Portland Jobbers Can Compete With San Francisco Firms for Trade.

SOUTH-BOUND RATES CUT

Tariff Announced by the San Francisco & Portland Steamship Company Affects Coast Water Freight Rates.

By a new freight tariff, effective July 15, south-bound freight rates by water are reduced and Portland jobbers are placed on an equality with the San Francisco houses.

Clearances at Astoria.

ASTORIA, Or., July 8.—The schooner Fred E. Sanders cleared at the Custom-House today for San Pedro with a cargo of 20,000 feet of lumber loaded at Tongue Point Lumber Company's mill.

Italian Cruiser Departs.

Fire Destroys Volga's Cargo.

KOBE, July 8.—The fire in the hold of the British steamer Volga, Captain Pattie, from San Francisco for Yokohama, has been extinguished and the cargo in the ship's hold was destroyed.

Marine Notes.

A channel 20 feet deep is to be dredged across the Columbia, opening up the way for vessels to enter the Willamette or the Columbia ship channel.

Domestic and Foreign Ports.

Send Travelers to California.

"We will now have traveling men in California on the same footing as the San Francisco jobbers," said Jay Smith, manager of the Marshall-Wells Hardware Company last night. "The new tariff means a great deal to us indeed. When we came here we found that we were up against these high south-bound rates, and have been trying for six months to get them down. We will now go right after the California business."

Examples of Present Differentials.

All kinds of metal articles from hardware to screws form one of the heaviest shipments from San Francisco to Portland.

Some General Reductions.

Building and roofing material has been fixed at 15 cents either way. As large quantities of this material are shipped to Portland, the California rates are 45 cents to get similar shipments to Portland.
