Holmes, Government Statistician, Is Found Guilty.

WHOLE SCHEME EXPOSED

Wifson Says Holmes Doctored Figares and Gave Advance Information to Van Riper, Haas and Peckham.

WASHINGTON, July 8.-As the result the investigation by secret service gents into the charges made by Richard meatham, secretary of the Cotton Planters' Association, that information had ome person or persons in the Burçau of Statistics of the Department of Agriculture. Secretary Wilson today made public an official report in which he states that Edwin S. Holmes, the associate statistician, has been guilty of "jug-gling" the official report. The report municated advance information to L. C. Van Riper, a New York broker, and M. Huas, of New York, who, Mr. Van Ripersial, acted as go-letween in conveying information from Holmes to other New York brokers, including Theodore Price. Van Riper Told Whole Story.

According to the report, Wilson Judd, New York, formerly in the employ of L. C. Van Riper, induced the latter to tell nection with Holmes, and then municated the information to Mr. Cheatham. Van Riper became the prin-cipal witness in the investigation conncted by the Secret Service, and said he was induced to communicate the fact that advance information was being given out by Holmes because he had heard that mes and his associates had intended to try to manipulate the June cotton re-Using this information as a founda tion, the Secret Service agents interviewed numerous persons who had been mentioned by Judd and Van Riper, as well gathering a mass of correspondence, duding many letters written by Holmes to Van Riper and others.

The charges by Mr. Cheatham were acked up with evidence that information had been given to cotton brokers in New in the Bureau of Statistics relative to the acreage and condition of the cotton crop of the United States, prior to the official will be opened and the official republication of the information, and that the crop figures had been tampered with in the department in the interest of certain cotton speculators. Holmes is the only employe of the Government who has been found to have had any connection with supplying information to brokers prior to the publication of the official re-

Holmes Proposed Scheme

Van Riper, the New York broker, said he friend," According to this testimony, report Holmes told Van Riper he could get in-lows: formation concerning the Government rop report principally through the report the general agent and the reports of the state agents. Van Riper said Holmes furnished him with information from time to time for several months in advance of the publication of the official figures, and information corresponded exactly with the figures afterward published n the official crop reports.

Van Riper stated that a Mr. Hans, of New York, acted as a go-between for Holmes and bimself, and he was given to understand that Haas was securing information for Theodore Price, a cetton broker of New York. The witness said he met Hans at the Hotel Waldorf and was told by him that the report for June, would be 75 per cent on condition and 12% or 13 per cent on acreage, which was as high as they could make it; and that he was going to see Price, with whom he would have an interview, and wanted to see Van Riper after he saw Price; that in about an hour Hans called Price he was going to Washington to see if they could not get the percentage a little higher and the acreage a little small-er to make the report more bearish. Van Riper testified that the official report. on him and said that at the request of was more bearish than the figures pre viously given him, and that he took that that the effort to influence the report had succeeded.

Advised Van Riper to Sell.

The letters produced by Van Riper, which he alleged were written by Holmes, were all signed with the initial "H." Most of these letters were for the pur-pose of making appointments with Van Riper, but the following note, dated August 20, 1904, shows the relationship between Holmes and Van Riper:

If you have bought any of that stuff sell it out at once and sell as much as you can in addition. We are going to show a very slight decline, and as this is totally unexpected. It will send things down like fary. Other parties will close out tomorrow and sell on Thursday.—Where is P? Lead this up. It may go up a little before Priday, but probably not.

This letter was signed with the in-itial 'H." Van Riper testified that all of the letters surrendered were from Hoimes. Nearly all of these contained information concerning the cotton re-port, together with instructions to sell or buy on the market, according to the information furnished, and all of them closed with the admonition to destroy the letter.

The Secret Service agents learned hat "P," referred to in Holmes letwas "F. A. Peckham," of New York, and that the letters signed with the initial "P" were written by F. A. Peckham.

Mr. Peckham was interviewed in New York City, but refused to give in-formation. Shortly after he came to Washington and held a conversation with Holmes over the telephone, in which he inquired whether Holmes intended to res' Association, that information had sign his position, or whether he expected on given to cotton brokers in New York to be dismissed from the Government service

Holmes' Version of Affair.

