting, willing and Hart is a hard-hitting, willing and aggressive fighter. He is built somewhat after the Tom Sharkey type—on The championship meet of the Pacific what after the Tom Sharkey type—on the order of the Jack of Spades. Not particularly fast, with little save will-ingness, doggedness and determination back of him. Hart is going to face one of the speedlest, fastest men in the world. Root has two good hands. He has a knockout punch in either hand. Hart's forte is his right, which is brought half-way around his body for effective work. Root has a sharp, cutting left, with which he has got inside many a man who attempted the fullarm swing.

Rules Will Help Root.

"Another thing which is liable offset Hart's advantage in weight is the fact that the men will box under clean-break rules. There will be no hitting in clinches or in the break-aways. The men will have to unlock holds cleanly and step back after a clinch. Naturally, even though, I struggle against it. I must perforce be somewhat prejudiced against the local man. I brought Root out, and have more or less successfully guided the fortunes of the fellow ever since he be came a fighter in the middle, light heavy, and now in the heavy-weight division. I may be wrong, but, with due allowance for the blinding effect my admiration for Root may have upon my judgment, I think that he will whip Hart, and that easily."

NOLAN WANTS FORFEIT COIN

Bay City Sports Very Curious About Britt-Nelson Articles.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 1 .- (Special.) -Battling Nelson came to town last night. With him was Manager Nelan and Neison's young brother, also a bunch of trouble. The sporting com-munity of San Francisco has been awaiting the arrival of Nelson and No-lan and such of them as are in the "show me" state have been waiting for peek at the set of articles between Britt and Nelson, in which it is agreed by all parties that neither of the parties to the Britt-Nelson contest shall engage in a boxing contest of more than six rounds prior to their meeting Nolan says that after the contest be-tween Britt and Sullivan has taken place he will then make another formal lemand on Harry Corbett for the forfelt money, and on that account thece is more trouble in sight.

Pete Browning played left field for the Cleveland Brotherhood team in 1890. He had been a star batter for the Louisville team for several years before. His fielding, however, had been brilliant only on occasions, and Jim McAleer, who was in center field for the Cleveland team, sethimself the task of making Browning of some value in the outer garden.

In one game in Cleveland, in the year of the two leagues, Johnny Ward came to center and made the circuit. As the men came in McAleer yelled to Browning: "If you had come over where I told you to, you could have got that ball."
"Yes." yelled Pete; "and if Ward had hit where I was standing I could have got it, too. Den't forget that!"

Browning's batting was good enough, however, to command him a big salary for many years. He was the Delehanty of his day, driving the ball to the fence with cannon ball speed.

When Al Johnson offered Pete a Cleve land contract to sign in 1890, he said: "This calls for $3000, Pete, but you don't get it if you touch a drop of liquor." Browning reached for a pen and signed his name.

"I've been trying to drink Kentucky dry for ten years," he said; "I guess I can let the stuff alone for a year."

And he did, although most of his team-Browning drifted out of the game, and made his home with relatives down in Kentucky.

Track and Field Meet Postponed.

The track and field me ; scheduled to be held at the Lewis and Clark stadium July 3 and 4 has been postponed by H. W. Kerrigan until July 7 and 8. The July 3 and 4 has been postponed.

W. Kerrigan until July 7 and 5. The clubs of the N. P. A. expressed a desire that came simultaneously, and the mizzen to have the games postponed, so that topmast came tumbling in splinters to topmast came tumbling in splinters to the deck. Lightning had struck the mast Amateur Athletics Association has been canceled. Since the clubs have become members of the American Amsteur Athletic Union it was deemed unwise to send tion and re-enter them for games under the auspices of the A. A. U. Teams which were entered for the P. A. A. meet will be entered for the A. A. U. meet, to be held August 4 and 5.

Yacht Races July Fourth.

The Lewis and Clark yacht races which were to have been held yesterday afternoon on Guild's Lake were postponed and will not be held until July 4 in the after-noon. Four 16-foot yachts had assembled on the lake to take part in the races, but after being becalmed for over an hour, it was decided to postpone the event. The lake was as smooth as a mirror and there were small prospects for a breeze until evening. The yachts yesterday were: Moonshiner, J. B. Honeyman; Mischlef, R. W. Foster; Jewel, T. F. Powers, and Lakota, C. D. Crichton.

Steamer Potter Takes 400 Excursionists to Coast.

TO LEAVE HERE ON TIDES

Prospects Are for Heavy Travel by Water to Beach Resorts of Oregon and Washington This Summer.

When the steamer T. J. Potter makes her first excursion run to the beaches it is always regarded as the opening of the Summer season. Four hundred people took passage on her for Astoria and Ilwaco yesterday afternoon, and the coast traffic therefore promises to be heavy from the start. This year the Potter is to leave Portland according to the tides at Sand Island, instead of leaving here at a fixed time and waiting at Astoria for the tide

Yesterday afternoon she left the Ash street dock at 1:20. On other days than Saturday she will leave in the morning, according to the tide. Yesterday she was according to the tide. Yesterial she was due at liwaco at $15, so that the excur-sionists were in their hotels along the beach by bedtime. Among those on board the Potter was A. B. Wollaber, local forecaster at the Weather Bureau, who began The only idle river steamer now is the Telephone. Yesterday two men were at work painting her, and Friday steam was raised in her boilers, but there seems to be no probability of her getting on any run

LIGHTNING HITS TOPMAST.

City of Peking Has an Adventurous Trip Up the Coast.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 1.—(Special.)— This was steamer day in the harbor. The steamers San Jose and City of Peking, of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company's fleet, came into port from Panama and way ports, and the Curacao, flying the flag of the Pacific Coast Company, brought a big cargo and many passengers from Mexican ports.

The steamer Mariposa sailed out through the heads, bound for Tabiti, and the Doric departed for Chinese and Japanese ports by way of Honolulu. Besides these deep-water vessels, there were about a dozen other craft bound to ports along the coast, both north and south, that passed over the bar. The San Jose and the City of Peking were considerably delayed their way up the coast for want of la And he did, although most or one mates kept the barkeepers on the jump. After the wreck of the brotherhood discovering drifted out of the game, and they both made the harbor at about the proment.

While the City of Peking was steaming northward, off Acajutla, she ran into a storm that was accompanied by lightning It was night, and the passengers were rain that fell. The lightning was vivid and there were almost continual flushes. There was a sharp report and a blinding flash

While the ship lay at Manzauillo, J. Francisco who had been shipped at San Jose de Guatemala as a steerage walter. developed a grudge against S. Chance, a cabin boy. He ran after the boy with a knife, and was stopped only when the steamer's mate knocked him over with a club. Francisco was discharged at the

Among the passengers on the City of Peking was United States Marshal Ge H. Greene, of Dallas, Tex. He came from San Jose de Guatemala with W. H. Guehlam in custody. The prisoner was a cleri-in a get-rich-quick concern that used the mails to defraud its victims. Officers had been searching for him for nearly a year, and he was a short time ago located in the southern republic. He is wanted more as a witness against his compani the swindling game than as a principal in the crime.

The Mariposa, which sailed for Tahlti, went out with a blg crowd of pussengers. These are on a holiday trip to the South Sea island. During the steamer's stop at Papeete, the natives of the French dependency will hold a celebration in com memoration of the fall of the Bastile,