Holmes said that he, Perkham and Van Riper all had been on very intimate terms socially, and that when he had occasion visit New York, which was frequently his hotel bills had been paid by Van Riper or Peckham. Holmes admitted that Peckham, Haas and himself were at one time associated in an adventure in which Holmes was to have an interest of $6000 as a gift from the other members of the

Subsequently Hans transferred his interest to L. C. Van Riper, and Van Riper stated that the company was organized for the surpose of handling cotton. Holmes restified that this was true, but that he was not aware of the nature restigation were referred to the United the organization at the time he was given an interest in it, and that when he learned that the object of the company was to

It came to my knowledge early in the year, without solicitation on my part, that plans were bein glaid to influence the figures of the Government reports on cotton during the three months beginning with June, it was planned by certain interests, inclining parties in responsible positions in the Bureau of Statistics, to have Mr. Hyde sent to Europe so that Mr. Holmes would be the acting bend of the Bureau of Statistics, and in this position would have a free hand to furnish such reports as were wanted. I was also cognizant of the fact that Holmes had previously turnished advance information to certain brokers from time to time, but, when their plans for changing the cotton report figures were exposed to me, I immediately consulted my atterney regarding the matter, and upon his advice lettered to their stories and kept track of their plans in some cases having althouses unknown to them, until the June report same east.

and kept track of their plans, in some cases having vitiouses unknown to them, until the June report came out.

It was pinned as early as March to use every effort they could to secure figures that would be as heartist as possible, so as to break the price of cotton to the low point where certain interests could make large profits on the short side and then load up and make an anormous scoop on the long side. It was understood that in some cases Government agents' reports would be influenced in that directions.

dition figures given 17 or higher and the acreage reduction about 11½ per cent, which would be construed as bearish, and enable them to break the market. I received this advice before 9 o'clock, June 2 and the public knows what the figures were when they were announced at noon.

The notoriety attached to this matter is far from agreeable to me, and I was personally assured by Secreary Wilson that, in bringing this matter to his attention, I had done the perpartment a great service and that my name would not be mentioned in any way. Now that he has seen fit to publish or give out for publication certain letters that were addressed to him confidentially, I think it only fair to ask him to give publication to my entire statement made to him, of which the above is a part, but which has been omitted to newspaper accounts that have been called to my attention.

From what I know of their various conversations and the pians that were hald months in advance. I believe that a thorough investigation of the Bureau of Statistics would show that the real screage reduction was from its to 25 per cent, and not 11½, as announced on june 3. I avoid suggest that a further statement be made from the Agricultural Department as to what they found by investigating the records of said bureau. As long an quart of the matter has been made public why not the whole?

My attorney and others will back me un in the statement that I been nothing to do with the plane made by these parties to manipulate the Government figures, but merely on legal advice and in the hope of doing a great public service, followed the plan as outlined by my attorney and at the proper time took such measures as I deemed right and just to the copton trade and to the Agricultural Department.

WESTERN RATES INVOLVED

All Associations Which Make Rates Between Buffalo and Pacific Coast Declared Violators of Anti-Trust Law.

CHICAGO, July 8 .- (Special.) - Data is being gathered by the various shippers' associations in Chicago and St. Louis with a view to concerted attack upon the va-lidity of the Western Trunk Line Committee, the Central Freight Association and the Transcontinental Freight Bureau. These organizations are the mediums by which rates are made in all the territory west of Pittsburg and Buffalo to the Pa-cific Coast and north of the Ohlo River to the Missistppi.
In order to avoid coming in conflict with the anti-trust law, these organizations never vote to make a certain rate, but the matter is talked over in general meet ing and no rate is put in without notice to the associations. By not agreeing openly to make a rate, it is theoretically supposed that the Sherman law is no violated. The associations are maintained upon the ground that it is impossible to have uniform rates without discussion and practical agreement or understanding. The Receivers' and Shippers' Associa tion, of Cincinnati, already has attacked the validity of the Southeastern Association, and has obtained an ex parte ion from Judge Speer, of the United States Court at Macon, Ga., that the organiza-tion is "a transparent scheme to avoid the anti-trust law." LONDON, England, June 18, 1905.

Bedford Square, W. To the Physician-in-Chief X-Radium Medical Institute, Portland, Oregon, U. S. A .- My Denr Doctor-It affords me much pleasure to subscribe my opinion in the case of Mr. Dairymple Bell, a merchant of our city, who left here last September, at my advice, with a view of recuperating a very much run-down constitution with serious contributory causes. The unanimous opinion of my colleagues here was that Mr. Bell was badly affected with gastric ulcers and little hope for his recovery was held out. We advised a trip around the world and he, having friends in British Columbia, journeyed vin Suez and the Orient, thence to the old mother country on your shores. Mr. Bell, informs me he arrived in a very weak condition at Westminster and was immediately placed there under the care of Dr. Appleby. He informed me that it was in Westminster he heard of your famous treatment "Liquid Sunshine" and left directly for your city, placing himself under your care during the months of March, April and well into the middle of May, leaving Portland on the 20th of that month for London. On his arrival, Mr. Bell pre-
